

SIX ARRESTED THANKS TO TIP-OFF

Potchefstroom – On Friday 22 November, six suspects were arrested by members of Potchefstroom Flying Squad, K9 and Crime Prevention in the parking area of a club in the Potchefstroom industrial area. According to police spokesperson colonel Adèle Myburgh, the arrests came after police received information from a member of the community, who thought the demeanour of the suspects were suspicious. The police reacted swiftly and found the suspects sleeping in a Toyota Quantum at about 00:20. Consequently, their vehicle was searched and three 9mm pistols, 39 rounds of ammunition and balaclavas were found hidden in a false compartment in the vehicle. Numerous tools and gloves were seized. The suspects appeared before the Potchefstroom Magistrates' Court on Monday 25 November for possession of unlicensed firearms and ammunition, and suspected house breaking equipment.

WHEN REMEMBERING IS NOT ENOUGH HAUNTING TRIBUTE TO JOEY AND ANISHA VAN NIEKERK

Mooiνοοι – Violence against women is a dark subject. It happens in the dark and when it's not reported, it stays in the dark. When it is, we don't want to see it so, we push it into the dark recesses of our minds.

"We live in what our President has called, 'one of the most unsafe places in the world to be a woman'. A country where a woman is murdered every three hours and where 52,420 sexual offences were reported in just 365 days.

While women abuse has been declared a national crisis, there is still a lot that needs to be done to bring this dark subject into the light," said Casey Rousseau at 1st for Women Insurance.

During the national 16 Days of Activism for No Violence Against Women and Children campaign, 1st for Women is shining a light on women abuse by projecting 15 haunting tributes to victims of brutal murders, rapes and femicides on to very dark places – the actual locations of the crimes.

One of the projections was filmed in Mooiνοοι, North West. It pays tribute to Joey and Anisha van Niekerk who were brutally raped and murdered in 2017. Other projections pay tribute to victims including Hannah Cornelius who was raped and murdered near Stellenbosch, Clarissa Lindoor who was murdered in Stellenbosch, Courtney Pieters who was raped and murdered – her body was found in Epping Industria, Cape Town and Janika Mello who was raped and murdered in Heinz Park, Cape Town. On the 16th Day (10 December 2019), the full-length video will be projected onto the side of the well-known landmark in Johannesburg. The tribute will also be broadcast live on social media.

"During 16 Days of Activism, we'll remember the women we've lost, celebrate the lives they led and make sure that this dark subject remains in focus, not just for 16 days but for 365 days a year, every year – because remembering is not enough," said Rousseau.

Since 2005, the 1st for Women Foundation has contributed over R70 million to various organisations that focus on fighting woman abuse. Over this period, 90,000 victims and survivors of abuse have been assisted by the Foundation. In 2017, 1st for Women launched 'For-Women', a platform that consolidates all women abuse fighting efforts in one place.

This site features the public, private and non-profit organisations who have vowed to fight women abuse, so that survivors of abuse can find the right help, quickly. For-Women also enables South Africans and corporate South Africa who want to take a stand against women abuse to easily connect with organisations who need their help.

ANOTHER DRUG DEALER OFF THE STREETS

Brits – To turn the tide against drug trafficking, Hartbeespoortdam's K9-unit arrested a 36-year old suspect in Primindia near Brits on Friday 22 November for dealing in drugs.

According to police spokesperson colonel Adèle Myburgh, acting on a tip-off, the members searched three houses in Primindia. They discovered and seized drugs with an estimated street value of R12,000. The suspect appeared before the Brits Magistrates' Court on 25 November.

Drugs found in the suspect's possession.

POLICE SECURE 263 ARRESTS

North West – Provincial suspect raiding operations resulted in the arrest of 263 suspects on Wednesday, 20 and Thursday, 21 November, throughout the province.

The suspects were arrested for offences including murder, rape, attempted rape, assault with intent to do grievous bodily harm, robbery, sexual assault and assault. According to police spokesperson colonel Adèle Myburgh, of 263 arrests, 46 were for crimes against women and children.
