PRISON TIME FOR PLAYGROUND BULLIES?

Platinum Weekly got wind of some buzz about the Children's Act 38 of 2005. Apparently, the word on the street is that this act is now used to take bullies, aged between 10 and 18, to court, and if found guilty, they might end up behind bars. We were a bit baffled, so we got in touch with Elmari Richter, an associate from Van Velden-Duffey, who set the record straight on Tuesday 29 August 2023.

ANOTHER SPIKING INCIDENT ON THE N4?

Rustenburg – Suspicions of deliberate sabotage are in the air following an incident on Wednesday 16 August 2023, near the Buffelspoort off-ramp on the N4 just outside Rustenburg. Reports suggest that a stretch of the highway in both east-to-west and west-to-east directions was allegedly littered with spikes, posing a significant hazard to unsuspecting motorists. However, Rustenburg police spokesperson, sergeant Ofentse Mokgadi, clarified that no official report of such an incident has recently been filed in the Rustenburg region. Motorists are urged to exercise heightened caution when traversing this route, underscoring the ongoing need for vigilant driving on our roads.

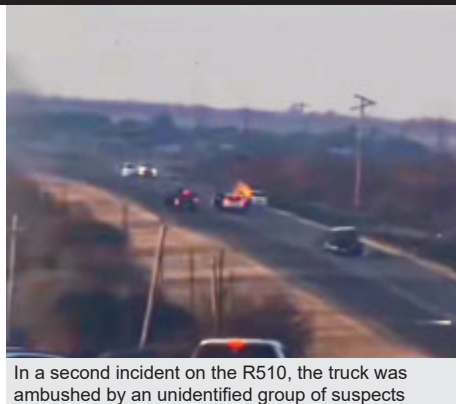

The N4, notorious for its perils

BRAZEN CASH-IN-TRANSIT HEISTS ROCK RUSTENBURG

The culprits used a grey Jeep to ram the G4S truck.

In a second incident on the R510, the truck was ambushed by an unidentified group of suspects driving a white Peugeot vehicle.

Rustenburg/Phokeng - In a harrowing sequence of events, two cash-in-transit heists unfolded within days of each other, putting Rustenburg and surrounding police on high alert. On the morning of Saturday 26 August 2023, near Orbit Technical and Vocational Education and Training (TVET) College, chaos erupted. A grey Jeep unexpectedly rammed into a G4S security truck, while a Mercedes Benz rammed into the escort vehicle of the G4S truck. The Mercedes and the escort vehicle burst into flames almost instantly. In the midst of the turmoil, around 18 armed assailants fired shots to force the truck's occupants to abandon the vehicle. Although explosives were detonated to gain access to the truck, the trunks remarkably remained unopened. The criminals made off with loose coins and escaped in two Audi sedans. A highway patrol unit engaged in a gunfight with the suspects, resulting in damage to a state vehicle but thankfully no injuries. Just two days later, on Monday 28 August 2023, another G4S truck was targeted on the R510 road between Tsitsing and Serutube villages. At approximately 5:15 pm, the truck was ambushed by suspects in a white Peugeot. Employing explosives, the culprits managed to severely damage the vehicle, before making a quick escape with an undisclosed amount of cash. "Fortunately, the G4S crew remained unharmed," said Brigadier Sabata Mokgwabone, who also mentioned the discovery of a burnt-out Mercedes Benz suspected to be linked to the criminals. No arrests have been made in either incident and investigations are ongoing. These audacious acts have raised significant security concerns for cash-in-transit operations in the region, prompting calls for heightened security measures and a faster response from law enforcement agencies.

Illegal fishing nets in Olifantsnek Dam wreak havoc

Rustenburg - In a crucial joint operation stakeholders took significant steps to tackle the pressing issue of illegal fishing nets in Olifantsnek Dam. On Friday 25 August 2023, the Magaliesberg Biosphere Reserve applauded the teams involved, including members from the Olienhout Conservancy (Magaliesberg Landowner's Forum), Simon Netshithutuni of Biodiversity Compliance, and The Department of Economic Development, Environment, Conservation, and Tourism (DEDECT). They worked diligently to remove these damaging nets that have led to a decline in the fish population and ecosystem imbalance. The use of illegal nets in the Olifantsnek Dam has surged recently, causing ecological havoc. Local fishermen have been alarmed by the dwindling fish population and called upon the authorities to take action. Fishermen have noticed a declining fish population at the dam for quite a while, and the team decided that it was time to act. In just one day, three large nets ranging from 20 to 30 metres were pulled out, along with approximately 50 fish, most of which were already dead.

The nets removed were not only capturing fish but also trapping other aquatic creatures like crabs and frogs.

CONTRACTOR DIES IN DRAIN

Emergency services were called in to retrieve the man's body.

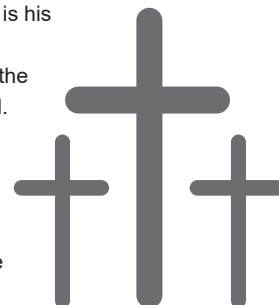

Rustenburg – On Monday 21 August 2023 a contractor was clearing a drain near the Waterfall Mall when tragedy struck. "A 31-year-old man was working on the drain/manhole when he fell inside. RLM Fire and Rescue Unit, and ER24 had to be called in to retrieve the body from the drain. Information around the incident is still not clear and police are investigating an inquest docket," said police spokesperson sergeant Ofentse Mokgadi. A statement issued by Waterfall Mall management on 25 August reads: "It is with profound sadness that we must confirm the passing of a contractor while working at the mall. The entire Waterfall Mall community extends its deepest sympathies to the family, friends, and coworkers at this incredibly difficult time. We would like to thank our management team, ER24, Rustenburg Fire Brigade and the SAPS, who all responded swiftly and professionally to the incident".

Prison time for playground bullies?

Platinum Weekly is dishing out the scoop on developments relating to the Children's Act 38 of 2005, a law that is now used to take bullies to court. There's a bit of a buzz that bullies between 10 and 18 might end up doing a stretch behind bars if they're proven guilty. To get the real story, Platinum Weekly had a chat with Elmar Richter, from Van Velden-Duffey, on Tuesday 29 August 2023.

According to Richter various South African laws actively combat bullying, both directly and indirectly. For instance, the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa safeguards rights like dignity, equality, life, freedom, safety, and education. It also guarantees protection from violence, torture, and inhumane treatment. Special provisions shield children from maltreatment and abuse. The South African Schools Act also mandates public schools to establish learner codes of conduct that include anti-bullying measures and disciplinary consequences. The Children's Act focuses on upholding children's rights, ensuring their well-rounded development, and shielding them from harm. The Protection against Harassment Act empowers victims to seek interdicts against bullies for protection.

With bullying being on the increase and making headlines in South Africa, the Children's Act 38 of 2005 were dissected by the legal fraternity who is of the belief that this act allows for bullies to be dealt with more harshly and some attorneys have already started taking that route. Richter says: "The Child Justice Act regulates the child justice system for all children in conflict with the law. Children under 18 who committed a crime are not dealt with in terms of the standard criminal procedures used for adults. This Act distinguishes between three different age groups."

The Child Justice Act' categorisation of three distinct age groups:

- A child under the age of 10 years cannot be arrested or prosecuted! This means that a child under 10 years does not have criminal capacity and cannot be charged or arrested for an offence, which includes bullying.
- A child older than 10 years but below the ages of 14 years is presumed to lack criminal capacity unless the state proves that he/she has criminal capacity. Such a child can thus only be arrested and prosecuted if the child is found to have the criminal capacity to understand his/her wrongdoing.

- A child above 14, but under 18, is said to have criminal capacity and can be arrested and prosecuted. Children in this age group who are found guilty of an offence may be sent to a child and youth care centre to rehabilitate the child. Sending a child to prison for bullying is highly improbable.

"Rehabilitation of the children is the primary focus, rather than punishing the child for their wrongdoing. The Child Justice Act stipulates that no child under the age of 14 may be sentenced to imprisonment. Imprisonment of children over the age of 14 can be considered but will be an absolute last resort and will only be applied in cases of severe criminal offenses," says Richter.

According to Richter, perpetrators will only serve their sentences in a juvenile correctional prison when they are above the age of 14 and if they are found guilty of a serious criminal offence. "I believe a child found guilty of bullying will not be sentenced to imprisonment unless the bullying results in a criminal offence, for example, assault with the intent to do grievous bodily harm," she says.

Richter says that the severity of the sentence is based on the severity of the offence. "The Minimum Sentence Act guides us. It provides a minimum sentence for each criminal offence," said Richter. Richter recommends that parents/guardians of bullying victims engage with the school to facilitate disciplinary measures against the perpetrator. If bullying persists, obtaining a harassment interdict can be pursued, as bullying often leads to abuse and harassment. In cases where bullying escalates to serious criminal offenses like assault, murder, rape, or sexual assault, the state may prosecute the perpetrator based on the child's age, leading to legal consequences.

Platinum Weekly interviewed local parents to get their opinions: "I reckon sending kids to prison for bullying is a bit over the top, to be honest. Sure, there's a lot in the mix, but we need to think about what happens next.

Imprisonment could mess with a kid's head even more, you know? And that could mess with their future," one parent chimed in.

"I'm a bit on the fence about it," another parent said. "Bullies need to understand how serious it is—bullying can really mess with kids. But we've got to think, bullies don't just inflict harm to act tough; there's often more going on inside that's driving them to hurt others, both emotionally and physically."

From an educator's perspective, Wynand Pieterse commented: "As a teacher, dealing with bullying means being about forgiveness, rehab, and helping kids grow. Locking them up doesn't fit the bill. Teaching, talking things through, and getting to the root problems are a must. Parents need to be in on it too—talking openly, backing up, and making sure they're responsible. What matters most is teaching, showing the way, and keeping things positive for everyone".

The issue of bullying and imprisonment remains a double-edged sword. Imprisonment might curb their actions and safeguard victims, yet the effects it could have on those guilty of bullying could be damaging on a multitude of levels. Thus, striking the right balance between punishment and rehabilitation remains tricky territory.

Van Velden-Duffey associate Elmar Richter offered a legal perspective on the aspects concerning children and incarceration.

Fire damages Pilanesberg International Airport

Pilanesberg - Pilanesberg International Airport near Sun City faced a catastrophic fire that appears to have originated close to the Air Traffic Control Tower on Tuesday 29 August 2023. At approximately 12:00, security officers reported an ominous smoke but struggled initially to locate the source.

Upon closer inspection, the personnel discovered that the smoke was emanating from the top of a building near the Air Traffic Control Tower. Despite their quick attempts to put out the fire, the flames rapidly consumed the area. Within seconds, the thatched roof of the airport building collapsed, making their efforts to extinguish the fire futile. The structure was completely gutted by the fast-spreading flames.

Shortly after the onset of the blaze, both Sun City Fire Services and Rustenburg Fire Services arrived at the scene and took immediate action, but the structure had already suffered irreversible damage.

Head of the Department of Community Safety and Transport Management, MEC Sello Lehari, and acting department head Mpho Maleme promptly arrived at the devastated terminal. MEC Lehari ordered an immediate investigation, stating, "We would like to leave no stone unturned to ensure we get to the bottom of the cause of the fire".

Within seconds, the thatched roof of the airport building collapsed, making their efforts to extinguish the fire futile.

Fire strikes Gardenia Ave

Aftermath of the blaze.

Rustenburg – It was a peaceful evening on Monday 28 August 2023 as the clock neared 18:00, when a caravan beneath a carport became an unexpected focal point for residents in the neighbourhood of Gardenia Avenue, Protea Park. A flicker soon turned into a raging fire inside the caravan, raising alarm. Without wasting a heartbeat, people sprang into action to douse the flames. Kobus Myburgh, the tenant of the house where the fire broke out, shared details with Platinum Weekly newspaper: "Our water pressure is very low because our water pipe was stolen recently. It did not help much when we wanted to put out the fire," he expressed. The fire crept to adjacent refrigerators and dishwashers, located next to the caravan. These appliances, bought by Myburgh with dreams of mending them for resale, were reduced to charred debris in no time. Adding to the nightmare, the blaze, showing no sign of retreat, lapped at the corner of his garage roof! After relentless efforts, the fiery monster was finally tamed, and disaster was averted. Fortunately, no injuries were reported.

Kgaswane Mountain Reserve ravaged by wildfire

Rustenburg – On Saturday 26 August 2023, at approximately 13:30, a fire was reported by a neighbour outside the perimeter of Kgaswane Mountain Reserve near the Arnoldstad Circle on the R24. Within hours, the fire menacingly edged its way into the cherished reserve.

In an interview with Platinum Weekly, Kgaswane Mountain Reserve acting reserve manager Emelang Malefo said: "Originating from children reportedly playing with fire, the flames were fuelled by potent winds on that fateful Saturday afternoon and evening."

In response, the reserve immediately called upon the Greater Rustenburg Fire Protection Association, the Rustenburg Fire Department, and Working on Fire.

However, by 15:05, the fire had entered the reserve, prompting backburns to contain it to the southern part. The fire's trail of destruction spanned a staggering 515.36 hectares, impacting habitats and wildlife. While large mammals were agile enough to evade the inferno, smaller species like reptiles sought refuge in holes, open areas, and rocky outcrops. Regrettably, the slow-moving chameleons faced the brunt of the blaze.

Firefighting efforts involved blowers, beaters, and knapsack equipment, which, given the fierce conditions, proved ineffective on Saturday. The reserve's team and the Working on Fire crew then strategized a back-burn the following day, confining the fire to a single block. This strategy proved effective. Several private landowners also pitched in, utilising their firefighting equipment to counter the flames. However, the fire's intensity overpowered their initial efforts.

Remarkably, amidst this challenging ordeal, no injuries were reported. The reserve's protocols ensured safety for all personnel involved.

Generous locals played their part, offering food parcels and beverages to the tireless firefighting crew throughout the weekend.

"It's essential to appreciate that wildfires, while devastating, are a natural occurrence in Kgaswane.

The resilient wildlife has adapted over millennia to cope. That said, the recovery process demands caution from the public, particularly regarding rituals involving unattended candles, a factor leading to a disastrous fire in April 2023 that consumed 98.619 hectares of protected wetland," Malefo said.

Fires, while part of the natural ecosystem, demand respect and caution.

The aftermath of this wildfire underscores the delicate balance of nature and the cost of carelessness. The reserve stands resilient, anticipating the rejuvenation of its veld in the coming weeks. But the community's vigilance and support remain pivotal in ensuring the continued safety and prosperity of Kgaswane Mountain Reserve.

The fire's trail of destruction spanned a staggering 515.36 hectares.

Nestlé Nesquik discontinued in SA due to low demand

Indulge no more! Say goodbye to the delightful Nesquik chocolate and strawberry milkshakes as they bid us farewell. Image: Nestlé.

SA – Nestlé will be bidding farewell to Nestlé Nesquik in South Africa, effective from 21 August 2023. Nestlé Nesquik Strawberry 500g, Nestlé Nesquik Strawberry 250g, Nestlé Nesquik Chocolate 500g, and Nestlé Nesquik Chocolate 250g will no longer be produced in South Africa and thus discontinued. While Nestlé understands that this may disappoint some consumers, this change follows a drop in sales and lower demand for Nestlé Nesquik. Nestlé Milo®, Nestlé Hot Chocolate, and Nestlé Cocoa are here to stay, ensuring that consumers can continue to enjoy the exceptional quality and taste they have come to expect from Nestlé. These brands have shown remarkable performance and consumer loyalty, making them the focus of Nestlé's efforts to build a healthier and sustainable business for the future. "We would like to express our deepest gratitude to our consumers for their unwavering support throughout the years," said Takudzwa Mupfutsa, business executive officer: Dairy, Nestlé East and Southern Africa. Nestlé (South Africa) press release extracts, 29 August 2023

SAPS celebrate Women's Month

The presence of esteemed guests, including Dr Koketso Rakhudu, the youngest serving chief of the Royal Bafokeng Nation, Prof Sifa Tema, and Dr Tebogo Sediane, added an extra touch of significance to the occasion. The event was organised by the SAPS Women's Network and was a grand affair that brought together members of the police service, community leaders, and influential figures from various fields. UNRAVELLING A MISSIONARY'S JOURNEY

Rustenburg - In an engaging discussion held at the Agapé Church on Saturday 26 August 2023, Dr. Jan Botha delved into the inspiring narrative penned by author Michele Potgieter in her book 'Sonneblomme en Sneeu in Oekraïne' (Sunflowers and Snow in Ukraine). The book chronicles Michele's extraordinary life alongside her husband in Ukraine, unravelling a story of devotion, resilience, and unwavering faith. Following the demise of the Iron Curtain, newlyweds Ockert and Michele Potgieter embarked on a life-altering journey to Ukraine, where their purpose spanned more than two decades - spreading the Gospel's message and serving the community of Reni. Their mission transcended borders, bridging cultures and hearts as they embraced their roles as messengers of hope. The narrative takes a poignant turn when tragedy struck, as Ockert passed away due to the Covid-19 pandemic during a visit to South Africa. Michele found herself at a crossroads, faced with a heart-rending decision: to remain in her homeland or return to Ukraine, a nation on the brink of conflict, to carry on their shared vocation. The profound weight of this choice, as well as the enduring impact of their missionary work, forms the emotional core of Michele's memoir. "Michele's touching story is able to evoke deep emotions and some pages even make you smile," remarked Dr. Jan Botha, captivated by the resonance of her words. The book captures not only the trials and triumphs of their missionary journey but also offers glimpses into the kaleidoscope of human emotions and experiences that define the human condition. 'Sonneblomme en Sneeu in Oekraïne' is more than a memoir; it's a testament to the power of faith, love, and the extraordinary lengths one can go to fulfil a higher purpose. Michele Potgieter's narrative serves as an embodiment of the connection between individuals, communities, and the shared values that unite us. As attendees of the discussion left the Agapé Church, they carried with them not only the insights shared during the event but also a profound appreciation for the resilience of the human spirit and the potential for transformation that a missionary's journey can ignite.

Annual Classic Car Show steals the spotlight, revving up nostalgia

Rustenburg – On Saturday 26 August 2023, Rustenburg roared to life as automobile enthusiasts converged at Brauhaus Afrika for a spectacular display of automotive heritage. Proudly hosted by the Golden Oldies Motor Club, the Annual Classic Car Show showcased an exquisite array of classic cars, hot rods, vintage vehicles, and static engines, drawing attendees from across the region.

Brauhaus Afrika transformed into a sanctuary for motor enthusiasts. The air was thick with nostalgia and a shared passion for the automotive world. The Annual Classic Car Show not only celebrated motoring history but underscored the importance of preserving these iconic automotive gems for future admirers. Known for their unwavering dedication to the preservation of classic cars, the Golden Oldies Motor Club curated a collection that left attendees spellbound. Among the stars of the show was Steven Smit's 1978 Volkswagen Kombi. A symbol of his passion for vintage cars and restoration prowess, Smit described the extensive work on the Kombi: "It was a long journey. It began as just a body – no engine, no gearbox, no wheels, and no interior." Now boasting 90% originality, Smit took particular pride in its unique sun visor on the windscreen. But it wasn't just about mechanics; the Kombi ignited memories and connections, with many sharing personal tales of family bonds to similar vehicles. For Rustenburg local, Elijah Diale, the Annual Classic Car Show is more than just an event; it's a yearly tradition that bridges him with other car fans. With a soft spot for muscle cars, classic Mercedes-Benz models, and sizeable vans, Diale emphasised the communal spirit: "The Motor Show is all about communal appreciation. There's no competition, just an unbridled love for these moving artworks. Everyone has a story or memory linked to someone's car. I truly believe we should have a dedicated museum for these automotive masterpieces," remarked Diale.

Career Day at Platinum Village Primary School

Rustenburg - In an inspiring event on Friday 25 August 2023, Platinum Village Primary School held a career day that had its Grade 7 learners stepping through the school gates dressed as their future selves. From young doctors and pilots to budding engineers and chefs, the day was a colourful showcase of ambition and aspiration. The day included an ice-breaker activity where students had the opportunity to guess each other's chosen future careers. Laughter and chatter filled the air as young minds attempted to identify who might one day be flying planes, curing patients, or building bridges. "The joy in their eyes and the seriousness with which they wore their costumes was inspiring to see," said one parent. "It's a great way to help them think practically about their future at an age where they're usually focused on the here and now." The career day was not only an event for dress-up but also an educational platform to discuss the importance of choosing a career path, the steps needed to achieve it, and the various opportunities each field offers.

Protecting wildlife, one feathered friend at a time

Hartbeespoort - Founded around fifteen years ago in 2008 by Danelle and Brendan Murray, Owl Rescue Centre is a registered non-profit company (NPC) dedicated to safeguarding the declining owl populations and vulnerable wildlife in South Africa. With their hearts set on conservation, the Murrays established the sanctuary in the rural expanse of Hartbeespoort, North West Province. Their mission goes beyond rescue and rehabilitation - it encompasses education, habitat preservation, and awareness.

The typical day at the centre is anything but routine. From dawn, the team dives into clinic duties, tending to all aspects of care from feeding to medical treatment. Rescue operations are meticulously planned, while over 3000-day-old chickens and available rats and mice are prepared for daily feeds. Injured animals are first treated in the clinic, then moved to monitoring aviaries before being placed in release enclosures for their journey back to the wild. Owl Rescue Centre's efforts extend far beyond the borders of their sanctuary. Their network of over a hundred volunteers assists with rescues and care across South Africa. Permits are essential for handling, rehabilitating, and transporting wild animals, emphasising the importance of responsible and legal conservation. The centre's challenges are varied. Changing perceptions and fostering respect for wildlife are among their core struggles. They work tirelessly to debunk superstitions and highlight the essential role owls play in maintaining a balanced ecosystem. With a steadfast belief in the power of collective action, Owl Rescue Centre welcomes support through donations, events, volunteering, and merchandise sales. As Vincent Van Gogh aptly put it, 'Great things are done by a series of small things brought together.' For those inspired to make a difference, Owl Rescue Centre's website (www.owlrescuecentre.org.za) and Facebook page (www.facebook.com/OwlRescueCentre) offer avenues to contribute. The Centre's address, Farm 448 Bokfontein Hartbeespoort 0250, serves as a hub of hope for South Africa's owls and wildlife. Rescue Emergency Line for Owl Rescue Centre: 082 719 5463

Do you believe that people can change?

Some believe in the phrase "a leopard never changes its spots" as they believe that it's impossible for one to change his/her character, even if they try really hard. Do you believe that a person, no matter how horrible his/her nature, is capable of genuine change?

Yes, I believe that people can change. Situations bring people to a point of reflection, and it's in those moments you get to make decisions that will enable you to change. The level of consistency and commitment you put in will determine the change you want to see in your life. It's all a part of a cycle.

Rustenburg – Staande ovasies vir Hoërskool Rustenburg se eerste rugbyspan wat op 26 Augustus 2023 die groot titel in hul stryd teen Hoërskool Kemptonpark ingepalm het.

Met 'n indrukwekkende eindtelling van 49-24 het hulle nie net die wedstryd oorheers nie, maar ook geskiedenis geskryf.

Hierdie kragtoer is nie iets wat dikwels gesien word nie. Dit is die eerste keer sedert 1943, destyds onder die noemer van die Administrateursbeker, dat die Rusties met die begeerde Noordvaaltrofee wegstap sonder om dit te deel. 'n Herinnering aan 1963 kom na vore, toe hulle die beker met Heidelberg Volkskool gedeel het na 'n gelykop eindstryd.

Maar daar is meer nuus wat gejuig moet word. Die Rusties het nie net die Noordvaalplaatafdeling oorheers nie; hulle het ook 'n plek in die Noordvaalbekerafdeling vir 2024 verseker. In hierdie prestigeryke afdeling sal hulle hul kragte meet teen skole soos Hoërskool EG Jansen, Hoërskool Garsfontein, Hoërskool Helpmekeer, Hoërskool Waterkloof, Hoërskool Nelspruit, Hoërskool Noordheuwel, en Hoërskool Monument.

Die hele Rustenburg gemeenskap is #TROTS op hierdie rugbyspelers wat deur die hele seisoen 'n onoorwonne rekord gehandhaaf het.

All Blacks VS Springbokke

Voor nagenoeg 80 duisend toeskouers wen die Bokke met 'n rekordtelling van 35-7 teen die All Blacks. Die Bokke het die Kiwi's in die vaste skrumms verniel, ou grote. Die sewe voorspelers wat op die bank gesit het, het beslis vrugte afgewerp. Dit was die eerste keer dat 'n span dié taktiek gebruik het. Rassie het gewys dat hy hom nie van stryk sal laat bring nie. Cobus Reinach was die enigste agterspeler wat op die bank gesit het. Wat beslis groot lof verdien, is die keuse van Andre Esterhuizen en Canan Moodie as senterpaar. Damian Willemsse was puik op heelaagter. Voorop het Pieter-Steph du Toit 'n reuse wedstryd gehad. Die Bokke gaan nou voort met voorbereiding vir die eerste wedstryd van die toernooi aanstaande naweek teen Skotland. Nieu-Seeland gaan in die openingswedstryd teen die Franse uitdraf en sal gewis baie vinnig terug na die aarde toe kom.

Nog 'n groot verrassing was die geskiedkundige oorwinning wat Fiji oor Engeland behaal het.

Ek hoop dat die verbeterings behulpsaam is!

Uitslae:

- Frankryk 41-17 Australië
- Ierland 17 - 13 Samoa
- Spanje 3 - 62 Argentinië
- Italië 42 - 21 Japan
- Skotland 33 - 6 Georgia
- Engeland 22 - 30 Fidji

Rustenburg – Happy Feet Ballet School, a beacon of grace and talent in our community, took centre stage at the Rustenburg Civic Centre from Thursday 24 August to Saturday 26 August 2023. The performance, titled "A Tale of the Sea," was a breathtaking spectacle that showcased both brilliance and unique choreography. The stage was transformed into an underwater wonderland with a sea-themed set adorned with majestic mermaids and mermen. The beautiful costumes and intricate stage design created an immersive experience that transported the audience to the depths of the ocean. The real stars of the show were the young prodigies from Happy Feet Ballet School, who displayed their remarkable dance skills and techniques. From graceful pirouettes to elegant leaps, these budding dancers left the audience spellbound with their talent and dedication. Instructors at the school also joined in, demonstrating their expertise and mastery of the art form. The seamless coordination between the students and their mentors was a testament to the school's commitment to nurturing young talent. The concert received great support from the community, with attendees applauding the dedication and hard work that went into creating this magical experience. 'A Tale of the Sea' was not just a ballet performance; it was a dreamlike journey beneath the waves, brought to life through the art of dance. Happy Feet Ballet School once again proved that they are a treasure in Rustenburg's cultural landscape, leaving an indelible mark with their extraordinary performance.
