

Bojanala Office National - dealership of the year

Rustenburg – Bojanala Office National rose from a humble beginning. Owner Dianne de Beer started Dianne’s Stationers in 1994, working from her daughter’s bedroom. In 2005 they joined the Office National group and is now one of Rustenburg’s go-to stores for all your stationary needs. In 2012 they were named the dealership of the year for Office National group for the first time and again this year. During a prestigious awards ceremony that took place on the MCS Symphony on 16 March 2019, Bojanala Office National competed with 63 other branches and once again walked away with the dealership of the year title. Bojanala Office National is a supplier of stationary for the office, school and home. They also supply office furniture, rubber stamps, computer consumables and much more. Their clients’ needs are their number one priority and they strive towards fulfilling all stationary requirements. If they don’t have it, they will find it! In an interview with Platinum Weekly Dianne said: “I am very proud and fond of my staff. They always aim to be helpful and professional. The dedication they have to the company is what made us dealership of the year. I would like to make use of this opportunity to also thank all our clients for their loyal support.” Sales representative at Bojanala Office National Madelyn Hattingh said: “I have been in the sales industry for 22 years and I have never met a woman like Dianne. She is the heart of this company and I truly look up to her.”
