Girls just wanna have fun!

Rustenburg – Over the years the Coverboys have been the focus of much media attention and are now bona fide South African celebrities... Rustenburg recently (9 Aug 2011) enjoyed a show where about 200 ladies rocked up at the Civic Centre to have a “girls’ night out”... and boy was it fun!

The Coverboys’ shows consist of good choreography and making their audiences feel special due to frequent audience participation and interaction. They also like to share a piece of their hearts with their fans by mingling with the audience after each show, not just disappearing after each act.

The Coverboys have also stepped onto the global scene, performing for diverse audiences during the group’s international tours. It’s been particularly heartening for the group to know they are always welcomed with open arms by their fans.

Among the media platforms this group of talented performers has been featured on TV programmes like Cupid, The Toasty Show, Egoli and Evita’s Indaba. The Coverboys have also been interviewed by Manu Padayachee of Carte Blanche for the programme Grab. Magazine features have been numerous, including Keur, Scope, Peoples Magazine, You and Huisgenoot. Hein Hewston, the owner and manager of the Coverboys has also released a CD called Hein Hewston and the Coverboys, and performed on Dis Hoe Dit Is with Steve Hofmeyr. In an interview with the Platinum Weekly, Hein Hewston said, “We want to make our audiences feel special,” and that is exactly what they did. This splendid, glistening night was hosted by Malichri Restaurant & Function Venue. Manager of Malichri, Morné, thanked everyone involved in the success of the evening and added, “This was definitely a highlight on my calendar, and as it seems... not only mine!”

The evening was filled with hip music, an awesome vibe, brilliant company and off course a few sexy guys... From young to old enjoyed the evening and it was a huge success! “The guys are studs... Definitely eye candy,” said one of the ladies. The guys were also described as, “Classy, professional, stylish, acrobatic... and naughty”.

Exhibitions including the likes of Lavine Jewellers and Cazabella Jewellery were present to add to the girly atmosphere. O, and before I forget, you can collect your photos from Morné. Just pop an email to morne4menu@mweb.co.za for more info.

See you next time!

In commemoration of the 55th Anniversary of August 9th, when women of all races and class marched to the union building, demanding the abolition of the pass law, we continue to remember those courageous souls that ensured that the Women’s struggle is catapulted to the fore. A fifth decade that compels us to reflect and analyze how far we have come within the context of the gender struggle, be it in the participation of the mainstream economy, leadership in various disciplines and so forth.

Women have faced numerous challenges from different angles. From choosing a career, finding the right job, earning the right salary to self-employment, access to resources and contribution as well as participation in the mainstream economy, there have never been easy channels to follow in order for women to achieve set goals.

Yet, still we face the uphills, keep our heads high and make the best of out any given circumstances... That’s right! We can do ANYTHING!

From the Platinum Weekly’s side, we would like to take this opportunity to wish all ladies and girls a wonderful women’s month. We hope you were treated like princesses on Women’s Day... you deserve it!

Viva Women! Stand together and show the strength that we know is part of who you are! We leave with us a legacy to our children and grand children... How will you be remembered...
