

Petrol bombers prey on scrapyards

Rustenburg – A devastating fire swept through a scrapyard, burning dozens of vehicles, as emergency firefighters battled to get the inferno under control on Friday 3 August in Rustenburg East. A security guard who works at the scrapyard told Platinum Weekly that five men ran into the scrapyard where they started an argument with him. According to Avalon Jonas, the security guard, “I confronted the men telling them that they were trespassing. They then threw a petrol bomb, igniting the grass which spread to the cars. I tried to fight the men off, but they overpowered me. They then ran away.” As Platinum Weekly spoke to the guard, people ran for cover as a number of vehicles exploded sending dark clouds of smoke into the sky. The fire devoured everything on its path. Police spokesperson sergeant Ofentse Mokgadi on Wednesday 8 August confirmed: “It appears that there was no arson docket registered.”
