Rustenburg – In an era of instant messaging and digital communication, the traditional postal service still holds a crucial place in the hearts and lives of many South Africans. It's not just about sending letters or parcels; it's about a lifeline for sending hard-earned money to loved ones, accessing social benefits like the South African Social Security Agency (SASSA) funds, and keeping the flame of long-distance relationships alive through handwritten letters. In the shadow of the SA Post Office's drastic move, with business rescue practitioners dispatching 4,700 retrenchment notices, the announcement of the Rustenburg CBD Post Office being "temporarily closed" raises eyebrows.

ALERT: CAUTION ADVISED ON HELEN JOSEPH BRIDGE FOLLOWING HIJACK ALERT

Rustenburg – A social media alert has raised concerns among Rustenburg residents after a local reported a near-hijack experience on the Helen Joseph Bridge. The alarming post was shared on a popular Rustenburg community page on Facebook on Friday 5 April 2024, urging fellow community members to exercise caution. Despite efforts by Platinum Weekly to contact the individual for further details and to better inform the public, the attempts remained unsuccessful.

In response to the incident, Platinum Weekly sought clarity from law enforcement authorities. Police spokesperson colonel Adele Myburgh confirmed that no formal hijack case related to the incident on Helen Joseph bridge had been reported to the police. However, colonel Myburgh emphasised the significance of safety precautions for motorists, especially during stops at traffic lights. "Please be cautious when driving. When you stop at the red light, be vigilant and ensure your windows are closed to minimise the risk of hijacking, particularly at night."

Stamping out tradition: from letters to layoffs

Rustenburg – In an era of instant messaging and digital communication, the traditional postal service still holds a crucial place in the hearts and lives of many South Africans. It's not just about sending letters or parcels; it's about a lifeline for sending hard-earned money to loved ones, accessing social benefits like the South African Social Security Agency (SASSA) funds, and keeping the flame of long-distance relationships alive through handwritten letters.

Ghost building

However, a recent visit by the Platinum Weekly newspaper to the post offices in Rustenburg's Central Business District reveals a sobering reality. The once-busy Rustenburg CBD Post Office in Loop Street stands temporarily closed, a casualty of a burglary and symbolic of a larger trend of closures and retrenchments nationwide. An anonymous postman shared, "The post office here has been closed since last year. Operations have moved to Tlhabane, but it's not just about relocating. It's about witnessing the end of an era."

4,700 Retrenchment letters sent

The SA Post Office's business rescue practitioners have begun sending out 4,700 retrenchment letters to staff who will lose their jobs. Louise Brugman, a Post Office Business Rescue practitioner told the Platinum Weekly that: "This closure is part of a nationwide scale-back that sees the South African Post Office (SAPO) grappling with massive retrenchments and reducing its branch network from 1,023 to 653 branches." Approximately 235 branches are closing, with the SAPO business rescue practitioners overseeing the redirection of parcels and mail, along with the auctioning of assets from the closed branches. The retrenchment process as determined by the Labour Relations Act was facilitated by the CCMA. Facilitations began on 4 January 2024 and were completed on 22

March 2024. The obligatory 60-day process was extended as further negotiations and input between the Employee Committee, the relevant unions and the Post Office were deemed appropriate. It was further agreed retrenchment payments would take place over 8 months in 4 payments. The company went into business rescue in July 2023 due to financial difficulties.

Additionally, regarding the recent cutbacks at the Post Offices, a postal worker disclosed, "In the Bojanala district alone, approximately 40 to 45 individuals is going to be laid off." The exact number of positions eliminated in Rustenburg remains uncertain at this time, but further details are expected to be revealed soon.

Stamped out...

Currently, the Tlhabane post office continues to serve the public, standing as a beacon of resilience amidst widespread closures. Unfortunately, the Zinniaville branch has shut its doors due to unresolved rental issues. The trend of closures is not new; Kroondal's post office ceased operations in 2022, followed by Koster's closure earlier this year. These abandoned facilities now face a significant challenge with vandalism, leaving them in disrepair.

Tragically, the aftermath of these closures has resulted in hundreds, if not thousands, of undelivered letters littering the premises, a symbol of the disrupted connections and communications within the community.

Community impact

The impact on the community is real. Skimpin Kube, a resident from Kanana, expressed his dismay upon finding the Rustenburg CBD Post Office closed, "It costs a lot to travel here, only to find it closed. I don't know what to do; I have no money left to go home." Similarly, Dillon James, another community member, recalls memories of sending letters to his grandmother through this particular post office, "This place looks forgotten."

Dillon James: reflecting on a bygone era at the closed Rustenburg Post Office, recalling childhood memories of sending hand-written letters to his grandmother, a testament to the fading tradition of postal communication.

Looking ahead

With closures, vandalism at abandoned buildings, and a national debate on the SAPO's "alleged" monopoly on certain services, the postal service's future is in question. (Earlier this year, communications minister Mondli Gungubele said he intends to review the South African Post Office's monopoly on certain services, including parcel deliveries under 1kg. Gungubele said he wished to consult the public in this regard and gave interested parties until Wednesday, 6 March 2024 to submit their comments.)

Who's next on the chopping block?

First, we said goodbye to the milkman. Now, it looks like the postman's not far behind. What's the next slice of our everyday life that's going to disappear? It makes you wonder about what we're losing in the name of "progress".

PAWS and reflect

Between the wild and the cage:
South Africa's lion industry at a turning point

The government's stance and report

- Legislation update: On April 3 2024, minister of Forestry, Fisheries and the Environment, Barbara Creasy released a report by the Ministerial Task Team on voluntary exit strategies from the captive lion industry, which has been approved by the Cabinet for implementation.
- Key concerns: The report likely addresses ethical concerns about animal welfare, the impact on conservation efforts, and the broader implications for South Africa's wildlife and international reputation.

Industry perspective

- Conservation and care: Those within the industry, such as the anonymous source who spoke to Platinum Weekly, argue that they provide care, meet dietary needs, and contribute to conservation by keeping lions that are vulnerable to extinction alive and well. Income derived from these 'captive' lions also contribute financially to the upkeep of other wildlife and nature conservation.
- Economic impact: The industry supports jobs and contributes to local economies through tourism and ancillary services on a much larger scale than people think.

Ethical and ecological considerations

- Vulnerability to extinction: The International Union for the Conservation of Nature (IUCN) lists lions as vulnerable to extinction.

- Illegal poaching and trade: The threat of poaching and illegal trade is significant, with some arguing that captivity provides a safer environment for lions.
- Ethical concerns about captivity: Critics argue that keeping lions in captivity for profit, under the guise of conservation, poses ethical questions, especially when involving practices like canned hunting.
- Trophy hunting: Dr. Craig Packer, one of the world's pre-eminent lion experts, has estimated that "80% of the lions left in the world are in the hunters' hands". Put another way, hunting concessions 'protect' many more lions than do national parks in Africa. In practice, in very few places in Africa does trophy hunting fulfil its conservation mandate. Too often, corruption in the awarding of hunting concessions means that it is wealthy interests with close ties to government officials who win the contracts rather than conservation-minded hunters.

The challenge lies in balancing economic realities with ethical and ecological considerations, aiming for a future where lions and other vulnerable species can thrive both in the wild and under human care, in ways that respect their wellbeing and ecological roles.

The question remains: Should we let nature run its course, risking lions to roam towards an uncertain fate, potentially demoting these majestic beings to mere memories captured in photographs and digital archives? Or do we embrace our stewardship, safeguarding their existence with intention and care, as duty and compassion dictate?

Ofentse Jerimiah More
Farmer

This isn't a story, it's a journey.

I'm Ofentse Jerimiah More, a farmer from Bethanie village in the North West. Before Glencore and Agri-SETA, I worked the land, but a year of intensive training changed my trajectory. Through Glencore's collaboration with Agri-SETA, I unlocked a treasure trove of knowledge. The art of mixing fertilisers, forming farmer alliances, and gaining financial access became my toolkit for success.

Today, I specialise in wheat, soybeans, sunflowers, and even livestock. As the winter wheat sprouts, I tend to its growth, applying top dressing with care. Yet my vision extends far beyond the fields. I dream of a comprehensive school that nurtures young minds in hands-on skills from carpentry to agriculture.

This journey isn't mine alone; it's the pulse of a community empowered. Through Glencore and Agri-SETA, I stand prepared to face the future – one of expansiveness, thriving land, and knowledge shared.

Thank you, Glencore, for cultivating not just crops but a better tomorrow.

Progress. Together.

BUS CARRYING RUSTENBURG LEARNERS CRASHES NEAR HOPETOWN

Rustenburg – A bus carrying learners and teachers from the North West province met with an accident on Sunday 7 April 2024, while they were traveling to an athletics event. The incident occurred approximately 60 kilometres from Hopetown, along the route to Kimberley. The North West Department of Education has confirmed that the bus was transporting 37 learners and two teachers from the North West province. They were returning from the Secondary School Track and Field Athletics event held in the Western Cape. Fortunately, there have been no fatalities reported. However, one teacher has been hospitalised in Kimberley with serious injuries sustained in the accident. Chris Scott, the headmaster of Oom Paul School of Skills in Rustenburg, expressed his relief and gratitude that all his learners and staff involved are safe. "Oom Paul School is very grateful that our children and staff are safe after being involved in a bus accident. We pray and trust that the injured will recover soon and completely," he said. The local community and the families of the students and teachers involved have been rallying support for those affected. The North West Department of Education is currently coordinating with local authorities and the school to ensure that all necessary assistance is provided to the injured teacher and the students who experienced this traumatic event.

The aftermath of the bus accident involving Rustenburg learners en route to an athletics event, captured moments after emergency services arrived.

OPERATION SHANELA YIELDS OVER 1,000 ARRESTS IN 7 DAYS

NW – In a sweeping crackdown against crime, North West police, in collaboration with various law enforcement bodies, have successfully executed Operation Shanela. This intensive week-long operation, spanning from 1 to 7 April 2024, has resulted in the arrest of 1,011 suspects involved in a wide array of criminal activities. Brigadier Sabata Mokgwabone detailed: “The operation targeted individuals involved in serious crimes, including aggravated robbery, murder, attempted murder, and assault with the intent to inflict grievous bodily harm. Additionally, offenses such as drug dealing, illegal liquor trade, drug possession, burglary, and driving under the influence have been addressed.”

The operation was not only focused on apprehending suspects actively engaged in criminal activities but also aimed at locating and arresting those with outstanding warrants. "Of the 1,011 arrested, 392 were wanted individuals, successfully captured through targeted detective-led raids," brigadier Mokgwabone added.

The scale of Operation Shanela's reach and its achievements are noteworthy. Throughout the operation, 128 premises were searched, along with 2,523 individuals and 1,270 vehicles. These efforts led to the seizure of a considerable amount of contraband, including alcohol, precious metals, cellular phones, various drugs, seven firearms, copper cables, and two vehicles.

ILLEGAL MINING OPERATION UNCOVERED IN HARTBEESPOORT

Hartbeespoort Dam – In a crackdown on illegal mining, a coordinated operation named ‘Vala Umgodi’ unfolded in Hartbeespoort on Wednesday 3 April 2024. Spearheaded by a coalition of forces, including units from the South African Police Service (SAPS) and the South African National Defence Force (SANDF), the operation led to the arrest of six individuals and the seizure of a significant cache of unauthorised mining equipment. Brigadier Sabata Mokgwabone has revealed the operation’s success stems from a unified effort to clamp down on illegal mining activities that have long plagued the region. The suspects were apprehended for various offenses, notably contravention of the Immigration Act, 2002, highlighting the multifaceted approach of the operation.

Among the arrested, four suspects — originating from Zimbabwe, Mozambique, and Malawi — were detained and subsequently appeared before the Brits Magistrates' Court on Friday 5 April 2024. They are scheduled for a plea hearing on Tuesday 23 April and Thursday 25 April 2024. Another individual, also from Mozambique, faces charges under the same act and awaits further court proceedings on 12 May 2024.

Lieutenant general Sello Kwenja, the North West provincial commissioner, commended the collective efforts of all parties involved.

The operation's haul included 28 phenduka machines, five gas cylinders, two cutting torches, a generator, six hammers, a water pump, 78 bags of gold-bearing material, a jack hammer, and various other items used in illicit mining operations. This seizure not only underscores the scale of the operation but also the commitment of law enforcement agencies to curb the environmental and economic impacts of illegal mining.

Rustenburg Crime Combatting Forum: GUARDIANS OF THE NIGHT

The Rustenburg Crime
Combatting Forum team

Rustenburg – When night falls over the city, a dedicated group of volunteers takes to the streets, ensuring the safety and peace of the community. They are the Rustenburg Crime Combatting Forum (RCCF), a beacon of hope and security in the shadow of the night. With their vigilant patrols and unwavering commitment, they allow residents to sleep soundly, knowing that someone is always on the lookout.

RCCF collaborates effectively with other neighbourhood watches, fostering cooperation and extending their heartfelt thanks to all involved.

A commitment to safety

At the helm of RCCF is chairperson Kobus Ferreira, who speaks with pride about the team's mission. "The services that RCCF provides are completely free," Ferreira states. "I cannot express enough gratitude to our team for the exceptional services delivered to the community. We urge everyone to remain alert and report any suspicious activity to our administrators. A heartfelt thank you to all who have contributed to keeping our city safe."

In times of need

For emergencies, the RCCF has set up a direct line to their dedicated admin, Ansie Pretorius, who manages the emergency phone 24/7 out of sheer dedication to the cause.

- Emergency contact: Ansie Pretorius at 074 327 3041
- Chairperson: Kobus Ferreira at 079 522 7708
- Vice-chairperson: Dawid Fourie at 082 556 1648

The backbone of RCCF

The forum operates as a non-profit company (NPC), relying on the generosity of its members and the community for support. They boast a small but formidable team of volunteers who balance their day jobs with their commitment to community safety. Despite their limited numbers and resources, they make a significant impact, assisted by local security companies and the South African Police Service (SAPS) in times when direct intervention is needed.

The emergency line, operated through a dedicated contract phone, requires funding to maintain its essential service. Thankfully, Evotel has generously provided sponsorship, not only supporting us with a fibre data line but also supplying name boards at no cost for all our members to display at their homes or businesses, enhancing our visibility and presence within the community. We express our profound gratitude to Evotel for their invaluable support.

A community effort

RCCF is more than a neighbourhood watch; it's a testament to what can be achieved when a community comes together for a common cause. Operating within the law's confines, RCCF serves as the eyes and ears for SAPS, playing a critical role in maintaining order and safety in Rustenburg.

Reporting an emergency

In case of an emergency, residents are encouraged to:

- Call an admin directly, using the provided contact numbers.
- Share as much information as possible, either over the phone or through WhatsApp.
- The RCCF team will coordinate with security companies and SAPS to ensure a swift and effective response.

RCCF greetings

The Rustenburg Crime Combatting Forum extends its deepest gratitude to all who support their mission. Through collaboration and vigilance, they remain dedicated to making Rustenburg a safer place for everyone.

Yard theft alarms

[letter to the editor]

Rustenburg – I’ve noticed something weird. People in town are all over Facebook moaning about their stuff getting stolen right out of their yards. Totally get it — it stinks to have your stuff taken after you’ve worked hard to get it. But let’s be real for a sec: at least these sneaky thieves are just swiping stuff from the yard and not barging into our houses, right? Kinda makes you weirdly thankful in a twisted way.

But here’s what’s really got me scratching my head. Why is everyone airing their dirty laundry on Facebook about this? It’s like yelling, “Hey, come check out my yard, you might find something cool to take!” If a thief peeks over your fence and spots a bike or something else just chilling there, it’s practically an invite. We’re in South Africa, guys! If it’s precious to you, maybe don’t leave it out for the taking.

And then there’s the thing about leaving tools out. Like, hammers, screwdrivers, or even a panga if you’ve been chopping stuff in the yard. Leaving this stuff out isn’t just careless; it’s dangerous. These things can turn into weapons against you. The cops keep saying this, but it seems like it’s not sinking in. The bad guys won’t walk around with weapons — they’ll just pick up what you’ve left out for them. So, how about we all take a bit more care? Light up your yards so you can actually see what’s happening out there. It’s about being a bit smarter. #TakeCare!

Struggling to tell eagles, hawks, and falcons apart?

Neil Cillié with Ovambo Sparrowhawk

The Juvenile African Goshawk

Rustenburg – Have you ever found yourself gazing skywards, perplexed by the majestic flight of raptors, yet puzzled at your inability to tell apart eagles, hawks, and falcons? You’re not alone. These predators, defined by their keen hunting skills during the daylight, boast characteristics that awe and confuse in equal measure.

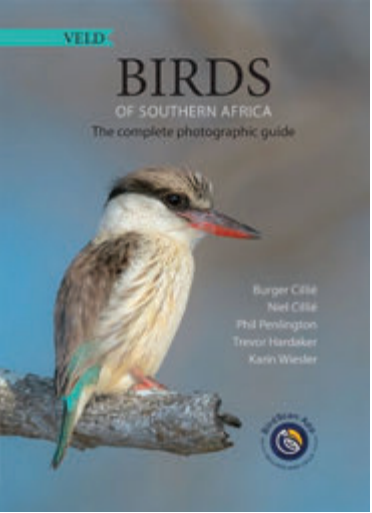

With their robust, hooked beaks, formidable talons, and expressions that exude dominance, raptors embody the wild’s unbridled essence. However, the real challenge lies in their identification, complicated by the myriad of juveniles, morphs, and species that include eagles, hawks, buzzards, harriers, kites, falcons, vultures, and even the unique Secretarybird.

This month, BirdLife Rustenburg shines a spotlight on the art of distinguishing these majestic birds, with a special emphasis on accipiters. Neil Cillié, a name synonymous with raptor expertise, particularly the Ayres’s Hawk-Eagle, will lead this month’s gathering. Cillié, whose initial fascination began at the University of Pretoria, has since evolved into a revered figure in raptor study. His journey into the realm of these birds of prey around 2010 has established him as a beacon of knowledge in South Africa’s ornithological circles. Through his lens and words, he has co-authored insightful publications, enriching the birdwatching community’s understanding and appreciation of these avian predators.

The upcoming BirdLife Rustenburg meeting promises an evening of learning and discovery. Scheduled for Monday 15 April 2024 at the Methodist Church located at the corner of Brink and Schuurman Streets, Rustenburg, the event begins at 18:30. It’s an open invitation to both members and enthusiasts yet to join, with a nominal fee of R30 for non-members. For more information, reach out to Charles Foot at 073 452 3874.

Niel Cillié co-authored and took many of the photographs in this book.

SUPPORT OUR YOUNG ADULTS' TRANSITION TO INDEPENDENCE Fundraiser

Dear Community,

It's with a mix of pride and urgency that we share with you a significant milestone at Lighthouse. Our first cohort of children is on the brink of adulthood, with several turning 18 this year. As they reach this pivotal stage in their lives, it's imperative that we provide them with the necessary tools and opportunities to transition into independent, responsible young adults.

To address this pressing need, we want to purchase an additional house adjacent to our existing facility. This new residence will serve as a transitional home for our young adults as they prepare to leave our care and transition into independent living. Here, they will have the opportunity to learn essential life skills, assume responsibilities, and gradually ease into adulthood under our guidance and support.

However, to make this vision a reality, we urgently need to raise R700,000 to acquire the new property and make necessary preparations for its use. With children turning 18 every year starting from 2024, the need for this transitional housing becomes increasingly urgent.

We humbly appeal to your generosity and compassion to support us in this endeavor. We are pleased to offer a Section 18A tax clearance certificate for your donation, providing you with the added benefit of tax deductions.

Thank you for considering our plea and for your unwavering support of our mission. Together, we can empower these young adults to reach their full potential and thrive in the years ahead.

Rustenburg's Louis Meintjes triumphs in Itzulia Basque Country

Rustenburg – Rustenburg's pride, Louis Meintjes, a professional road racing cyclist, has clinched a remarkable victory in Stage 4 of the Itzulia Basque Country race, showcasing his skill and determination. Riding for the Intermarché-Wanty team, Meintjes' success came through a daring solo breakaway, making his hometown and country incredibly proud.

The race, a part of the prestigious WorldTour calendar, took place in the scenic yet challenging terrains of the Basque Country, starting on Monday 1 April and concluding on Saturday 6 April. The event is renowned for its short, mountainous stages that test the mettle of cyclists from around the world.

Meintjes' victory was, however, tinged with concern as a major crash on a sweeping right-hand bend dramatically affected the race dynamics, neutralising the peloton and impacting many pre-race favourites with about 36km remaining. The incident has stirred conversations about rider safety, overshadowing the competitive spirit momentarily.

Speaking to Platinum Weekly, Johannes Meintjes, Louis' father, expressed immense pride in his son's achievements. "We are so proud of our son," he stated, reflecting on Louis' journey from graduating Bergsig Academy in 2010 to competing professionally for 12 years.

Louis himself shared his feelings about the race, highlighting his preparedness and ambition. "I had a good feeling throughout the day and felt ready to fight for the stage victory," he commented. "My thoughts go out to all riders involved in the crash. I wish them a speedy recovery."

Wearing the mountain jersey in the coming days will serve as added motivation for Meintjes as he sets his sights on the upcoming Tour de Romandie in Switzerland, a 6-day race taking place from 23 to 28 April 2024.

As Louis Meintjes prepares for his next challenge, his story continues to inspire many in Rustenburg and beyond, highlighting the resilience and passion that define the world of professional cycling.

Did you know that lions, once widespread across the Middle East and Asia, now roam solely in Africa and India's Gir Forest? With their numbers dwindling to below 25,000, the International Union for the Conservation of Nature (IUCN) categorises them as vulnerable to extinction. This classification underscores the importance of protecting these majestic creatures to ensure their survival. Alarmingly, in certain African regions, lions face a more dire status of "critically endangered," as their populations continue to decline rapidly. The conservation of lions is vital for maintaining biodiversity and ecological balance.

Bill Rowan, the legacy behind the marathon

But who was Bill Rowan, and why does this marathon bear his name? A fascinating story submitted by a local reader, featuring old newspaper clippings, sheds light on this remarkable figure from Koster. On 24 May 1921, Bill Rowan, a farmer from Koster, made history by winning the first Comrades Marathon. A memorable story from that day involves a troop of boy scouts, including a 12-year-old Vernon Jones, who would go on to become a significant recorder of Comrades history. They witnessed Rowan, covered in dust and sweat, running alongside a convoy of motor vehicles — a rare sight in those days. Rowan's determination and his accurate prediction of finishing the race in nine hours, one minute ahead of his estimated time, left an indelible mark on the event's history.

The Bill Rowan medal, introduced in the year 2000 and named in his honour, commemorates his victory and the standard he set with a finishing time of 8hrs 59min. This medal represents the spirit of endurance, perseverance, and the rich history of the Comrades Marathon. The inaugural Bill Rowan Three Bridges Ultra Marathon is more than just a race; it's a celebration of a legacy, a testament to the enduring spirit of runners, and an invitation to be part of history. Join us in paying tribute to a local legend and making your mark in the world of long-distance running!

Participants of Tokon Shotokan Karate at the Afro/Asia World Union of Karate-Do Federations (WUKF) Karate World Championships.

Rustenburg's finest karate champions triumph WUKF

President of South Africa, Cyril Ramaphosa, shares a moment with Tanu Zepe, illustrating the national pride in our karate champions.

Rustenburg – In a display of skill and discipline, the TSKKIA All Styles Federation, with clubs from across South Africa including Rustenburg, Mooiooi, Polokwane, Cape Town, Ellisras, Pretoria, and Lydenburg, sent competitors to participate in the prestigious Afro/Asia World Union of Karate-Do Federations (WUKF) Karate World Championships, held in Port Elizabeth from 22 to 24 March 2024.

Kancho Albert is the founder and head instructor of the Tokon Shotokan Karate A/C International, and of the Traditional Styles Known Knowledge in Action (TSKKIA) Federation.

Venter expressed his pride in the performance and spirit of the competitors. "I am super proud of Rustenburg and the entire TSKKIA All Styles Federation," he stated, highlighting the success of the participants in a competition that drew over 1,500 competitors from across Africa, Asia, Scotland, America, England, France, and various smaller countries, along with 25 local federations.

The event, recognised for its international stature, was hosted by the World Union of Karate-Do Federations (WUKF) International. It provided a platform for athletes to showcase their talents against a backdrop of global competition. "We did extremely well and in one single action we not only showcased our talented students but also reaffirmed that we are one of the largest federations in South Africa," Venter added.

Athletes from the TSKKIA federation excelled across all divisions, with remarkable performances from students aged 6 to 12 and inclusive students who took home the first gold medals. The competition was fierce, with many participants facing international opponents for the first time. However, they demonstrated resilience and skill, winning their fights convincingly.

The support from coaches, instructors, parents, and family members was fundamental, ensuring that the competitors were prepared and poised for success. Venter praised the organisation and execution of the WUKF championships, noting it as a standout event that hasn't been seen in South Africa for many years. "WUKF impressed me. And I am truly happy with the way in which the competition was organised and executed," he said. This sentiment was echoed by representatives of WUKF International, who lauded South Africa as a "shining example" of excellence.

The TSKKIA federation's success was quantifiable, with the Rustenburg students securing 8 gold, 5 silver, and 9 bronze medals. Ranking 4th in the Afro-Asia Ranking, the federation boasted 8 Afro-Asia Champions out of the 78 TSKKIA Tokon Shotokan competitors. With over 700 participants in total at the event, this achievement underscores the federation's prominence and skill level.

For more information on the TSKKIA All Styles Federation and its programmes, contact their headquarters at 0824631073 or visit their website at www.tskkia.co.za.
