Rustenburg – The Civic Centre in Rustenburg was a hive of activity on the evening of Friday October 7 as the Evangelical Lutheran Church hosted their annual Harvest Festival.

The well organised event was well attended as people turned out in large numbers to support the church’s fundraising event. Entrance was pegged at R300 and groups from different denominations filled the main hall of the Civic Centre. “This festival is about helping the orphans, the widows, the foreigners and people who are in need,” said Rev Molete during the event. “It is our duty to help those people who are less fortunate. Please feel free to give generously as your support will go a long way in making life a bit easier for those who are not as lucky as yourself,” he added.

The audience were not disappointed as they were treated to an unforgettable evening by one of South Africa’s top gospel musicians – Pastor Benjamin Dube and Sechaba. Pastor Dube – who mixed his singing with musical performances – encouraged everyone to allow God to lead them in their lives. He said: “We should be asking God to help us to fulfil his mission and to let us know what his plans for us are,” Pastor Dube said.

He also sang several well-known gospel hits in a move that saw many people joining in. Sechaba, who was the main attraction of the evening, lived up to his reputation when he delivered a polished act that once again showcased him as one of the top musicians in South Africa.
