SA Company launches NEW mine protected vehicle

South African mine protected and armoured vehicle manufacturer BAE Land Systems (Land Systems SA) on Tuesday (10 May 2011) unveiled its latest product, the RG35 RPU 4x4 wheeled tactical mine protected vehicle. The RG35 RPU (Reconnaissance, Patrol and Utility) is the second member of the RG35 vehicle family, the original 6x6 RG35 being launched in 2009.

Land Systems South Africa MD Johan Steyn highlighted that the RG35 RPU is the product of decades of experience and is fitted with a "unique armour protected capsule" or "crew citadel" which shields the occupants of the vehicle from landmines, roadside bombs and gunfire, while allowing them to effectively fulfil their missions. The company also announced that the RG35

RPU was going to be offered to Canada, to fulfil the country's Tactical Armoured Patrol Vehicle (TAPV) requirement, which is expected to amount to 500 vehicles. The RG 35 RPU is an open architecture vehicle which can easily be modified to fulfil different roles, including reconnaissance, troop carrier, cargo transport and patrol, and it can also be fitted with cameras and electronic systems for surveillance missions.

The reconnaissance version can be fitted with light or medium turrets, and with direct and indirect fire weapons. The basic RG35 RPU is 5.2 m long, 2.6 m wide and 2.5 m high and has a ground clearance of 414 mm. Its gross vehicle mass is 21 t and it has a payload of 8 t. The vehicle can accommodate a driver and nine other troops.
