BAIL OF ALLEGED CHILD MOLESTER EXTENDED

Rustenburg – The trial of the man accused of molesting a 14-year-old boy will now be heard on 8 and 15 May 2023 at the regional court in Rustenburg. The man, who appeared before the same court on 24 and 28 February 2023, is a former teacher at a prominent primary school in Rustenburg. The man's bail of R4,000 was extended during his appearance. An interpreter will be used during coming the trial and the state is expected to call up a witness to testify against the man in court. The man was arrested on 24 May 2021 after he was accused of molesting a learner. This was after the mother of the victim found incriminating messages from the man on the boy's phone and reported it to the police. It came to light that an alleged improper friendship between the teacher and the child had been going on for a while.

Woman struck by taxi

Rustenburg – It has been alleged that a female was injured after being struck by a taxi in Heystek Street on Monday morning 27 February 2023. A security guard who witnessed the events said that a taxi struck a passer-by with its mirror and failed to stop. Whilst the taxi was trying to flee the scene it struck the female. The witness said that the taxi once again tried to flee the scene, but community members managed to stop it. Fortunately, a police vehicle was close by and quickly responded to the scene. According to the witness, the woman was injured when the ambulance arrived to transport her to the hospital. Platinum Weekly reached out to the Rustenburg police, but at the time of going to print the police could not yet confirm the information.

DESIGN A BOOK COVER COMPETITION!

WITH KREST PUBLISHERS SA

Author Gretchen Ryan is returning to the literary scene with an exciting children's book called There's an Elephant in my Swimming Pool, and your child could be the official cover designer! There's an Elephant in My Swimming Pool is an adventure story set in the South African bush. While on holiday at his grandpa's game farm near the Kruger National Park, 11-year-old Toby has close encounters with various dangerous wild animals but worse than that, the most dangerous of all; rhino poachers. The story tells of Toby's attempts to combat poaching, which are constantly thwarted by his younger and more responsible sister, Tara. The book, aimed at readers aged 8-12, has received multiple international awards and has been endorsed by Virginia McKenna, award-winning actress. Now, your young one has the opportunity to be the cover designer for an award-winning book, which has just been signed on by KREST Publishers based in SA! Children up to the age of 12 just need to draw a colourful cover of an elephant in a swimming pool, the title and author's name, and have a parent email it to KREST. Full competition guidelines are on the publisher website www.krestpublishers.co.za

Empowering Women in Mining: Breaking Barriers and Unlocking Full Potential

Lashia Khanda is a Class of 2022 matriculant from Sunrise View Secondary School in Boitekong who has been awarded the third annual Future Women in Mining Bursary by Impala Rustenburg.

She is among 55 young people to receive bursaries from Impala this year. Lashia has embarked on an exciting journey to achieving a Bachelors in Geomatics, leaving her hometown of Rustenburg to begin her degree at the University of Cape Town.

Lashia shares a bit of her background and ambitions for the future.

Q What are your career goals?

When I've completed my studies, I hope to be employed by Impala as a surveyor. I'm eager to learn and grow within the mining industry.

Q What advice do you have for other young women?

I would encourage other young women like me to never lose hope and to work hard to achieve their goals.

Q Why is this bursary so important to you?

This bursary has not only made it possible for me to attend university, but it also means I can do so without worrying about financial constraints. With this support, I can concentrate on my studies and dedicate my focus and attention to getting the best possible results. I'm so grateful to Impala Rustenburg for this opportunity.

Q What is Geomatics and why did you choose to study it?

Geomatics is a field that involves the collection, analysis, and display of data. I love organising and restructuring things, and Geomatics provides an opportunity for me to do what I love while pursuing my education.

Q What inspired you to pursue a career in mining?

Watching my mother work as a miner at Impala sparked my interest in mining and surveying.

Investing in the future through education

POLL

Do you give cash to the ‘needy’?

The unemployed and homeless often rely on the generosity of others to survive. One the one hand, the money given probably does help a hungry mouth, but on the other hand, it might also enable the needy to stay at the robots. Where do you stand on this issue?

Make yourself heard by sending an email to news@platinumweekly.co.za or send us a WhatsApp on 081 579 7000 with the following information before 17:00 on Monday 6 March 2023:

- Yes, I give cash to the needy.
- No, I don't give cash to needy.
- The reason for your answer.
- A recent photo of yourself—so that we can publish your pic with your answer.
- Your contact details.
- Please indicate in which town/ city you reside.

Have your say / Sê jou sê

Have you ever experienced a random act of kindness?

Yes, a couple of years ago my daughter was representing her school at Silver Sands Casino. On our way back home, my car broke down at a busy and dangerous intersection. A complete stranger helped to move my car out of the way and stayed with me and my loved ones until help arrived.
Adele Vermeulen

Have you ever been stuck next to the road and a stranger stopped to help you? Or has a stranger ever helped you out when you were short of money at the cashier?

Yes. Some time ago, I had a very bad day. A stranger came to me, greeted me and we started talking. It put a smile on my face.
Tshepang Motjale

Yes. One night, I was stuck in the middle of the road when a woman stopped to assist me. She drove to different petrol stations trying to get petrol. When we could not find fuel (it was during lockdown, so garages closed early) she helped to get my car home. I will forever be grateful.

CAUTION

Always be vigilant!

Rustenburg – A Swartruggens family—Rudolf de Kock, his wife and son—visited a local takeaway shop located on Nelson Mandela drive on Thursday 23 February 2023. What started out as a quick family outing for food soon turned into an almost robbery. Rudolf's wife entered the shop to place their order while Rudolf waited in their bakkie with his son who was sitting in the back canopy. Rudolf was aware of his surroundings and saw five men heading towards him; one of the men started to cross the road while he continued to talk to the others. Rudolf kept an eye on the men through his side mirrors and saw that the man who had initially crossed the road was standing behind his bakkie and coming towards the driver's side window. Rudolf immediately locked his door and rolled up his windows. When the suspect saw this he shouted to the others that the doors were locked before walking away.

“One of the others then came to knock on my window and asked for a cigarette while scanning through my bakkie. I explained to him that I don't smoke but he kept on insisting. I then noticed another one of the five coming from the passenger side. He also glared into my bakkie and told the others that there is nothing,” said Rudolf.

Rudolf was still waiting for his wife, but decided to start the bakkie and pretend like he was leaving after which the suspects slowly started to leave. He continued to keep an eye on them and when his wife returned, he told her to quickly get into the bakkie. As she climbed into the bakkie, four of the five men had caught up with her. One of the men tried to steal the phone charger on the seat and grabbed Rudolf's wife's hand in the process. Rudolf revved the bakkie out of the parking and the men scattered.

“I found a police vehicle in the area and told them about the incident. The police then called for backup and started to patrol the area,” said Rudolf. When the family returned to collect their food, the police saw them and told them that they couldn't find the suspects. According to Rudolf, one of the car guards who witnessed everything told the police officers that there was a group of five to ten men who regularly target the area.

The suspects usually have one person who distracts you, while the other robs you. Fortunately, due to Rudolf's vigilance, him and his family managed to sidestep the robbery.

TWO MEN ATTACKED IN BROAD DAYLIGHT

Rustenburg/ Modderfontein – A caretaker and his friend were attacked at a private resort on the Rex Road at approximately 15:00 on Wednesday 22 February 2023.

The two men were approached by four assailants who were wearing balaclavas. The suspects then physically assaulted the caretaker and hit him over the head with a pistol. They then proceeded to ransack his house. Some of the items taken include a firearm and a two-way radio. Other houses on the property were also raided.

The attackers then loaded the stolen items into a bakkie which belonged to the man's friend. The friend was taken hostage as they attackers fled the scene. The suspects stopped between Lapologang and Marikana where they unloaded the items and instructed their hostage to go.

Buffel Sekuriteit and Rustenburg Landelike Diens' owner Charl Visser and his team quickly responded to the scene and the caretaker was transported by an ambulance to a local hospital where he was treated for his injuries.

Drivers with South African title wins will be on the raceway and spectators will have an opportunity to get a signed poster from the 1660 title holders. This will be the first of what the Platinum Raceway hopes to make an annual event. Gates open at 09:00 and racing will start at 17:30. Spectators pay R80 for adults and R50 for kids under the age of six. Don't miss out! To enter, or for more information, contact Henri on 083 452 9979, or Marietjie on 081 258 8644.

A HAVEN FOR CRIMINALS

Rustenburg – The abundant rainfall in Rustenburg has not only added to the state of our roads, but also poses a security threat. Residents in Santolina Avenue and Moepel Avenue are on high alert because of the tall grass which borders their properties along the N4. Platinum Weekly talked to Rise Up Rustenburg director, Sandy Webb on Tuesday 28 February 2023 for an insight into the issue. "Safety is currently a big concern for the residents because it's easy for criminals to hide in the tall grass. They can easily scale walls and enter yards without being noticed," said Sandy. Rise Up Rustenburg is a non-profit organisation which is dedicated to improving service delivery in Rustenburg. Sandy and Kepler Diphale—another Rise Up Rustenburg director—accompanied Platinum Weekly to the problematic areas where the grass is approximately two metres high (more than enough to hide a tall person). The confident criminals are undeterred by security measures like dogs, electric fences, barbed wire, alarm systems, and security companies, as they are able to easily disappear into the tall grass. Earlier this month criminals attempted to gain access to a yard by breaking a precast wall. This precast wall had already been damaged by a previous break-in, so the residents reinforced the wall with palisades. Despite this, the criminals still managed to get over the wall and steal a water pump. In another incident a resident in Santolina Avenue told Platinum Weekly, "On 26 February I was busy in my home when I heard my neighbour scream. The criminals jumped over the wall during broad daylight to steal tools from my neighbour's yard." A neighbourhood watch member added, "The tall grass is a big problem because it makes it impossible to spot criminals—even during patrols." To add insult to injury, criminals are even more shielded under the cover of darkness as the light poles along the N4—just before the R24 turn-off—have been felled to strip for copper wire. Platinum Weekly contacted the N1N4 Bakwena for comment. Their statement read: Bakwena Platinum Corridor Concessionaire (Pty) Ltd, (Bakwena) is aware of a number of complaints with regard to overgrown vegetation alongside the N4 between Helen Joseph and Dr Moroka drives. In recent years, this period of the year has recorded more severe rainfall accompanied by high temperatures, which is attributed to climate change. Between December 2022 to February 2023, we experienced unusually high rainfall which has escalated the growth of vegetation along the whole of the Bakwena N1N4 route. Bakwena carries out two seasonal grass cuts annually:

- Full winter mow from April to August
- Shoulder mow from November to January

The shoulder mow covers the area from the surfaced road up to 3 metres. The full width mow (winter cut) covers boundary to boundary. In between these mows, there is also signage area clean-ups to ensure road signs are always visible to ensure safety of road users. The planning for the next grass cutting cycle is in progress and Bakwena would like to assure residents that their concerns have been noted. To that effect, priority areas have been identified and these areas will receive attention first when the full winter mow commences. A word of advice: Take responsibility for matters affecting your safety. Increase visibility by keeping the grass surrounding your property short.

SELF-DEFENCE; a small term in a big world

Rustenburg – With the aim of equipping our readers with some street savvy, Platinum Weekly reached out to kancho Albert Venter for some self-defence tips. Kancho Albert is the founder and head instructor of the Tokon Shotokan Karate A/C International, and of the Traditional Styles Known Knowledge in Action (TSKKIA) Federation. At the main dojo (training hall) in Rustenburg, kancho Albert is renowned for his self-defence skills. “The first thing I teach my pupils is to always be mentally prepared,” said kancho Albert, “be prepared for the possibility that your routine is always being watched, and that you could be a target at any given time. Being comfortable in your daily habits and routine is dangerous.”

Albert’s tips on being prepared:

- At all times be aware of your surroundings; when you are on the streets, put away distractions.
- Don’t let your guard down; even if you take your daily walk on the same route and have never encountered trouble, remain vigilant of the possibility of danger.
- At all times be armed with a weapon of self-defence; make sure you know the laws surrounding your chosen weapon, and most importantly make sure that you know how to use it. “The reality is that people need to arm themselves,” said kancho Albert, “attackers are always armed, so don’t go about your day empty-handed.”
- Walk with confidence and purpose; attackers are more likely to target a person who appears vulnerable and uncertain. If you find yourself lost in an area, pretend to know in which direction you are heading and get yourself to a place where you are safely surrounded by other people before scrambling for directions.
- If you are going to an unfamiliar location, be sure to plan your route beforehand and acquaint yourself with the location before proceeding.

When confronted:

- Don’t underestimate your opponent.

- Know your physical abilities.
 - The flight response is often better than the fight response. “When confronted, some people either instinctively try and evade the situation, or they try and fight the situation,” said kancho Albert. “The reality is that you probably won’t know your attacker’s capabilities, therefore it’s safest to first try and get away or alert others of your situation.”
- In all of his self-defence classes, kancho Albert teaches the three basic rules of self-defence:
- RUN; try and get away from the situation. “This may seem cowardly,” said Albert, “but it’s actually the smartest step to take. Don’t be overconfident in your abilities. Fear is what keeps you alive—if you don’t feel fear than you are at risk as you may charge into ‘a gunfight with a knife.’ Fear is healthy because it keeps you alert of possibilities. But at the same time, it shouldn’t dominate you—it is something you need to learn to master; acknowledge the feeling and use it as a warning to yourself, but don’t let it overpower you.
 - HIDE; if possible, find a safe place to hide from your attackers.
 - DEFEND; defence is your final resort. “There is no specific art of self-defence,” said Albert, “I can’t for example say that iai-jitsu will better equip you than any other art. Self-defence is a small term in a big world, meaning that your approach will vary depending on your situation and the person you are faced with. Of course, it’s good to know what you are physically capable of so that you can handle yourself in a situation. But if you haven’t taken any self-defence classes and don’t know your strengths and weaknesses, it’s even more important to be armed with a weapon which you can handle.”

For more information, please contact the TSKKIA H/Q at 082 463 1073 or visit the TSKKIA website at www.tskkia.co.za, you can also view TSKKIA activities on YouTube.
