My Future, My Business

Phokeng/ Rustenburg – The Royal Bafokeng Enterprise Development (RBED) last week held a media- and stakeholders business briefing conference to introduce a new competition concepts which aims to encourage the growth of small business in the Royal Bafokeng Nation. The 'My Future, My Business' competition has been spearheaded by Acting Managing Director of RBED, Mrs Thandeka Cwati, and seeks to encourage members of the Bafokeng community to take their business ideas from concept to reality. In the same vein, it seeks to inspire existing business owners to grow their current businesses. The briefing took place at Kedar Lodge and was attended by various key stakeholders, who operate in and around Phokeng, as well as RBED staff. Stakeholders included members from Khula Enterprise Finance, the National Youth Development Agency, the SA Microfinance Apex Fund, the Small Enterprise Development Agency and The Business Place. Mrs Cwati said, "RBED are running a business plan competition without needing a business plan! I know that sounds strange, but when you understand our approach you will see it makes a lot of sense. Entrants can use a specially designed, free entry form that helps them define their business model, in other words the nuts and bolts of how the business will work and make money, rather than a lengthy and wordy document." The competition will run from August throughout to October.

Twenty finalists will be selected for practical and intensive business training courses, including the world-renowned Micro-MBA course, before winners are announced in November. According to project manager Paul Vicars, "The 'My Future, My Business' competition will announce two winners and four runners up. We have some very substantial and worthwhile prizes lined up, which will be announced at the awards event." My Future, My Business entry forms will be available at the RBED offices in Bafokeng Plaza from the 17th August 2011, the competition ends 14th October 2011. Forms will also be available at the RBED offices located at Suite 34, Bafokeng Plaza, Phokeng.

Zuma and Ngubani fail to show up at court

Grootvlei/Orkney – All directors of Aurora Empowerment Systems, including Khulubuse Zuma (President Jacob Zuma's nephew), Zondwa Mandela (Nelson Mandela's grandson), Michael Hulley (President Zuma's attorney) and commercial director Thulani Ngubani, were expected to give evidence on their management of the former Pamodzi mining assets during an examination regarding Aurora in terms of sections 417 and 418 of the Companies Act before the master of the North Gauteng High Court on the 2nd of August 2011. Solidarity has learned that only Zondwa Mandela and Michael Hulley showed up at the court accompanied by their legal representatives. The examination is taking place in camera and the contents of Hulley's evidence are unknown at this stage.

According to Gideon du Plessis, Deputy General Secretary of Solidarity, it is high time that Aurora answered for the destruction of the Grootvlei and Orkney mines. Du Plessis said during his testimony against Aurora in July that the actions of the directors and the Bhana family, who managed the assets under Aurora, proved time and again that their intention with the transaction was not to undertake mining activities, but to plunder the assets. Zuma and Ngubani showed their contempt for the Springs community and South Africa's legal system by disregarding the summons of the High Court. "In terms of the Companies Act, Zuma and Ngubani can be summonsed to give evidence in the Magistrate's Court. Should they disregard that summons, they may be arrested," explained Du Plessis.
