SOULFOOD New King James Version (NKJV)

O LORD, God of my salvation,
I have cried out day and night before You.
2 Let my prayer come before You;
Incline Your ear to my cry.
3 For my soul is full of troubles,
And my life draws near to the grave.
4 I am counted with those who go down to the pit; I am like a man who has no
strength,
5 Adrift among the dead,
Like the slain who lie in the grave,
Whom You remember no more,
And who are cut off from Your hand.
Psalms 88: 1-5

Cell C's 'take a girl child to work' is on the right track!

Rustenburg – Cell C's 'take a girl child to work' campaign entered its second phase at the Boschdal Guest House in Protea Park, Rustenburg, with career guidance officers from Orbit TVET College presenting the institution's prospectus to the young girls on Friday 22 June.

Academic support officer Louise Marais told Platinum Weekly that they needed to provide the girls with an overview of what the college offers them to make informed decisions on their academic aspirations.

The girls are learners from Thethe Secondary, Keledi Secondary, Mangope Secondary, Sekete Secondary, Kgatseng Secondary schools as well as Hoërskool Grenswag. The girls were also handed career guidance packs by the Orbit representatives to mull over when at home with their parents.

Echoing the sentiment, Cell C Alex Isaacs, regional channel consultant, said once they are done with the second day's session, the girls will be taken to the college to familiarise them with the institution and its surroundings. Apart from addressing career choices, Isaacs told Platinum Weekly that they were just as concerned with the rape and violence against women currently sweeping through the country. "It is for that reason we invited representatives from the department of health to address the girls on such matters," he said. "We are targeting a million and more girls throughout the country."

Isaac said Cell C was also busy with an information guide on bursary applications for the girls. "There are a lot of places that offer bursaries but you need to meet their criteria, and one of these requirements is that you must achieve good results," Isaac emphasised.
