ARRIVE ALIVE

More truck/car DEATHS

Rustenburg – Metres away from die Marikana Toll Gate, on the N4 highway, a Navara crashed into the rear end of a cargo truck. This collision occurred on Thursday evening, approximately 19h30.

Apparently, the Navara was on its way to Rustenburg, and the truck on its way to Pretoria when the unlikely occurred. "As the truck exited the tollgate, the oncoming Navara hit the truck in the rear end" an eye witness said.

As a result, a third vehicle travelling behind the truck, and seemingly unaware of the treacherous situation, was struck by the Navara as the driver lost control over his car and smashed into the passenger's side of the Isuzu bakkie. Sadly, the driver of the Isuzu bakkie passed away instantly. Furthermore, the driver of the Navara also passed away a day later in the Peglerae Hospital, Rustenburg.

Both were removed using 'Jaws of Life'. The driver of the truck was unharmed. SAPS Marikana is currently investigating the accident.

Missing Woman Found

Makwassie – A farm worker stumbled across Marina Boeyens (35), a farmer's wife recently reported as missing. He allegedly followed footsteps when he saw a knob-kierie lying on the ground when he found her (23 May 2011). Mr. Steven Seiphetho, the farm worker, residing at Tussenvier near Makwassie felt uncomfortable to near Boeyens, as she was scarcely dressed.

"He phoned me when he found her," said Mrs. Ronél Fourie from Tussenvier where Boeyens was found. "I wasn't at home and immediately contacted a friend, Kotie Greyling, to source the situation." "She just sat under the tree staring. Once she saw me, she asked if I came to pick her up?" said Greyling. Boeyens live with her husband on their farm, Brandewynskuil, about 10km from where she was found. Ever since Friday, farmers in the area, farm workers as well as the police scouted for Boeyens using trained dogs, divers and even planes. She was found with multiple, minor scratch wounds and she was very thirsty. It is also reported that she was deeply traumatised. She is currently in a hospital in Klerksdorp receiving attention. It is also alleged that she suffers from depression.
