

ROARRRRRsome news for Dinosaur fans

Giganotosaurus, just one of the many dinosaurs that you will see at the exhibition.

Velociraptor on the back of an Iguanodon.

A Parasaurolophus dinosaur.

Rustenburg – The DinosAlive exhibition is a showcase of the majestic beasts of pre-historic times. This interactive tour and playpark opens on Saturday 23 February at Platinum Square and promises to be an exciting experience for young and young-at-heart.

DinosAlive tells the story of dinosaurs from the Mesozoic Era, approximately 250 million years ago. Animatronics provide the dinosaurs with a lifelike feel and sense of realism, taking the audience back to the age of the dinosaur. The exhibition will be open every Friday, Saturday and Sunday until 1 April.

This tour is educational and fun for the entire family. You can learn about dinosaurs, and kids will have a chance to ride the T-Rex. There will be state-of-the-art augmented reality (AR) and virtual reality (VR) at the exhibition to immerse the audience into the dinosaur world. Look forward to interactive kids' activities, inflatable playzone, movies and fossil displays.

DinosAlive has a fully stocked merchandise shop, where the true dino-fanatic can buy precious memorabilia or simply find a souvenir to take home after a great day at DinosAlive. Bring the family and come share in this unforgettable experience.
