Agree to Disagree OR Feathers Flying

Koster – The SPCA and Koster Combined School will have to agree to disagree after the school announced it plans to host a pigeon eradication day. According to Mr Dawie Naude (the vice principal), the bird culling and charity day was organised in an attempt to lower the pigeon population in the Koster area. Especially now since Koster is a major seed producer for the region and the harvesting season is about to begin. Mrs Marinda Cronje, a volunteer at a wildlife organisation in Pretoria, was outraged. Mrs Cronje said, "What are we teaching our children about conservation if we allow people to kill pigeons?" Mr Naude assured the public that this was the most humane way of controlling the pigeon population without harming the other bird species. The poultry will be donated to the less fortunate so that nothing will be wasted. The charity event will take place on the 13th and 14th of May on pre-allocated farms surrounding Koster. Special bird hunting licenses will be issued by the nature conservationist authorities the evening before- and the day of the charity.
