

PLAASAANVAL OORWINNAAR VIER 80STE VERJAARSDAG

Rustenburg – Lina Botes wat in February 2013 wreed aangeval is op hul plaas buite Rustenburg het op Saterdag 1 Junie haar 80ste verjaarsdag gevier. Lina se gesig is tydens die aanval so erg beskadig dat sy plastiese chirurgie moes ondergaan nadat een van die aanvallers haar in die gesig geslaan het met 'n rewolwer. Sy het egter ook 'n goeie hou ingekry toe sy een van die aanvallers met 'n stoompot se deksel bygedam het. "Die deksel het skoon 'n duik ingehad," het Lina gesê

WATCH OUT! JOB SCAMS

Rustenburg – Scammers lure internet users with promises of lucrative career opportunities or job offers all around the country. Too often these scammers are using unsuspecting jobseekers' desperation to steal money from them. Sometimes, it can be hard to tell the difference between a real opportunity and a scam. This guide will help you identify fake job postings and help prevent recruitment fraud:

- Genuine communication related to recruitment will never require the job seeker to make payments at any point in the recruitment process. Ever!
- You didn't contact them; they contacted you: They say that they found your resume online. These criminals either offer you a job right away or say they want to interview you. Scammers troll job boards looking for victims so always be wary. Beware if you are offered a job that you did not apply for. They sometimes don't even mention the position that you applied for in the email as these emails are sent out in bulk.
- Look out for vague job requirements and job description. Scammers try to make their emails sound believable by listing simple requirements that almost everyone is qualified for: like must be 18 years old, must be a citizen, must have access to the internet.
- Make sure that the email includes the company's address and phone number. It is also advisable to phone these companies on other listed numbers.
- Some scammers ask for your bank account information to set up direct deposit or transfer money into your account. Never give this information over the phone.
- Before you receive a job offer you will have to go through a selection process, including a face-to-face interview.
- Beware of fax scams. When a job seeker applies for a position they receive various emails from non-existing recruiters prompting them to fax their documents and certificates to a given 0866 fax number, this number is set-up for the solitary purpose and they get about R30.00 for every document you send. Make sure that faxes are not the only means of communication. You can do this by making a call to test that the telephone line exists. If you call and they immediately direct you to the fax line it is best to play it safe and avoid applying for this job.
- Trust your gut and do your research. A simple internet search can show you if a company exists. If something is too good to be true it usually is.

Be vigilant and spread the message to other community members, so that they may not fall victim to these criminals.
