ABANDONED DOGS CHEW THROUGH DOOR TO ESCAPE

Rustenburg – The Rustenburg Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (SPCA) responded to a chilling case where several dogs were left locked inside a home for a prolonged period. A community member alerted them about the incident, noting that there were dogs trapped inside the house, and that the dog's owner had not been seen for a while.

Following procedure, they visited the premises on Tuesday 28 June. They only found one dog outside but could hear the others howling inside. The gate was locked so they left a note for the owner of the dogs to urgently contact them and lowered some food and water over the gate. A blue seal was also placed over the lock.

After not receiving any feedback by 1 July, they returned and found the notice and blue seal still intact, indicating that no one had been at the house since their first visit. On their third visit they knew that they had to take further action to secure the welfare of the dogs and managed to contact the owner of the property. After explaining the situation to the property owner, they were given permission to enter the house.

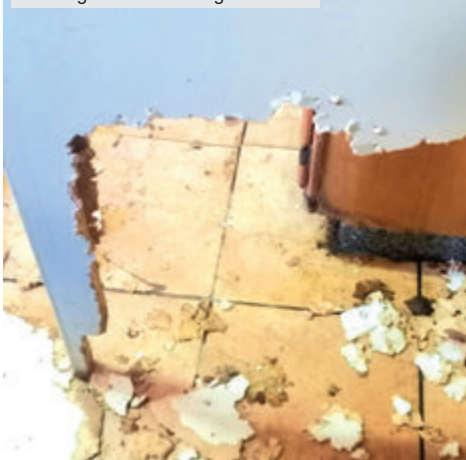

There was still only one dog outside, so they started looking around for any other dogs on the property. Accompanied by the property owner's staff, they gained access to the house and was shocked to their core.

The moment they opened the door, the smell hit them. Although the house was occupied, it was clear that it had been deserted for months by the sight of the heavy layer of dust on the furniture. Further investigations revealed that the floors were covered in dog faeces indicating that the dogs had been locked inside for a while.

Two dogs were found in the house. One of the doors had been chewed through – most likely in a desperate attempt for the dogs to escape. The dogs were extremely emaciated (thin and weak), with their ribs clearly visible – and terrified.

Rustenburg SPCA manager Marisa Kruger quickly reacted and decided that the best course of action will be to remove the dogs. The poor dogs were so scared that catching them was no easy task. Eventually, all three dogs were safely in their care. They were taken to the vet for a check-up, as there were also concerns about the amount of wood in the dogs' systems.

The Rustenburg SPCA also plans to take further action against the owner of the dogs for neglecting her pets. In the meantime, the vet bill for the three rescued dogs also needs to be paid and the Rustenburg SPCA is appealing to the community to assist in making sure these dogs get proper care.

"We urge the public to please be our eyes and ears and report all cases of animal abuse or neglect. I would also like to plead with pet owners not to abandon their pets, and to rather bring them to the SPCA. We will never turn away any animal and if you don't want to face us, we have receiving kennels where you can leave them."

For more information on how you can help these three dogs contact the Rustenburg SPCA on 014 592 3181. All animal neglect and abuse can be reported on 072 933 7723.

A sigh of relief...

for thousands of firearm owners whose licences expired

SA – Holders of firearms whose licences expired and wish to rectify the position, would not be prosecuted.

Extracts from SAPS directive issued Friday 1 July 2022

For data integrity, applicants will have to physically present [not hand in] firearms they intend applying for in this category together with a copy/copies of the expired licence(s) to the [designated firearms officer at your local police station] DFO for inspection and validation. After this, a verification certificate will be signed by both the applicant and the DFO. Where the firearm owner is deceased, a copy of the executor's letter and copy of a license or identity document of the deceased must be attached. This application will follow the normal estate application rule.

AfriForum's press release extracts, dated Wednesday 6 July reads:

In short, any licensee whose firearm license has expired, is entitled to apply for renewal without any fear of prosecution or expropriation of their firearm.

"We are delighted that the necessary clarity was given to the court order as soon as possible after the court order and trust that members of the SAPS will handle any renewal applications in accordance with the court order and directives. We believe that many firearm owners who were left in the dark due to the uncertainty that prevailed regarding renewal applications submitted to the SAPS after the expiry date, are now a thing of the past," says Armand Greyling, legal and risk officer at AfriForum.

CRIME SCENE DO NOT CROSS

Six suspects, safer in jail

Brits – NPA spokesperson Lumka Mahanjana said Talent Moyo (31), one of the six suspects who appeared before the Brits Magistrates' Court on 22 June for murder, attempted murder, business robbery with aggravating circumstances as well as being in the country illegally, appeared before the Brits Magistrates' Court again on Tuesday 5 July, applying for legal presentation. The other five suspects James Muzora (25), Luckson Simbarashe (28), Simanyiwa Marozba (21) Allen Zunda and Cathbeth Ndlovu (21) abandoned their bail, apparently because of being afraid of mob justice. Hundreds of Oukasi residents marched to the Brits Magistrates' Court on Tuesday where some of the suspects made an appearance.

The suspects have allegedly been terrorising the Oukasi community in the past months. "The six are facing charges of business robbery with aggravating circumstances related to an incident at Maza Cash and Carry, possession of a firearm, two counts of murder, robbery with aggravating circumstances, three counts of attempted murder and six counts of being in the country illegally," Mahanjana said. According to media reports, the suspects could be linked to the murder of two women, aged 30 and 33 years respectively. "The matter was postponed to 12 August for Talent Moyo's attorney as well as to allow the state to carry out further investigations," she added.

Out in the cold

Rustenburg – The families who were evicted from Waterkloof Hills Estate in April 2022 by Royal Bafokeng Platinum Mine, has been given alternative accommodation by the Rustenburg Local Municipality until now. Most of the evicted families have in the meantime moved elsewhere, but some are destitute and relying on help from local government. Although the remaining families were given shelter at the Rustenburg Recreational Centre by the Rustenburg Local Municipality, SABC news' Sentleeng Lehili reported on 1 July how the families have now been left at the mercy of the harsh winter elements after being moved to Ben Marais Hall in town. In the interview with the SABC, it appears as if the mining company has evicted their own employees, but in a statement to Platinum Weekly in May this year, the mining company said that those who were evicted were renting the properties from employees. Apparently, the legal proceedings are ongoing.

Platinum Weekly's (extracts of) article of 4 May 2022 reads:

Royal Bafokeng Platinum Mine said several employees rented out the houses to occupants, who failed to make payments since 2017. The company said it was left with no choice but to allow the Sheriff of the Court to enforce an eviction order to remove families that had been occupying the houses illegally. Says Royal Bafokeng Platinum Mining communications manager Thapelo Montshioa in a statement to Platinum Weekly: "Over the past three years, the company has been engaging with all relevant stakeholders, including the occupants, to find an amicable and humane solution to the impasse. This process included the availing of alternative land for the tenants facilitated by the Rustenburg Local Municipality."

Dog held for ransom and then thrown out of moving vehicle

Rustenburg – Wendy Kinnear left her house to quickly pop into the shop at around 19:30 on Friday 1 July. When she returned home, her 14-year-old Pomeranian, Grizzly, was gone. Kinnear immediately turned to social media and posted a picture of her missing dog on every group she could think of. "All I could think about was her being out in the cold. She is old and has to eat special food and drink her medicine," Kinnear told Platinum Weekly. Later that evening, a woman sent her a picture that was shared on another group by another woman. The dog in the picture looked a lot like Grizzly, and the dog was up for sale. Kinnear immediately reached out to her, but all her calls went unanswered, and all her messages were ignored.

On 2 July, Kinnear received a message from a man who said that he wanted to help her get her dog back. He then contacted the seller, who said she is prepared to sell it to him for R6,000. Kinnear and the man hatched a plan to meet the woman on 3 July at 4pm to 'buy' the dog. Kinnear kept on calling and sending messages. She even phoned from different the seller twice and was informed that the seller no longer had Grizzly and that she 'dumped her at a shopping centre'. Kinnear knew she was lying – because of the fake appointment they had. She then informed the officer that she wanted to proceed with the case. The seller didn't show up at 4pm. Later that evening, at around 7:30pm another appointment was set up (this time with Kinnear's husband). They were given strict instructions that the man should come alone, and that the R6,000 must be in a brown envelope.

The two left with two cars to meet the woman at the exchange point. Kinnear's husband got out of the car to meet her and was told that she wanted to see the money first. Signalling his wife, she and her sister-in-law drove closer as a way to try and block the seller in. But the seller sped away towards the R24. Kinnear immediately gave chase. A few kilometres further, a car turned in front of the seller, forcing her to slow down. She then grabbed Grizzly and held her out the window. Kinnear's heart came to a standstill. "I was just screaming NO," Kinnear said. Grizzly was thrown out of the window nearly landed under the wheel of another car. Luckily, she didn't sustain any serious injuries and was finally back in the loving arms of Kinnear. "We are just so glad to have her back, but we will continue with the case of theft and plan to open a case of animal cruelty against the woman who tried to sell her," Kinnear concluded.

TSHEGOFATSO is one of the thirty-nine mine community beneficiaries who recently completed the Impala Rustenburg Enterprise and Supplier Development (ESD) 12-month programme which aims to assist mine community SMMEs to formalise or improve their business. Tshegofatso expresses that through the programme he has learned vital tools for business operation such as financial management, marketing, compliance, and governance, as well as the fundamentals of entrepreneurship. "I have been running my business for some time, however, I was lacking a few tools that I managed to learn through the ESD programme," Mekwe said.

Mekwe, who is also the founder of a registered non-profit organisation that supports various causes that are crucial to community upliftment, adds that through the ESD programme he now has a formal business operating system which has enabled him to run his business at an optimal level.

Tshegofatso believes that every young person should seize all the opportunities that are given to them to reach their full potential. "The economic sustainability of our communities depends on us. With programmes like the ESD programme, continuous skills transfer and economic sharing between well-establish organisations and mine community SMMEs can help aid this sustainability," Mekwe concluded.

Rustenburg – The lucky winner from Rustenburg, who bagged a total winning of R33,107,623.80 from the PowerBall PLUS jackpot, has come forward to claim their huge winnings from the draw that took place on 28 June 2022. The man is in his seventies and says he has been playing the National Lottery games for the past nine years. He bought his ticket with a wager of R30 via the manual selection. Up until now, the highest amount he had previously won was R80. “I’m so happy to have won the PowerBall PLUS jackpot,” he said. “Winning this amount will definitely make a big difference in my life.” He has been working in the mining industry for most of his life, he now spends most of his time relaxing and watching TV. He realised he won when he checked his ticket numbers on the internet.

International community engagement

The Consulate health team with the United States Consulate General, Vincent Spera.

Rustenburg – United States (US) Consulate General, Vincent Spera, paid a visit to Rustenburg on Tuesday 28 June. During his visit he met with various stakeholders including the North West Health Member of the Executive Council (MEC) Madoda Sambatha at the Royal Marang Hotel. The US President's Emergency Plan for AIDS Relief (PEPFAR) which supports HIV prevention, care, and treatment programmes in South Africa, was one of the talking points of the meeting. “We planned this visit as an opportunity to learn how the broad significant US health investments are implemented and operated at a local level. It is important that we understand how our investments and partnerships at a policy level is affecting individuals in communities. That is why we take the time to talk to local clinics, to talk to health providers and to beneficiaries of these programmes. Not only to see that our investment is being used correctly from an accountability standpoint, but that it is really helping people. We want to make that community connection,” Spera said.

High tech hybrid cath lab at Medicare Rustenburg

Rustenburg – Medicare Rustenburg acquired a new state-of-the-art high-tech hybrid cath lab where cardiology, vascular and neuro advanced surgery are performed. Its advanced technology makes it possible to diagnose and medically intervene with coronary heart vessels diseases, vascular diseases, and neuro vascular diseases, thus improving patient outcome. They are soon starting with the neuro vascular discipline making them one in a handful of hospitals in South Africa to conduct this discipline... And it's right here on your doorstep in Rustenburg!

“We are especially excited that this new technology provides us with a high-end operating theatre room where surgeons can perform high-tech non-invasive surgical procedures. We as the hospital look forward to this technological enhancement which will further serve the community,” said Medicare Rustenburg hospital manager Anja Markram.

Leading this is their team of highly skilled cardiologists and surgeons – who also offer uterine artery embolization which is a minimally invasive cutting-edge procedure for treating uterine fibroids.

and intervention without going in surgically. There is also the intravascular ultrasound (IVUS) which is the intra vascular sonar which serves as an internal arteries camera.

Do you listen to music while you work?

Listening to music at work may increase your overall happiness regardless of what you're doing. Music can engage your brain when completing repetitive tasks. But some people prefer complete silence to enable them to concentrate.

No. When I'm doing a dangerous job, like welding for example, listening to music could distract me and pose a serious safety threat to me or those around me. I only listen to music when I'm relaxing or doing a light job.

Elias Motshudi

No. I don't listen to music while I'm working at Trauma Rescue, because it distracts me from what I'm concentrating on. Don't get me wrong – I love music but when I'm at work, I choose to focus fully on what I'm doing.

Wentzel Dippenaar

POLL

Poll: Do you use a diary or planner to organise your schedule?

Using a planner, diary or calendar (or even digital apps) is a great way to organise and plan your day – you can make lists, jot down appointments and plan your priorities. This can also sometimes be very time consuming and not worth the effort.

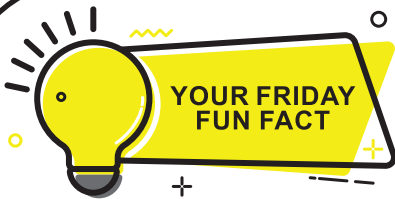

Make yourself heard by sending an email to news@platinumweekly.co.za or a WhatsApp to 081 579 7000 with the following information before 17:00 on Tuesday 12 July:

- Yes, I use a planner, diary or calendar,
- No, I don't use a planner, diary or calendar,
- The reason for your answer.
- A recent photo of yourself (optional) – that we can publish with your answer.
- Your contact details.

If you don't want your answers to be in the newspaper, just reply to the question: YES/ NO.

The results of the votes will be published in our next issue.

PSALM 29

Praise to God in His Holiness and Majesty
A Psalm of David.

- 29 Give unto the Lord, O you mighty ones, Give unto the Lord glory and strength.
- 2 Give unto the Lord the glory due to His name; Worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness.
- 3 The voice of the Lord is over the waters; The God of glory thunders; The Lord is over many waters.
- 4 The voice of the Lord is powerful; The voice of the Lord is full of majesty.
- 5 The voice of the Lord breaks the cedars, Yes, the Lord splinters the cedars of Lebanon.
- 6 He makes them also skip like a calf, Lebanon and Sirion like a young wild ox.
- 7 The voice of the Lord divides the flames of fire.
- 8 The voice of the Lord shakes the wilderness; The Lord shakes the Wilderness of Kadesh.
- 9 The voice of the Lord makes the deer give birth, And strips the forests bare; And in His temple everyone says, "Glory!"
- 10 The Lord sat enthroned at the Flood, And the Lord sits as King forever.
- 11 The Lord will give strength to His people; The Lord will bless His people with peace.

New brooms at Marumo Gallants

SA – It is not only the 'big clubs' of the Premier Soccer League (PSL) that have been venturing onto the transfer market to bolster their team as the start of the 2022/23 season inches closer.

While the likes of Kaizer Chiefs and Orlando Pirates – who together with Mamelodi Sundowns have more financial resources when compared to the other teams – have been buying and selling players, Marumo Gallants are determined not to be left behind. They have made a huge statement by bringing in 31-year-old Moroccan coach Romain Folz after parting ways with Dan Malesela, whose contract with the club came to an end. While the move is likely to ignite the debate of whether or not foreign coaches are better than local ones, it would be unfair to judge Malesela's performance during the just ended season harshly.

A 10th place finish in a hugely competitive league like the PSL might be considered a below par finish. However, the club's critics will also have to consider that Gallants are still finding their feet in the topflight and Malesela does not have the financial muscle enjoyed by his peers to break the bank when it comes to signings. Gallants will be representing South Africa in this tournament because they managed to reach the final of the Nedbank Cup during the just ended season. While Nedbank Cup winners Mamelodi Sundowns were eligible to compete in this competition by virtue of having won that title, they will be hoping to fly the South African flag high in the CAF champions League and this has given Gallants an opportunity to also compete on the continental stage.

RHS se skitterende NETBAL STERRE

Rustenburg – Hoërskool Rustenburg spog met twee leerders wat gekies is tot die Suid Afrikaanse (SA) top-35-netbal span op Dinsdag 28 Junie. Carike Arnold en Kamogelo Molefe is die enigste Noord Wes o/16-dogters wat tot die netbalspan verkies is tydens die Netbal All Ages toernooi.

SA top-35-netbalspan.

GET ESMERALDA TO TURKEY

Rustenburg – Esmerelda Marshall has been invited to represent South Africa in the World Sub-junior and Junior Classic and Equipped Powerlifting Championships. The competition will take place in Istanbul, Turkey from 26 August to 4 September. This is a huge honour but also a very costly one and she will need sponsors to help her cover the expenses to get there. For more information contact Marshall on 078 454 0730.

Payments can be made into the following bank account:
EJ Marshall | Capitec | Savings Account
Account number: 1677339231
Branch code: 470010

Esmerelda Marshall has been chosen to represent SA in Turkey.

Clash of the titans

Rustenburg – Two of the top teams competing in the North West stream B of the Sasol Women's Soccer League will be playing against each other. Royal Queens will be up against Rustenburg Ladies at Lebone on Saturday 9 July in a match that is one of the highlights of the season.

Rustenburg Ladies lead the log standings with 15 points while Royal Queens are placed second on 12 points. A victory for Royal Queens, who have so far won four of their matches and lost two, will also see them going level on points with Rustenburg Ladies. However, Rustenburg Ladies will be out to extend their lead on the log with what they hope to be their sixth win of the season. With only a single loss so far, Rustenburg Ladies are still favourites to win the league and their 2-0 win over Madibe Ladies on 25 June demonstrated once again why they remain the team to watch out for.

Impala bounces back to winning ways

Rustenburg – Impala Rugby Club's first team ended a five-match losing streak in style on Saturday 4 July when they defeated Pretoria Rugby Club 34-18. They used home advantage to good effect and thoroughly deserved the victory after dominating most parts of the match. Johan Visagie, Robert Randel, Andre Grobler, Spiedie du Plessis, Dewald Havenga and Dirkie Pretorius played exceptionally well for Impala. Impala's second team also won their match by a 26-24 score line while the third team lost 15-14 in their encounter. "Hopefully, we can build on the positive results going forward," Impala head coach Joel Scherman said. Scherman also thanked organisers of the coaching seminar he attended in Pretoria on 30 June for empowering participants with modern technical approaches to the game. A total of 60 coaches from all over South Africa took part in the seminar. Springboks coach Jacques Nienaber, Deon Davids, Swys de Bruin, Dr. Sharief Hendricks, Daan Human and Marius Schoeman helped those who participated in the seminar to improve their rugby coaching skills and to have a better appreciation for other aspects of the game. Impala, who are not playing any matches on Saturday 9 July, will use the free time for training and team building.

Botha adds steel to Impala

Impala Rugby Club's lock Jacques Botha.

Rustenburg – Impala Rugby Club lock Jacques Botha, part of the first team, is committed to success. Botha, who weighs 128kgs, is determined to help the first team to perform well during this year's Gold Cup. The 28-year-old player, who grew up in Rustenburg, has become a key part of the club that is hoping to roll the clock back to 2019 when they won the Gold Cup in style. Botha fell in love with rugby when he attended Vastrap Primary School, while he was just six years old. "My two older brothers played rugby, I just had to join in the fun!" he says. Later he played rugby as a flank for Bergsig Academy. Although he was inspired by the likes of former Springbok flanker Schalk Burger, Botha was soon moved to lock, a position he embraced and is good at. "I have been playing rugby for more than twenty years now and my desire is to go as far as I can in the sport," says Botha, who admires Springbok lock Eben Etzebeth. Apart from liking to test his strength against opponents during a scrum, Botha says playing rugby has also helped him to establish strong friendships with his teammates at Impala. "My teammates are my brothers." He hopes that Impala's 34-18 win over Pretoria Rugby Club is the beginning of a change of fortunes. "Our weakness as a team is a lack of match fitness. This is a huge drawback for us, and we must work hard to improve this," he says. "On a personal level, I also feel that my fitness is not on the level it should be, and it is up to all of us to improve certain aspects of our game so that we are able to help the team to achieve victory on a more consistent basis." He gave much credit to Impala head coach Joel Scherman and his assistant Justic St. Jerry for helping him to improve his skills. "The coaches have trained us well in terms of physical fitness as well as ball handling." Botha, who works as a boilermaker at Petragon, advises younger rugby players to continue working on their skills and to have an attitude of perseverance. "When I'm not on the rugby field, I enjoy hanging around friends and eating my favorite food: pasta, potato salad and noodle salad."
