

Mischke, Tammy Taylor Mrs South Africa 2018 top 100 semi-finalist

Rustenburg/ Emperors Palace – Mischke Joshua from Rustenburg was recently selected as a Tammy Taylor Mrs South Africa 2018 top 100 semi-finalist. She was invited, along with the other beautiful, sophisticated and married women from all over the country for the first ever national casting and empowerment workshop held at Emperors Palace on Friday, 2 March.

“I feel blessed to be chosen to represent my family and region. I’m excited about my journey as I intend to use the platform to highlight causes close to my heart. One such cause is speaking out against bullying. As a young girl I was often the target of bullies, through empowerment workshops I hope to educate both the bully and bullied. As women we must lift each other up.” Mischke said.

Tammy Taylor Mrs South Africa is a journey that has gained the reputation of a women empowerment programme and prides itself in developing the very best in real, relatable and modern South African women. The program celebrates marriage and the essence of being a real woman.

As only 25 women will be selected as finalists for Tammy Taylor Mrs South Africa, we hope that Mischke is one of them and gets to represent us in the next round! The 25 finalists will be announced at the annual charity ball on 29 June at Emperors Palace.

500 houses for Tlhabane West

Rustenburg – The Rustenburg Local Municipality (RLM)’s council has made certain resolutions on Tuesday, 27 March at the Rustenburg Civic Centre.

Item number 66 under discussion, revolved around the proposal of the development of the Tlhabane West Community residential units by ProPlan Technologies. The council endorsed the proposal.

ProPlan Technologies have been duly accredited by the social housing regulatory authority (SHRA). The project entails the construction of five hundred (500) family units with the intention of ultimately transferring the finished product to the municipality.

The project aligns with the municipality’s intent to establish an integrated and sustainable spatial city structure that requires improved integration between social amenities, economic opportunities and places of residence.
