Masquerade and Charity Auction Evening for In Touch Equine Therapy

Platinum Weekly newspaper | Rustenburg –
Dress to impress, choose your mask and prepare for a night of mystery, glamour and unforgettable entertainment!
On Saturday, 29 August 2026, Hedgehog's Nest will host a spectacular Masquerade and Charity Auction Evening in support of In Touch Equine Therapy.

Guests can look forward to welcome drinks, delicious food, dancing, wonderful music and a thrilling auction featuring luxury weekend getaways, exclusive experiences and premium prizes. Think Durban July glamour – with masks, mystery and a magnificent purpose.

Every ticket purchased and every bid placed will support In Touch Equine Therapy, where horses help children and adults facing special needs and physical or emotional challenges find confidence, peace, healing and hope. Founded by Karen Spies in July 2010, the organisation has spent more than 16 years nurturing the remarkable bond between horses and people.

"Behind our masks are the faces of children discovering confidence, adults finding hope and families experiencing healing," Karen said. Funds raised will help care for the therapy horses and maintain the organisation's 18-hectare property. Current needs include equipment to maintain grazing fields, firefighting resources, safe hay storage and improved borehole infrastructure. Hedgehog's Nest has generously sponsored the venue, while additional partners and sponsors are invited to support the event. Come for the glamour, dancing, prizes and mystery – and leave knowing that your night out helped create hope for someone else.

Bomb squad, but barely equipped

Platinum Weekly newspaper | Brits, Rustenburg—A police unit tasked with responding to bomb threats and explosives-related incidents across a large part of Bojanala is operating with just four police officers, inadequate vehicles and concerning security shortcomings.

The North West Provincial Legislature's Portfolio Committee on Community Safety and Transport Management raised the alarm following an oversight visit to the SAPS Explosives Unit in Brits, earlier in August 2026.

According to the committee, the highly specialised unit serves 16 police stations, stretching from Marikana to Makapanstad, and is responsible for bomb disposal, bomb threats, explosives control, mine inspections and other explosives-related incidents.

Yet the unit reportedly has only four police officers and one cleaner. Its vehicle situation is equally concerning. Of three vehicles allocated to the unit, one is reportedly standing without tyres, another is undergoing repairs, while a third has been at a SAPS garage for approximately six months.

The Brits unit has consequently had to borrow a vehicle from the Rustenburg Explosives Unit to perform its duties.

The committee also raised serious concerns about the unit's premises. "The leased facility is shared with other tenants and situated next to a busy restaurant, while reportedly having no CCTV cameras, alarm system or dedicated security personnel," the North West Provincial Legislature reported.

Similar challenges were identified at the Rustenburg Explosives Unit, prompting concerns that the problems may extend beyond Brits.

Committee chairperson Freddy Sonakile described the situation as unacceptable. "These are specialised units entrusted with dealing with some of the most dangerous and sensitive policing operations," Sonakile said, stressing that officers cannot be expected to protect communities from explosive threats without adequate resources, security and suitable facilities.

The committee plans to formally approach SAPS national management requesting urgent intervention. The Civilian Secretariat for Police Service has also been tasked with inspecting the province's remaining three Explosives Units to determine how widespread the problems are. Immediate corrective action is needed.

A glimpse inside the SAPS Explosives Unit in Brits, where specialised equipment used in explosives-related work is kept.

Specialised explosives equipment is demonstrated during the North West Provincial Legislature's oversight visit to the SAPS Explosives Unit in Brits.

CLEANING UP, ONE STREET AT A TIME

Platinum Weekly newspaper | Rustenburg – Our Ward Matters (OWM) continued its efforts across Rustenburg this past week, tackling overgrown vegetation, litter and illegal dumping while encouraging residents to take greater pride in their surroundings.

Founded by Ward 15 councillor André van Dyk and working under the leadership of Cllr Van Dyk and Cllr Tanya Rothman, the initiative remains active in Wards 15, 16 and 17 – and recently extended its efforts into Tlhabane.

On 19 and 20 August 2026, Cllr Rothman supervised work from Nylapies towards the hill along Helen Joseph Road and the pump station. The team cut back grass, cleared bushes and collected rubbish before continuing along Waterberg Avenue. Besides improving visibility for walkers, joggers and other residents, removing dry, overgrown vegetation may also reduce the risk of veld fires.

On Saturday, 22 August, approximately 40 volunteers gathered near Reuben Monareng Primary School and the church across the road in Tlhabane. The clean-up followed planning between Vusumuzi Jele, Jonathan van Rensburg and Cllr Van Dyk.

The Rustenburg Local Municipality's Waste Department supplied a skip, while councillors, community representatives, residents and volunteers worked together to clear grass, sweep streets and remove accumulated rubbish. Provincial leader MPL Freddy Sonakile also joined the clean-up and helped provide food and refreshments afterwards. The team encountered extensive dumping, overgrown grass and water flowing continuously from a fire hydrant near the school and churches. OWM stressed that such conditions affect not only the appearance of an area, but also residents' health, safety and dignity.

Work continued on 24 and 25 August along Helen Joseph Road, Robin Avenue, Sparrow Avenue and Vink Avenue. The team plans to investigate suspicious dumping activity in bushes near Sparrow and Vink avenues, despite visible no-dumping signs.

OWM thanked Ilse du Preez, the participating councillors, volunteers, municipal workers and residents who supported the various projects.

"We can clean an area today, but if dumping continues tomorrow, the problem simply returns. Lasting change requires consistent action, education and community involvement," Van Dyk said.

2026 Rugby's Greatest Rivalry Tour

LIONS 35-41 ALL BLACKS

Dinsdagaand in Johannesburg is byna 16,000 toeskouers op skitterende rugby deur die Kiwi's en die Leeus getraakteer. Die Leeus het baie harte gesteel met hul passie en trots en het byna daarin geslaag om 'n sterk All Blacks-span te klop. Ná net sewe minute het die tuisspan met 14–0 voorgeloop en gewys dat hulle vir die groot wedstryd opgedaag het. Die rustydtelling was 21–17 in die tuisspan se guns. Die Leeus het tot in die 49ste minuut met 35–17 voorgeloop. Albei spanne het opwindende hardlooprugby gespeel, maar drie puik drieë deur die Kiwi's het die wind uit die Leeus se seile gehaal. Die flair van die Nieu-Seelanders was eenvoudig op 'n ander vlak. Die Leeus was waardige verloorders. Vir baie van die jong spelers, wat dalk nooit weer die kans sal kry om die Haka van naby te beleef en teen 'n All Blacks-span uit te draf nie, sal dit 'n kosbare herinnering bly. As hierdie Leeus-span op dié puik vertoning kan voortbou, gaan hulle beslis hard brul in die URC.

HAVE YOUR SAY

Do you believe people can truly change?

People often say, "People never change" – but is that really true? Life experiences, consequences, relationships and personal growth can reshape the way we think and behave. Others believe our fundamental nature stays the same. What do you think: can people truly change?

"Yes. Through experience, learning and personal growth, people can change. Real change requires willingness, responsibility and consistent effort. We cannot change the past, but we can choose who we become."

Pumeza Diali, Rustenburg

"No, I don't believe people truly change. This is based on what I have experienced in life."

Did you know?

COULD SOUTH AFRICA REACH 50°C?... El Niño could bring South Africa a hotter and possibly drier summer in late 2026. Social-media posts claim temperatures may approach 50°C in Limpopo and North West – but official weather forecasters have not confirmed this. El Niño increases the likelihood of heatwaves, but cannot predict exact temperatures months in advance. Although isolated temperatures near 50°C are possible in South Africa's hottest regions, residents should rely on short-term warnings from the South African Weather Service – not viral predictions.

THE NEXT GENERATION | Charné Holsthyzen, co-owner of HenCor Tactical Solutions, introduced 12-week-old DDR German Shepherd Azira — a promising young addition to the HenCor family.

A LEGEND AND HIS BEST FRIEND | HenCor Tactical Solutions owner Henry Holsthyzen with 16-year-old Arrow, the remarkable DDR German Shepherd who remains strong and deeply loved.

Platinum Weekly newspaper | Rustenburg – Arrow may have retired from dangerous missions, but Rustenburg's four-legged legend still knows how to command a crowd. Families gathered at President Hyper on Saturday, 22 August 2026, for a tactical working-dog demonstration by HenCor Tactical Solutions — and for Arrow's final public appearance. Now 16 years old, the DDR German Shepherd enjoyed a hero's welcome from supporters who came to meet the dog whose courage once carried him from the African bushveld into the skies. Arrow was trained by his owner and handler, Henry Holsthyzen, in obedience, tracking, protection and detection work. He served in anti-poaching operations, helped track suspects and could be rapidly deployed into difficult terrain. Unfazed by helicopters, he was also trained to rappel from aircraft while secured to Henry. On 17 September 2016, their extraordinary partnership made history. Henry and Arrow jumped together from a helicopter flying 6,000 feet — approximately 1,828 metres — above Air Force Base

Waterkloof. Arrow was subsequently recognised by Guinness World Records as the world's first skydiving anti-poaching dog. Saturday's event also offered visitors a glimpse into the next generation of working K9s. HenCor's trained dogs demonstrated their discipline, agility and apprehension skills, with decoy Themba Zulu bravely stepping into the protective suit for the action-packed display. Henry thanked Crazy Pets and President Boulevard for arranging and hosting the occasion, as well as the Rustenburg community for supporting Arrow. He also paid tribute to his wife and HenCor co-owner, Charné Holsthyzen; their son and general manager, Jan-Hendrik Holsthyzen; and Themba for his courage and commitment. Arrow's public appearances may have ended, but his story continues to soar — a remarkable legacy built on courage, service and the unbreakable trust between a man and his dog. For more information about HenCor Tactical Solutions, contact Henry on 060 695 3054.
