Skoonmaak ná dood- of misdaadtoneel?

Rustenburg – Wat gemaak nadat 'n geliefde sterf en die misdaad- en/of ongelukstoneel jou in die oë staar? Wat gemaak as jy dit nie oor jou hart kan kry om 'n toneel te betree waar 'n geliefde hul laaste oomblikke spandeer het nie?

Hierdie is nie 'n maklike gesprek nie.

Meeste mense verkies om nie sélf 'n misdaad- en/of ongelukstoneel skoon te maak nie, geheel en al verstaanbaar – maar wie kan help in so 'n situasie?

Die Platinum Weekly koerant het vandeesweek 'n onderhoud gevoer met Ettiène Aucamp en Janine Hansen. Díe twee, aan die stuur van CIA (Crime Incident Accident) Rustenburg, bied 24 uur per dag, 7 dae 'n week, díe tipe dienste aan.

"Ons bied 'n wye verskeidenheid dienste aan insluitende misdaadtoneel opruimwerk, moord- en dood opruimwerk, bloed en dekomposisie opruimwerk en waar nodig ook herstelwerk en opknappingswerk," aldus Ettiène Aucamp, eienaar van CIA Rustenburg.

"Vir enige persoon wie iemand aan die dood afgestaan het, is die skoonmaak van die toneel 'n bleek vooruitsig," sê Janine Hansen, bestuurder van CIA Rustenburg. Hierdie span werk hand-aan-hand met die Polisie, noodpersoneel en betrokke instansies. Persoonlike gebeurtenisse word met oorleg, respek en flink diens hanteer. CIA Rustenburg is gebaseer in Rustenburg, maar hul operasie strek regoor die Noordwes asook Limpopo provinsie.

"Buiten díe ooglopende dienste, strek die voordele om van ons dienste gebruik te maak heelwat verder. Tonele waar iemand oorlede is, is ook 'n gesondheidsrisiko vir díe in die onmiddellike omgewing. As daar nie van die korrekte voorsorgmaatreëls, skoonmaakmiddels, kleredrag en tegnieke gebruik gemaak word nie, is dit 'n gesondheidsrisiko," sê Aucamp.

Aan diegene in noue kontak met die oorledenes, soos reddingswerkers en die span van CIA Rustenburg, bestaan die gesondheidsrisiko om blootgestel te word aan chroniese aansteeklike siektes deur middel van direkte en indirekte kontak, insluitend hepatitis B en hepatitis C, MIV, derm patogene, tuberkulose en cholera.

CIA Rustenburg is OSHA (Occupational Safety and Health Act) gesertifiseerd deur middel van Amdecon CTS – wat internasionaal erken word.

Five nabbed for smallholding robberies, rape and murder

Rustenburg/ Kroondal – The wave of crime in Rustenburg, especially the gruesome and aggravating nature thereof, is cause for serious concern.

After the numerous reported incidents extending over the past three weeks, the Rustenburg Cluster Task Team assembled their strengths and successfully arrested five Zimbabwean nationals, Sergeant Ofentse Mokgadi, police spokesperson, said.

The five, aged between 23 and 37, were arrested in the Ikemeleng (Matebeleng) informal settlement near Kroondal in the early hours of Friday, 3 February 2017.

They were arrested for rape, murder and house robbery.

The arrest emanated after a spate of rape, murder and robberies were reported within a four-day period in the Kroondal and surrounding vicinity.

As reported in the previous edition of the Platinum Weekly newspaper, an elderly couple residing in Waterfall Village, Rustenburg, was fast asleep on Sunday evening, 29 January 2017 at approximately 22h20 when they woke up to the sound of dogs barking.

The husband went outside to investigate.

The elderly lady became more wary as her husband did not return, so she also went out. She came across her husband wrestling with two assailants.

"He was fighting for his life," Captain Augoustides, police spokesperson, said.

The woman screamed for help and ran inside the house. The attackers soon followed but had to break through the dining room window to gain entry.

They dragged the elderly man inside the house... The elderly woman soon realised her husband had been killed.

She was pistol-whipped [the assailants used a handgun as a blunt weapon] after which they started to rape the elderly lady.

They then demanded jewellery and cash. They also forced her to open the safe.

The elderly couple were robbed of TV sets, DVD players, clothes, a wrist watch, jewellery, cell phones and a firearm.

The suspects fled the scene on foot.

When the five assailants were arrested, two pistols with live rounds of ammunition, one belonging to the elderly couple, and jewellery items were recovered. The other items have apparently been sold.

The five suspects were expected to appear in the Rustenburg Magistrates' Court on Monday, 6 February 2017, facing charges of murder, rape, house robbery, possession of suspected stolen goods and the illegal possession of a firearm and ammunition.

At this stage, preliminary investigations indicate that the five suspects are very likely linked to other reported crimes in the area.

Shoprite Money Market SCAM

Rustenburg/ Phokeng – The Phokeng Police issued a stern warning to the community, to refrain from bogus or fake calls, claiming to be Shoprite employees.

The Police are currently investigating several fraud cases, where Rustenburg community members deposit cash into their friends or family members' accounts via Shoprite Money Market... and then it vanishes.

The modus operandi of the suspects is to call the victims from a variety of cell phone numbers, claiming that a 'system fault' has been logged at the Shoprite Money Market.

"The perpetrators tell the victims that their pins and reference numbers are incorrect, and to make the transaction go through, they must supply the incorrect pins and reference numbers in order to get 'new' codes. After the exchange of new references and pins, the money is then withdrawn by the perpetrator," Sgt Gabaiphiwe Kgatlha, police spokesperson, said.

This scam has been running since October 2016.

Anyone with information that may lead to the arrest of the suspects, should please contact (anonymously if preferred) the Phokeng Police on the following contact numbers 014-566 1831/ 014 566 1879.
