

Successful recovery of livestock

North West – As part of intensifying the fight against property related crimes, particularly theft of livestock, the police's stock theft units in the province arrested a total of 42 suspects between June and September this year.

"The suspects were arrested throughout the province during various operations. Livestock valued at over R1 million was recovered: 92 cattle, 12 calves, 82 goats, 25 sheep and two horses," said police spokesperson brigadier Sabata Mokgabane.

The police also issued fines to livestock owners and farmers for the contravention of Animal Identification Act, 2002 (Act No. 6 of 2002) and Stock Theft Act, 1959 (Act No. 57 of 1959).

The North West provincial commissioner, lieutenant general Baile Motswenyane praised stock theft unit members for their efforts that led to the recoveries and apprehension of the suspects.

As part of preventative measures, the police would like to urge livestock owners and farmers to take extra care of their livestock and advised the following: Owners must ensure that their livestock is correctly brand marked, fences should be checked and maintained on a regular basis, appoint a trained worker to patrol the fences and property daily, always lock up loading ramps in camps or places on the farm where there is no direct supervision, or see to it that they are out of sight.

Ensure that stolen stock cannot be hidden on your farm or if you notice strange animals or suspicious people at a cattle post, report it immediately. Personally count your stock at least once a week.

HERITAGE CELEBRATED

Rustenburg – The Recreation Africa group's Kedar Heritage Lodge, Conference Centre & Spa commissioned Adam Madebe, renowned sculptor and artist, to create a bust of Sir Winston Leonard Spencer-Churchill.

Winston Churchill first made his name during the South African War (1899 – 1902). It was his repeated acts of heroism which launched him onto the path of becoming one of the greatest leaders of the modern age.

The bust was unveiled in a memorial setting, which has been designed by architect Nico Wessels, on the Summerhouse Lawn in the grounds of Kedar Lodge, on 13 October.

Adam Madebe's work is highly sought after. In 1989 he sculpted a chair, called "The Hot Seat", which recently sold on auction in London for R220 000.
