Rustenburg — A violent Cash-in-Transit (CIT) robbery erupted outside KwikSave Fresh and Frozen in Fatima Bhayat Street, CBD Rustenburg, early Wednesday morning, 19 November 2025 — leaving one suspect dead.

What began as a routine cash collection turned into a dramatic street confrontation at around 07:00, when armed suspects ambushed two security officers carrying out their daily rounds.

According to the Hawks and SAPS, three suspects targeted the security official who had just collected cash. Armed, aggressive and intent on a fast grab, they disarmed him and seized the money — an undisclosed amount — before chaos unfolded.

Shot, then self-inflicted fatal wound

In the heat of the robbery, the second security officer — who remained inside the cash van — opened fire, hitting one of the suspects in the waist. As he staggered away, the injured suspect shot twice toward the cash van, then turned the gun on himself, dying on the scene before emergency services arrived.

Suspects fled with cash

The remaining suspects fled on foot with the cash bag after abandoning their blue SUV. A major police manhunt is now underway.

Brigadier Mamotsamai Ntoagae, acting Bojanala Platinum Sub-District 2 commissioner, called the robbery a “brazen act that put innocent lives at risk”.

Closed medical schemes

The foundation of good health for SA's miners

Dr Mel Mentz, Chief Operations Officer at Platinum Health Medical Scheme

The mining industry exposes mine workers to a myriad of on-site dangers and occupational diseases. This is why having a medical scheme and healthcare service provider that focuses entirely on the unique healthcare needs of mine workers can make all the difference when it counts. Closed medical schemes are often better placed to meet the specific needs of their members, particularly when services are integrated with primary care and occupational health. In a closed scheme there's typically a better understanding of the needs of a defined group, so you can tailor the benefits to meet the needs of the members. A closed scheme that also offers primary care and occupational health is better positioned to understand the patient's full history, the environment they work in, and the risks associated with poor control of chronic conditions. In the mining industry, for example, there may be a higher incidence of TB, occupational lung diseases or allergies to platinum salts. Where a GP in an urban area might not automatically refer a patient for x-rays for a cough, medical practitioners serving mine workers specifically will be very familiar with the symptoms of these occupational diseases and will screen for them.

Screening for early diagnosis

A closed medical scheme offering occupational health services makes periodic screenings compulsory. This gives the scheme an opportunity for early detection, diagnosis and treatment. With a full, compulsory occupational health assessment, we check vitals, blood pressure, cholesterol, blood glucose, urine, hearing and lung function, do a chest x-ray and offer HIV screening. Depending on the patient's risk profile, we might also include a heat tolerance test to determine the patient's fitness to work underground. This battery of tests allows the medical scheme to detect a number of occupational conditions, non-communicable and/or communicable diseases at an early stage and refer patients for an appropriate treatment. Early screening, early detection and early intervention not only improves patient outcomes – it also improves mine safety and productivity. When somebody's got a problem, it's easier for us to identify it quickly, start intervention or even engage with the relevant stakeholders in the mines.

These interventions might include identifying alcohol and drug abuse and linking the patient to the appropriate mental health support; or engaging the occupational health practitioner to ensure patients being treated for cancer are not exposed to conditions their bodies can't cope with. We're trying to prevent long-term complications through early detection, and by monitoring compliance with prescribed treatment. When primary care, occupational health and medical scheme services are integrated, you achieve a single view of the patient. That offers huge benefits.

Integrated health and wellness

Closed medical schemes that partner with employers on wellness programmes are also well positioned to improve the health of workforces. Platinum Health's HIV awareness programmes, screening, treatment and support are a good example: We drove our HIV programmes for many years, and we have made good progress. 95% of all our members know their HIV status, with approximately 11,500 who are on treatment.

In-house resources, channel model to control costs

A key advantage of a closed scheme with a Staff Model Health Maintenance Organisation (HMO) model is that costs of health service delivery can be better managed. Where the closed scheme appoints its own general practitioners, dentists, psychologists, optometrists, radiographers, physiotherapists and audiologists, and manages its own pharmacies, clinics and hospitals, it can optimise cost efficiencies. Closed schemes with a focus on primary healthcare, screening and careful management of chronic conditions can also better manage costs and improve patient outcomes. We see that more and more of our members are realising the benefits of having a medical scheme and registering their dependants so that they can enjoy better healthcare. Benefits like maternity cover are a huge advantage to the members if they intend to have a family.

MIDNIGHT FARM ATTACKERS FLEE AFTER DOGS SOUND THE ALARM

Rustenburg – A peaceful Monday night turned chaotic for a local family on the Dinie Estates Road, just outside Rustenburg, when five armed criminals attempted to force their way into a farmhouse just before midnight on Monday 10 November 2025.

At 23:53, while the rest of the household slept, the 71-year-old homeowner had just switched off the TV when he heard a strange noise at the front door.

"The security gate was closed, but the key was still in the lock. I heard them cutting at the gate, saw a shadow, and then a hand came in to grab the key. He had already unlocked it... so I grabbed his hand, got the key back, pushed them out, locked the door and ran to the bedroom," he recalls. "There's no time to look at faces — you watch their hands and their weapons."

According to the footage, two suspects were at the front door, while three tried to force entry at the back. One carried a panga, another a bolt cutter, and one at the rear appeared to be holding a firearm. What ultimately sent the attackers fleeing were the dogs — barking furiously from inside the house. In the video, one suspect can even be heard muttering "Eish!" as they retreat into the darkness.

The family immediately phoned their son, the police, and security. "Our son arrived very quickly," the victim says. Thankfully, no injuries were reported.

The homeowners warn residents in Arnoldstad, Dinie Estates, Kroondal and the R24 area to remain vigilant.

Our Ward Matters cleans, cares and connects

Rustenburg – From clearing riverside grass to delivering Christmas presents, Our Ward Matters (OWM) once again showed that real community transformation comes from teamwork, consistency, and heart. Even with rain slowing them down, the volunteers — led by André van Dyk and Cllr Tanya Rothman, with support from the EPWP team — spent the week bringing visible change to Wards 16 and 17. Every week, OWM proves one thing: when people care, hope becomes visible.

Spreading Christmas Joy | The OWM Cares team had the privilege of delivering Christmas gifts to Emmanuel Sorg NPC, bringing early festive cheer to children and caregivers. Along with the presents, residents donated clothing, stationery, and household essentials — a reminder of what Rustenburg's kindness can achieve. The handover was done by Ilse du Preez, Jonas Mokhini, and André van Dyk, alongside Cllr Tanya Rothman.

Rivers Area Clean-Up Update | Over two busy days, Cllr Tanya Rothman led and supervised a large-scale clean-up across the Rivers area with the OWM team:

- Grass cut and removed along Krokodilrivier, from House 89 to Rockridge View and Little Margate.
- Skip arranged through RLM Waste Dept and fully loaded.
- Cutting continued behind homes into Palalarivier.
- One team member worked in Usuturivier.
- Others cleared the open veld and moved to Watervalrivier, where they debushed, cut grass, and cleaned storm drains.

OWM is appealing to residents: Please consider donating towards petrol, tools, brushcutter line, oil, extra wages, and the replacement of two worn-out brushcutters. Every contribution helps keep our wards safer, cleaner, and beautiful.

Donation Drive | The spirit of giving continued as Ronel Peyper and Ilse du Preez delivered books, clothing, and household items to:

- Senior Lifestyle Centre
- Huis Sering Old Age Home (Kock Street)
- Ons Winkel Rustenburg – books and clothing

HUSBAND MISSING AS SEARCH INTENSIFIES AFTER BRUTAL MURDER

Rustenburg/ Phokeng – The Phokeng community has been left shaken by new developments in the murder investigation of a 27-year-old woman found dead in her home in Punodung (Phokeng) on Sunday evening, 16 November 2025. Police spokesperson sergeant Ofentse Mokgadi confirmed that late on Tuesday night, 18 November 2025, police recovered the missing husband's white Nissan NP300 bakkie in Luka, near Leragana Dam. Despite this breakthrough, there is still no sign of the husband, and his whereabouts remain unknown. Specialised police units and multiple stakeholders spent the day combing the area around the dam, making use of advanced search equipment as the hunt intensifies. The tragic case began when police responded to a complaint and were met with a horrific scene. Inside the victim's main bedroom, officers found the young woman lying on her back with severe head injuries, including open wounds. The house was in disarray, and investigators recovered a broken bottle with bloodstains as well as a container containing an unknown substance. An autopsy will determine the exact cause of death, while the murder weapon has yet to be identified. Police are urgently appealing to anyone who may know the husband's whereabouts – or who may have information that could assist the investigation – to come forward. Members of the public can contact detective sergeant Sindisa Seshabela on 076 834 4164 or reach out to their nearest police station.

| GUMBI CASE UPDATE

Third accused edges closer to bail ruling

Rustenburg – The pursuit of justice in the murder of well-known businessman Ben Gumbi (50) continues, with the third suspect in the case now heading back to court for the next crucial step in his bail proceedings. The National Prosecuting Authority (NPA), through its North West spokesperson Sivenathi Gunya, confirmed that the third accused — Zimele Mntuyazi Nkwanyana (37) — will return to the Rustenburg Magistrate's Court on 2 December 2025 for closing arguments in his bail application. Nkwanyana was arrested in Port Shepstone, KwaZulu-Natal, and first appeared on 10 October 2025, with a follow-up appearance on 17 October for the formal bail application. His case forms part of the wider investigation into Gumbi's murder in August 2023.

This development follows the sentencing of the two main perpetrators, Sibongiseni Ngubane (33) and Thabani Lethukuthula Gwala (30), who were handed life imprisonment for murder and an additional 15 years for possession of an unlicensed firearm — sentences that will run concurrently. Gumbi was tragically gunned down outside a Rustenburg coffee shop after stepping out to take a phone call while his wife remained inside their vehicle. Swift investigation, surveillance footage and fingerprint evidence helped link the killers to the crime. The NPA previously described the murder as “brutal, violent, and callous,” with director of Public Prosecutions Dr Rachel Makhari praising the prosecution team for their dedication.

Rustenburg — Rustenburg's tourism and hospitality heartbeat was strong and steady on Wednesday, 12 November 2025, when Rustenburg Accommodation, Tourism and Adventure hosted its highly successful Supplier Exhibition.

The event brought together business owners, managers, students, travel agents, tour operators, tourism associations, and industry buyers — all under one roof, all eager to connect. The result? A day filled with energy, ideas, collaboration, and inspiration.

The exhibition created the perfect platform for suppliers to showcase their products and services. Stalls offered everything from guesthouse linen, restaurant cleaning supplies, handcrafted jewellery, fashion and décor, to wellness services from professional masseuses and even locally distilled alcohol. Travel agents and tour operators also explored new tourism packages designed to spotlight Rustenburg's unique offerings.

"This opportunity has been incredible for networking. I reconnected with many businesses I previously worked with, making it a truly valuable experience," said Ons Dorphuis Guesthouse duty manager, Austin Opperman.

Rustenburg Local Municipality's sector co-ordinator in Agriculture, Kgotsso Genge, praised the impact of the exhibition: "This exhibition has truly showcased the strength of our tourism and hospitality sector. It created meaningful connections, opened doors for future collaborations, and highlighted the incredible potential within our local businesses."

Seeing our suppliers, artisans, and service providers come together to showcase their talents is truly inspiring. Events like these strengthen our industry, build valuable partnerships, and highlight the incredible potential our region has to offer."

With powerful networking, renewed partnerships, and fresh opportunities sparked throughout the day, the Supplier Exhibition proved to be a milestone event for Rustenburg's ever-growing tourism landscape.

Rustenburg – On Saturday 8 November 2025, local athlete and proud member of Run/Walk for Life Rustenburg made a mark on one of South Africa's most thrilling running events. Sani Stagger Down Run – the 21.1 km route beginning at the Lesotho border and finishing at the foothills of Sani Pass – offered daring athletes a bucket-list challenge: they were driven up the pass in a 4x4 and then ran 21.1 km down the mountain. HAVE YOUR SAY

Have you ever sat in a court of law — as a witness, spectator, or supporter?

Court proceedings are open to the public, yet few have experienced the intensity of justice unfolding firsthand. Whether attending for civic interest, family support, or personal involvement, such moments can be eye-opening. Share your experience — have you ever witnessed a case in action?

"No, I haven't — not yet. But if I ever do, I'll do my best to assist the court to the best of my ability."

Michelle van Wyk, Rustenburg

"Yes, I've sat in court several times for family support and personal matters. What I've learned is that the law takes time — it listens to both sides before finding a solution. It can be draining with date after date, but when you know you're standing for what's right, you stay patient. I had a good outcome because I followed every instruction. It worked 100% for me."

Lesedi Mampone, Rustenburg

 FUN FACT

Did you know?

Ever noticed someone take a shot, put the glass down, and give it two taps? It's more than a quirky habit — it traces back to old traditions. In many cultures, tapping the glass on the counter is a way of honouring absent friends or showing gratitude for the drink. Others say it's a final "cheers" to the group or a gesture of respect to the host. Some even believe it began as a way to prove the drink wasn't poisoned! Whatever the reason, the double-tap has become a small ritual that keeps old traditions alive.
