

SPOTLIGHT ON SAFE DRIVING

Mogwase/ Rustenburg – On Saturday 9 November, scores of drivers based in the North West Province received free road safety training as part of an initiative to reduce accidents.

The skills enhancement session, which was held in Mogwase, was hosted by Coca-Cola Beverages South Africa (CCBSA) in partnership with the North West Department of Community Safety and Transport Management.

More than 100 drivers of heavy vehicles attended the session and received training via a state-of-the-art truck simulator.

Ndanganeni Adjei, CCBSA logistics manager, underscored the need for road users to be vigilant. “At CCBSA, safety is our number one priority. We have more than 600 heavy vehicles on South African roads daily,” he said. “We have decided to partner with government stakeholders to ensure that our roads are safe. All our drivers are currently undergoing training. The use of the truck simulator during training is yielding positive results. That is why we are making it available to the transport department,” Ndanganeni added.

More than 100 drivers received training.
