

Enzo's cycling journey continues... ..

Rustenburg – Enzo van Vuuren's 6 000 km journey throughout South Africa brought him to Rustenburg where NEDBANK – who are one of his sponsors – signed the register before he resumed his trip. This was Enzo's 29th NEDBANK branch he has so far visited since he embarked on his journey in order to raise awareness for Omega Herbal 48, a product which he says can assist in the treatment of numerous ailments including HIV/Aids. Enzo also visited his 21st Dischem store before resuming his journey, which will take him to Brits and then to Pretoria. "I would like to thank the sponsors for all the support they have given me since I started cycling. I would also like to tell people that if you do not have a water filter then it means that you are the filter," said Enzo during the event that was held to mark the signing of the register by NEDBANK. Enzo's trip is also aimed at raising awareness on healthy water. "I will also raise funds for the GREEN FINGERS for JESUS green project in Magaliesburg. 'GREEN FINGERS for Jesus' is an educational- and job creation project in agriculture and water purification for the youth," he says. If you want to follow Enzo's journey, visit www.healthworldprojects.yolasite.com and click on road show.
