

KROONDAL'S ILLEGAL MINERS FACE THE LAW

Rustenburg/ Kroondal – In a significant operation, Kroondal witnessed a crackdown on illegal mining (Zama Zamas) on Tuesday 20 February 2024.

'It's happening right under our noses'

Platinum Weekly spoke to an experienced figure in the mining sector, who chose to remain anonymous. He highlighted multifaceted challenges posed by illegal mining, emphasising the powerful, organised crime syndicates, making law enforcement efforts particularly complex.

It's a highly organised crime, run by mafia networks

"Illegal mining is not merely a breach of law; it's a sophisticated operation backed by influential mafia networks, which complicates crackdown efforts," he explained.

The economic and environmental stakes are high in Rustenburg, a region deeply intertwined with the mining industry. Illegal miners not only evade taxes and bypass the legal requisites for mining operations, such as obtaining mineral rights and mining licenses, but their activities are also marked by violence and environmental degradation. "The absence of environmental considerations and safety measures in illegal mining operations is alarming. Whereas legitimate mines adhere to strict environmental and safety standards, illegal miners operate without regard for such regulations, posing significant risks," the industry insider added. He also emphasised the profitability of illegal mining, highlighting that regardless of the miners' skill levels, the underground nature of their operations allows them to reap substantial profits by selling mined minerals on the black market. "This underground market thrives irrespective of whether the miners are skilled or not, making it a highly lucrative venture for those involved," he noted.

No safety concerns

Further complicating the issue, legitimate mining companies are often left to address the fallout from illegal mining activities. Communities surrounding these illicit operations frequently report safety concerns, particularly involving children who wander into dangerous, unregulated mining sites, risking injury. Additionally, illegal mining can lead to environmental hazards, such as flooding, which not only pose direct risks to these communities but also leave lasting scars on the landscape. "When these areas are abandoned post-exploitation, especially after incidents like flooding, the local communities look to legitimate mining companies for solutions," he added. "Industry stakeholders have taken a tough stance on Zama Zamas (illegal miners), but are law enforcement agencies doing enough to stop the scourge?" he asked. The involvement of organised crime syndicates in illegal mining activities introduces a layer of danger, making intervention by legitimate entities both risky and complex.

It's costing SA billions!

A report by the Transnational Alliance to Combat Illicit Trade (TRACIT) underscores the magnitude of the issue, with illegal mining and illicit trade in precious metals and diamonds estimated to cost around R7 billion annually (this figure was estimated in 2017!), including heightened security costs to protect mines from invasions by syndicates. South Africa, being a leading producer of platinum and chrome, faces substantial losses due to these illegal activities, despite global price fluctuations.

The report also states that there are between 8,000 and 30,000 illegal miners reported to work in South Africa, including common reports of child labour and other human rights abuses.

Estimates place the illegal mining and export of chrome ore at nearly 1 million tonnes per year – more than 10% of South Africa's legal chrome output.

Arrested appeared before court

The police operation, dubbed 'Vala Umgodi', led to the arrest of 71 illegal immigrants and eight illegal miners, alongside the seizure of mining material and equipment. From 16 to 20 February 2024, an intelligence-led enforcement strategy involved an impressive array of participants: the Directorate for Priority Crime Investigation, National Intervention Unit (NIU), Special Task Force (STF), Tactical Response Team (TRT), Public Order Police (POP), the South African National Defence Force (SANDF), Airwing, Mounted Unit, Local Criminal Record Centre (LCRC), K9 units, Visible Policing, and mine security. This comprehensive and multidisciplinary approach underscored the seriousness with which authorities are addressing the challenge of illegal mining, showcasing a concerted effort to safeguard the region's economic and environmental wellbeing. Colonel Adèle Myburgh reported that the three individuals apprehended in Kroondal for illegal mining activities — Poncho Motlalepula (26), Petros Mosia (41), and Andries Madire (44) — have been detained and are awaiting their next court hearing set for Thursday, 29 February 2024. In light of these developments, the North West provincial commissioner, lieutenant general Sello Kwena, praised the commitment and effort of the teams responsible for these critical arrests and confiscations.

RUSTENBURG DETECTIVES CHARGED WITH CORRUPTION AND EXTORTION

Rustenburg – Two Rustenburg detectives, sergeant Yvonne Suzan Sikwani (54) and constable Bontle Mmudi (41), were brought before the Rustenburg Magistrates' Court on Thursday, 22 February 2024. The detectives face serious allegations of corruption and extortion stemming from their conduct while investigating a fraud case initially reported in May 2021. Granted bail at R1,000 each, Sikwani and Mmudi are scheduled to make their next court appearance on Friday 31 May 2024.

The arrests were the result of an undercover operation spearheaded by the Provincial Anti-Corruption Unit. According to colonel Adèle Myburgh, the operation was launched in response to information suggesting that the accused had repeatedly demanded money from a complainant between October 2022 and January 2024. The reported motive behind these demands was to rush the investigation process, a clear breach of their duty and a violation of public trust.

Lieutenant general Sello Kwenia, the provincial police commissioner, expressed his disappointment and concern over the incident. He emphasised that corruption within the police force not only undermines the integrity of the institution but also erodes public confidence in law enforcement.

STAY SAFE LEAVING SCHOOL

[letter to the editor]

Hey Rustenburg parents and kids,

I'm in the business of getting our young ones safely to and from school, and as a mom with kids in both high school and primary, I've got to share something super important with all of you. It's about making sure we're all paying attention the second we step off school grounds. And yep, this goes for everyone, no matter if you're in primary or high school.

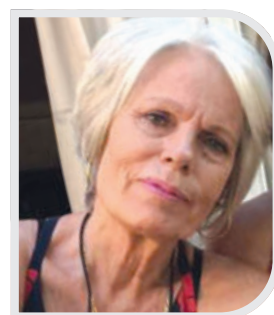

I've seen it way too many times – kids just chilling or glued to their phones, not looking around, and bam, someone swipes their phone right out of their hands. But it's not just about losing a phone; these thieves can get really intimidating, and that's scary stuff.

So, here's the deal: stick with your buddies when you're walking around. There's safety in numbers, you know? And keep your parents in the loop about where you are and where they should pick you up. It's super simple stuff that can make a big difference.

Let's keep an eye out for each other and make sure we all get home safe and sound.

Navigating tenant rights and squatter laws:

A Rustenburg resident's predicament

Rustenburg – A story of excitement turned to frustration as a local woman diligently saved up for a deposit and the first month's rent, dreaming of a new beginning for herself and her children.

After careful budgeting, she discovered a pretty two-bedroom house with a welcoming yard, an ideal setting for her family's next chapter. With the deposit and first month's rent paid, keys in hand, she embarked on the moving process, packing her life into boxes with eager anticipation.

However, upon arrival at what was supposed to be her family's new sanctuary, she was met with an unexpected obstacle: the previous tenants had not vacated the property. Despite the landlord's efforts since October 2023, these occupants refused to leave, citing 'squatter laws' and claiming they had every right to remain.

Seeking clarity and assistance on this complex issue, Platinum Weekly consulted Van Velden – Duffey director Waldette Grey.

Grey provided invaluable insights into the legal landscape surrounding such disputes, offering a beacon of hope for those entangled in similar situations. For anyone navigating these troubled waters, Van Velden – Duffey stands ready to extend their expertise, ensuring that your rights are protected and your home secured.

SQUATTER LAW IN SOUTH AFRICA

Let's start with what the term 'squatter law' refers to. There is no act called the 'Squatters Act or Law' in South Africa. It is a term that is often used to describe the rights of illegal occupiers (squatters) not to be removed or evicted from residential or business premises without a court order to such effect. It basically means that an owner of residential or business property may not take the law into his/her own hands and forcefully remove illegal occupiers from the property.

An illegal occupier or squatter refers to any person or organisation occupying property when they have no legal right to do so. A few examples of this may be where people simply move into a property and refuse to leave, where people simply move onto vacant property, erect housing structures and start living there, or where a lease agreement between an owner and the tenants comes to an end or is legally cancelled, and the tenants refuse to leave the premises.

What are the rights of residential property owners?

Any owner stuck with illegal occupiers may evict them lawfully. Depending on the circumstances, different eviction laws in South Africa provide the legal process to be followed in each instance. Our advice is to always approach your attorney to assist you with an eviction because it is such a sensitive topic in our country. One could also approach the local Rental Housing Tribunal in your area to obtain an eviction order, which would have the same effect as if it were granted by a court. Once the eviction order has been obtained, the sheriff of the court will remove the illegal occupiers. Unfortunately, eviction orders aren't obtained overnight or even within a week. It often takes months to have illegal occupiers lawfully removed from your premises.

What are the rights of the new tenant?

In the scenario above, the new tenant who already signed a new lease agreement and paid a deposit and first month's rent in respect of the property, would not be able to take occupation of the premises. If the illegal occupiers still refuse to vacate, the owner of the property would be in breach of the new lease agreement as he would not be able to give occupation to the new tenant. Either the tenant or the owner would then have to cancel the new lease agreement. The new tenant would be entitled to claim back any money which was already paid in respect of the lease agreement.

GERMAN TOURIST'S TRUST LEADS TO TRAGIC END IN NORTHAM

WESTPHAL BRUTALLY TORTURED AND MURDERED

Northam/ Moruleng – In a shocking incident that has cast a shadow over South Africa's reputation as a tourist destination, a German visitor fell victim to a brutal crime that underscores the importance of vigilance and trust, especially in South Africa.

The incident, occurring in an election year, highlights the critical balance South Africa must maintain in ensuring the safety of tourists, who contribute significantly to the nation's economy.

Lieutenant general Thembi Hadebe, provincial commissioner of the South African Police Service (SAPS) in Limpopo, announced the swift arrest of three individuals connected to the heinous act. The suspects, aged between 24 and 46, are accused of assaulting and murdering 74-year-old Gunter Hermann Friedrich Westphal in Northam on Saturday night, 24 February 2024.

Gunter's journey began in Botswana on 23 February, crossing into South Africa with plans to explore the country. His fatal mistake was offering a lift to an unknown hitchhiker, who appeared friendly and in need of assistance.

This initial act of kindness led to a series of events culminating in tragedy.

After establishing a rapport, Gunter allowed the hitchhiker to drive. They stopped at a liquor store (in Moruleng), where they met two more individuals. The group then proceeded to what was supposed to be the hitchhiker's residence. Upon arrival, the tourist was restrained, assaulted, tortured, and coerced into revealing his bank PIN code. The assailants stole cash, valuables, and then proceeded to transport him to a remote area in Northam, where they murdered him and attempted to dispose of his body.

The crime was uncovered when security officials and a rural safety member, patrolling the area, noticed a suspicious, number plate-less vehicle. Their investigation led to the discovery of Gunter's body and the suspects' arrest, with evidence including the victim's belongings.

Lieutenant general Hadebe emphasised the betrayal of trust and the determination of the SAPS to secure a conviction. The suspects, identified as Abstain Madvimdo (24), Jan Thabonga Moshabi (35), and Thomas Moyo (36), have been charged with murder among other offenses.

As the community and the nation grapple with the implications of this crime, the focus remains on enhancing security measures and promoting a safe, welcoming environment for all tourists.

The investigation continues, with the police committed to uncovering all details of this appalling crime and ensuring justice for Gunter Hermann Friedrich Westphal.

The three suspects, identified as foreign nationals, were brought before the Northam Magistrates' Court on Monday 26 February 2024, facing several charges, with murder being the most serious among them.

Colonel Malesela Ledwaba provided an update on the proceedings, stating, "The court has ordered that they be held in police custody. The hearing for their case has been postponed to 4 March 2024, at which point they will have the opportunity to apply for bail."

Investigations continue.

The vehicle rented by Gunter Hermann Friedrich Westphal, the German tourist, for his journey across South Africa.

“I would never want you to look after me because that’s not your responsibility.”

Have you recently engaged in a phone call lasting more than an hour?

No, I keep my phone calls to a bare minimum. I don't think I have phone conversations lasting longer than five minutes – that's already too long!

Christina King

Yes, I enjoy talking on the phone with my boyfriend, hence the long phone calls.

PSALM 60

Urgent Prayer for the Restored Favor of God. To the Chief Musician. Set to “Lily of the Testimony.” A Michtam of David. For teaching. When he fought against Mesopotamia and Syria of Zobah, and Joab returned and killed twelve thousand Edomites in the Valley of Salt. 60 O God, You have cast us off; You have broken us down; You have been displeased; Oh, restore us again! 2 You have made the earth tremble; You have broken it; Heal its breaches, for it is shaking. 3 You have shown Your people hard things; You have made us drink the wine of confusion. 4 You have given a banner to those who fear You, That it may be displayed because of the truth. Selah 5 That Your beloved may be delivered, Save with Your right hand, and hear me. 6 God has spoken in His holiness: “I will rejoice; I will divide Shechem And measure out the Valley of Succoth.

YOUR FRIDAY FUN FACT

Did you know?

Voting rights: the heart of South Africa's democracy

Elections in South Africa are held for the national assembly, provincial legislatures, and municipal councils – following a five-year cycle – with national and provincial elections held simultaneously and municipal elections held two years later. South Africans of all races took part in the first fully democratic elections in 1994. Since then, the Constitutional Court has struck down two attempts by the government to deny the vote to convicted criminals in prison. The court has also ruled that South Africans living outside the country must be allowed to vote.

These decisions reinforce the importance of every vote in shaping our nation.

Weekend rugby: CASMAR Impalas' triumphs and trials

Rustenburg – It was an eventful Saturday on 24 February 2024 for the CASMAR Impala Rugby Club as they took on the Roodepoort Rugby Club, showcasing the depth and talent within their ranks. The club, known for its competitive spirit and strong community presence, saw its first team secure a victory with a score of 33-21, while the second team followed suit, winning 19-11. However, the under-21 team faced a narrow defeat, with a close 7-5 scoreline.

In a spirited display of rugby, the Impala Vixens, CASMAR's women's team, contested fiercely against the Rustenburg Rugby Academy, concluding the match with a tight score of 10-5 in favour of the academy. These matches were not just a test of strength and strategy but also a significant preparation for the upcoming challenges.

Looking ahead, the CASMAR Impala Rugby Club is set to participate in a knockout tournament held in Potchefstroom on the coming Saturdays of 2nd, 9th, and 16th March 2024. This tournament will see the first team striving to outperform their previous records, with the initial match against the Matlosana Rugby Academy. With eight teams in the fray, the competition promises to be fierce. Reflecting on the team's past performances and the road ahead, head coach Joe Engelbrecht expressed optimism and determination. "There are 8 teams participating, and we finished 4th last year, and the year before that, we won it," said Engelbrecht. His confidence in the team's abilities underscores a deep commitment to not only reclaiming their title but also to the continual growth and development of rugby talent within the club.

As the CASMAR Impala Rugby Club gears up for the Potchefstroom tournament, the spirit of camaraderie and competition is stronger than ever. With a blend of seasoned players and emerging talent, the CASMAR Impala Rugby Club is a testament to the vibrant rugby culture thriving in Rustenburg.

INAUGURAL BILL ROWAN THREE BRIDGES ULTRA MARATHON: a tribute to a running legend

Bill Rowan triumphed at the first Comrades Marathon in 1921.

Koster – The Koster Marathon Club proudly announced its annual Bill Rowan Three Bridges Ultra Marathon, set to take place on Sunday 21 April 2024. This event not only honours the legendary athlete Bill Rowan, but also serves as a qualifying race for the esteemed Comrades Marathon. The marathon will feature three distances: a 50km ultra marathon starting at 06:30, a 10km race beginning at 06:45, and a 5km fun run at 07:00. Athletes and enthusiasts are encouraged to mark their calendars and ensure their participation by registering before the online closing date on 19 April. On-site registration will be available on 20 April, for one day only. Registration fees are set at R350 for the 50km, R150 for the 10km, and R100 for the 5km. Participants can collect their race numbers at T&T Slaghuis, Derby. For more information or to enter the race, visit www.kostermarathonclub.co.za or contact 083 950 4230 or 078 488 7757.

Bill Rowan, the legacy behind the marathon

But who was Bill Rowan, and why does this marathon bear his name? A fascinating story submitted by a local reader, featuring old newspaper clippings, sheds light on this remarkable figure from Koster. On 24 May 1921, Bill Rowan, a farmer from Koster, made history by winning the first Comrades Marathon. A memorable story from that day involves a troop of boy scouts, including a 12-year-old Vernon Jones, who would go on to become a significant recorder of Comrades history. They witnessed Rowan, covered in dust and sweat, running alongside a convoy of motor vehicles — a rare sight in those days. Rowan's determination and his accurate prediction of finishing the race in nine hours, one minute ahead of his estimated time, left an indelible mark on the event's history.

The Bill Rowan medal, introduced in the year 2000 and named in his honour, commemorates his victory and the standard he set with a finishing time of 8hrs 59min. This medal represents the spirit of endurance, perseverance, and the rich history of the Comrades Marathon. The inaugural Bill Rowan Three Bridges Ultra Marathon is more than just a race; it's a celebration of a legacy, a testament to the enduring spirit of runners, and an invitation to be part of history. Join us in paying tribute to a local legend and making your mark in the world of long-distance running!
