

Sibanye boosting health and safety

Rustenburg – On Wednesday, 26 July, Sibanye Platinum officially handed over two ambulances to the Department of Health and scholar patrol equipment to ten local schools; in partnership with the Department of Mineral Resources, the North West Department of Health, the Rustenburg Local Municipality's Safety Directorate, the North West Community Safety and Transport Management, and the Department of Education and Sport Development. The handover was done at the Rustenburg Civic Centre.

Obstetric ambulances

The North West province has the highest maternal mortality ratio in South Africa at 185 deaths per 100 000 live births (Health Systems Trust, 2016). This is well above the millennium development goal of 4/100 000 and the national average of 133/100 000.

One of the contributing causes of this serious challenge is the unavailability of timely transport of mothers requiring emergency obstetric care which cannot be offered at a primary health centre level. Similarly, generic emergency care vehicles are not adequately equipped to provide sufficient care en route. This results in a severely delayed response time for both obstetric and other general emergencies which in turn leads in poor treatment outcomes and even preventable death.

It is against this background that Sibanye, as part of the 2016 – 2020 social and labour plan, undertook to purchase two fully equipped maternal and obstetric units in order to meet the National Core Standard for sufficient coverage in the area with regards to medical emergency transfers, to the value of R1 200 000.

These ambulances were donated to the Department of Health who will take full responsibility of their operation and maintenance. Communities served by both the Phokeng and Tlhabane Health Centres will benefit from services rendered by these units.

Rustenburg Scholar Patrol program Safety of learners crossing busy roads, especially young ones at primary school level is a serious challenge in our communities. When the Rustenburg Local Municipality's Department of Public Safety approached Sibanye for a partnership to address this, Sibanye gladly accepted. Ten primary schools in the Rustenburg area will benefit through the training of 100 scholar patrollers, the provision of scholar patrol safety equipment and uniforms and safety message communication through posters and pamphlets. This project amounts to about R87 000.00.

The beneficiary schools are the Letsibogo Primary school in Boitekong, Tshirologang Primary in Boitekong, Paardekraal Primary in Sunrise Park, Retlakgona Primary in Meriting, Banapele Primary in Sondela, Mfidikwe Primary in Mfidikwe, Photsaneng Primary in Photsaneng, Tlhage Primary in Thekwana, Marikana Primary in Marikana, and Platinum Primary in Bleskop.
