DNA RESULTS MATCH?

Mooinooi – The DNA samples taken from the remains of the two burnt bodies found allegedly matches one of the women that went missing in Mooinooi.

According to the information that came to light during police investigations, the victims were killed in what is described as the most horrible murder in the North West province for some time.

The deceased, Joey Van Niekerk and Gesina Sophia Anisha Van Niekerk went missing on December 10, 2017. They left for a funeral in Pretoria but never arrived.

Two bodies, burnt beyond recognition, suspected to be that of the couple were found in Buffelsfontein near Mooinooi.

On 22 December 2017, Aaron Sithole (23), Koos Strydom (53), Alex Mudau (36), Moses Rakubu (33), Vincent Strydom (29), and Maruschka Opperman were arrested and have since been charged with two counts of murder, kidnapping, robbery, unlawful possession of a firearm and defeating the course of justice.

Koos Strydom, the alleged mastermind, is also a suspect in another murder case involving the owner of the scrapyard where he ran his business.

The deceased, Joey van Niekerk and Gesina Sophia Anisha van Niekerk

Hijacked car and child found abandoned

Rustenburg – A family whose car was hijacked with their child inside heaved a sigh of relief when their child was found in the abandoned car in Tlhabane, eight hours after the incident on Saturday, 28 April. The mother of the child was driving past Tlhabane in the direction of Phokeng when she stopped at the traffic light. She was pulled out of her car by the hijacker who was not aware of the 18-month baby in the car.

According to police spokesperson captain Elsabè Augoustides, the hijacker drove a few blocks away when he realised there was a child in the car. He abandoned the vehicle and fled.

Photos of the child were circulated immediately, and a search was conducted by the police. "Fortunately, the baby was found and re-united with her mother," captain Augoustides said. She thanked the community for their help.

Family reunited with their baby.

Three lives lost on the N4

Rustenburg – Three people died when the driver of the car they were travelling in, collided with a cement truck on the N4 near the Waterfall Mall on Friday evening, 27 April.

According to captain Elsabè Augoustides, police spokesperson, the driver of an Audi driving to Taung, missed the Zeerust onramp and proceeded to take the Pretoria N4 onramp. "The driver then tried to make a U-turn. Unfortunately, an approaching cement truck crashed into their vehicle," captain Augoustides said.

Three people including the driver of the car died and three survivors were transported to hospital. One of the survivors, a 4-month pregnant woman has been admitted at a local hospital's ICU unit. It is with great sadness that we report that she has lost her baby.

"Judging by the skid marks on the road, the 60-year old truck driver, Joseph Baloyi tried to apply brakes, but to no avail. A case of culpable homicide is being investigated," captain Augoustides said.

We extend our sincerest condolences to the family and friends of the deceased.
