NORTH WEST WELCOMES 160 BABIES ON CHRISTMAS DAY

North West – The North West Department of Health member of executive council (MEC) Madoda Sambatha has welcomed with joy 160 babies, born on Wednesday 25 December in the province.

The total number of new-born babies is made up of 82 females and 78 males, depicting the usual trend of more females than males.

The Bojanala district leads the numbers with 60 (28 males and 32 females) new-borns, followed by Ngaka Modiri Molema District at 40 (19 male and 21 females) while Dr Kenneth Kaunda District stands at 32 (15 males and 17 females). The district with the lowest population in the province, Dr Ruth Segomotsi Mompati, also delivered the lowest total of 28 babies (16 males and 12 females).

The first baby, a boy, was born at 00:25 on Christmas day at Thusong/ General De La Rey memorial Hospital in Ngaka Modiri Molema District.

In welcoming the new-borns, Sambatha congratulated the mothers and the health facilities that delivered the babies.

“I congratulate the mothers on their wonderful Christmas gifts. I urge the mothers to get registered on MomConnect, which is a platform that will give them tips on how best to nurse their babies especially during the first critical six months of nursing. It is also important to adhere to the child immunization schedule,” Sambatha advised.

The MEC also congratulated public healthcare facilities for delivering healthy babies.

“I thank our midwives and other nursing staff in our facilities who worked tirelessly to deliver these babies.”
