RUMOUR BUSTED

Kgaswane Nature Reserve is not being privatised

Platinum Weekly newspaper | Rustenburg – Last week, Platinum Weekly reported on public outcry over massive – and in some cases extreme – tariff hikes proposed for North West provincial nature reserves, raising concerns about access, affordability, and the future of local tourism.

The Democratic Alliance (DA) in the North West has slammed what it calls "extreme and irrational" increases announced by the North West Parks and Tourism Board (NWPTB), set to take effect on 1 December 2025. The DA also questioned the timing, given that MEC Lenkopane recently announced a R400 million investment into biodiversity management and infrastructure upgrades.

Amid this controversy, a new rumour surfaced on social media claiming that Rustenburg Local Municipality (RLM) intended to privatise the Kgaswane Nature Reserve.

To verify the claim, Platinum Weekly reached out to Rustenburg Local Municipality (RLM) on Monday, 1 December 2025. RLM's acting communications manager, Odirile Madiba, provided the following official response: "The municipality has not privatised any nature reserve. We currently do not have any vacant/open land that is being sold for developing a nature reserve. The Kgaswane Nature Reserve falls within the mandate of the North West Parks and Tourism Board."

Representatives from Kgaswane Nature Reserve confirmed the same. No – the rumour is not true. Kgaswane remains publicly protected land under the custodianship of the North West Parks and Tourism Board.

SAPS puts the brakes on drunken driving in Rustenburg

Platinum Weekly newspaper | Rustenburg - The South African Police Service (SAPS), working hand in hand with the Provincial Traffic Police and supported by dedicated Community Policing Forum (CPF) members, carried out a series of late-night vehicle control points on Saturday, 29 November 2025. - 21 for driving under the influence of alcohol
- 4 for drug-related offences
- 14 for liquor-related offences

What this year taught us — and why HOPE still wins

Together, we turn the page on 2025.

I was born and raised in Rustenburg — a true, lifelong Rustenburger. I have watched our city grow, shift, struggle and rise again. I love this place deeply, but with that love comes concern, because the reality we face today is not the Rustenburg of years gone by. We are navigating some of the toughest social challenges our community has ever seen.

Before I speak about anything else, I want to say

Every call we receive... every WhatsApp... every inbox message... becomes a note. That note becomes an article. That article becomes awareness.

Thank you for trusting us with your stories — your fears, frustrations, victories, heartbreaks, and hopes. You guide our reporting. You shape our content. You help us shine a light where light is desperately needed.

Facing the reality of crime together

And awareness becomes action.

I love telling stories of hope and kindness. But honesty is also an act of love, and our truth here in Rustenburg is this:

Criminals are gaining more and more ground in our city and surrounds. We are facing violent crime. It is not "someone stole a handbag." It is "someone was severely assaulted and their handbag or cellphone taken". It includes first time offenders, perhaps desperate individuals — who turn to crime. It is rape.

It is murder

It is organised crime where businesses are brought to their knees because of the theft or where victims sometimes loose the majority of their earthly possessions.

Very often, in the rural areas surrounding our city, the only barrier between life and death is the fact that the people staying on smallholdings and farms are well organised and armed and able to chase intruders away.

These are harsh words — but they must be said plainly. Silence will not save us.

Truth, unity, and collective action might.

To those who stand between danger and safety From the bottom of my heart, thank you to the Rustenburg Crime Combating Forum (RCCF) and every Community Policing Forum (CPF) team serving our neighbourhoods. After long workdays, you still choose to patrol at night — using your own fuel, your own time, your own vehicles. Your courage protects countless families who may never know your names.

We honour our SAPS officers too, who continue working despite overwhelming pressure and severe understaffing. My hope is that one day our police force will receive the resources and reinforcement it desperately needs.

And we must speak honestly about another harsh reality: crime pays. Recent legislation and the way South African law is applied in our courts consistently favours the accused, often leaving victims with little real protection or recourse. Criminals know how to exploit these legal safeguards and procedural loopholes, while victims have seen their rights and their power steadily eroded over the past few years. A suspect can be arrested today, is immediately released on bail for a shockingly low amount... and two years later, the case is still being postponed in the court.

Justice delayed is justice denied.

Rustenburg deserves better.

Honouring our emergency service providers My profound thanks also goes to the Rustenburg First Responders, ambulance teams, emergency services, and medical professionals who rush toward danger when others run from it. This year brought moments where life hung in the balance, and you were there: steady, skilled, compassionate. Our roads remain risky — from potholes to ongoing construction, to the tragic accidents, which far too often is caused by reckless driving. As we enter the festive season, I urge every resident: buckle up, never drink and drive, slow down, be alert, and don't overtake if it is not absolutely safe to do so — for your sake, and for the people who love you.

Appreciation for leadership and upliftment

To mayor of Rustenburg, Cllr. Sheila Mabale-Huma, thank you for your ongoing efforts to uplift our municipality. Your cleanup campaigns and commitment to service do not go unnoticed. To André van Dyk, Cllr Tanya Rothman, and the EPWP teams of Our Ward Matters (OWM) — thank you for your relentless, hands-on service. From clearing thick veld to delivering donations, you prove that real change happens through consistent, heartfelt action. Even rain couldn't stop the work you do for Wards 16 and 17.

A special thank-you to NGOs, NPOs, old-age homes and churches

Behind every strong community stands an army

PLATINUM WEEKLY

Letter from the Editor - Myrtle van Zy

of quiet heroes. To every NGO and NPO, thank you for stepping in where the need is greatest — feeding, uplifting, comforting, and carrying burdens others may never see. To our old-age homes, thank you for caring for our elders with dignity, patience, and love.

To every church and faith-based organisation, thank you for being pillars of hope — offering prayer, outreach, counselling, youth guidance, and humanitarian support. You bring light into places that would otherwise remain dark.

With thanks to our local industries and SMMEs

To our local industries and every hardworking SMME, thank you for pushing through even in difficult times, keeping hope alive. You are the engine of our local growth. Your resilience keeps Rustenburg moving forward.

Rustenburg — beautiful, powerful, worth protecting

Despite the challenges we face, Rustenburg remains one of the most beautiful cities in the world. Our mountains, our Kloof, our summer rain, the deep green that follows — all of it reminds us that we are privileged to call this place home. Let us protect it.

Let us protect each other.

Let us choose hope over fear, unity over division, and action over silence.

Faith at the centre

As a Christian publication, it is our joy and privilege to say: Thank You, Heavenly Father, for watching over our staff, our readers, our town, and our publication throughout this year. We place Rustenburg — and everyone in it — in Your hands.

Our final editions of 2025

This issue, dated 3 December, is our second-last publication of the year. Our final issue for 2025 will be printed on Wednesday, 10 December. We will then take a well-deserved break and return refreshed. Our first print date for 2026 is Wednesday, 14 January 2026. During the holiday period, please keep an eye on our Facebook page for important updates.

From all of us at Platinum Weekly, we wish you a blessed Christmas. Thank you, Rustenburg, for your courage, your compassion, and for being worth fighting for.

WHERE HOPE GETS ITS HANDS DIRTY

Our Ward Matters cleans, cares and connects Rustenburg

Platinum Weekly Newspaper | Rustenburg – From clearing thick veld to delivering donations, Our Ward Matters (OWM) once again proved that real change happens through consistent, hands-on service. Led by André van Dyk with Cllr Tanya Rothman and the EPWP team, OWM spent the week uplifting Wards 16 and 17, despite rain slowing progress but never stopping it.

26 November — open space and Helen Joseph

OWM cleared grass and rubbish at the taxi "open space" and around TOTAL Tuscany, thanks to residents' donations and the garage's sponsored petrol. The team then completed a full clean-up down Helen Joseph Drive.

27 November — Kremetart to Santolina

OWM cleaned both sides of Kremetart, removed illegal dumping, and addressed complaints near Geelhout Gardens. The team collected rubbish through Manuka, Cycad, and Santolina, filling the RLM skip. Partnership with the RLM Waste Department continues to strengthen weekly clean-ups.

29 November — Giving to Hospice Rustenburg

OWM donated a bed and household items to Hospice Rustenburg, made possible by generous residents supporting Our Ward Cares.

1 December — Cycad, Lilac and Manuka The team debushed around Cycad and San

The team debushed around Cycad and Santolina, cut grass behind homes, and collected enough rubbish to fill the RLM skip. They continued clearing around the Lilac Substation and cleaned down to Manuka Substation. A resident's surprise food and drinks lifted spirits on a long workday.

2 December — Pendoring Spruitjie and Cantua Place

OWM cut long overgrown grass, cleared reeds for visibility, and removed rubbish at Pendoring Spruitjie, later moving to Cantua Place to begin a long-term safety project. Illegal dumping remains a challenge, and residents are urged to help keep the area clean.

HAVE YOUR SAY

Do you think it's acceptable for children to smoke a vape?

Vaping among schoolchildren is rising sharply, with studies showing that nearly one in three Grade 12 learners now vape. While marketed as "safer than cigarettes," vapes still contain addictive nicotine and harmful chemicals. We'd love to hear your view — should vaping ever be considered acceptable for children?

"No, it is not acceptable. It should be strictly prohibited for anyone under 18."

Wendy Kinnear,
 Rustenburg

"I don't believe it's acceptable for children to vape. Their bodies and brains are still developing, and vaping can harm their health. It can also lead to addiction and other risky habits. Children should be protected and encouraged to make safe, healthy choices."

— Nthabiseng Radebe, Rustenburg

Did you know?

Ancient cultures created holidays to mark seasons, honour gods, and unite communities. Romans had feriae, days reserved for rest, and Egyptians celebrated the harvest.

In the Bible, God commands people to work six days and rest on the seventh — the Sabbath — helping establish a divine rhythm of labour and pause. Religious traditions later shaped many global holidays, and by 1880 the U.S. formalised its first federal holiday. Today, holidays blend ancient rituals, cultural identity, and society's shared need for rest.

Mothusi and Lerato conquer the RAC Tough One!

Platinum Weekly newspaper | Rustenburg – On Sunday, 23 November 2025, the annual RAC Tough One — the gruelling 32 km road-race organised by Rand Athletic Club — challenged runners from across South Africa to test their limits.

It was with great pride that the Run/Walk For Life club (#RWFLRustenburg) celebrated the achievement of Mothusi Maomelo and Lerato Mototo — they successfully completed the full 32 km course on what was a fabulous display of stamina, spirit and determination.

Rugga nuus

Wallis vs SA

Die Bokke verniel die Rooi Drake in die laaste toets van 2025 en wen die game verspotmaklik met 73-0, wat elf drieë insluit. Die nuwe Bok sensasie, Sacha Feinberg-Mngomezulu was weer skitterend en teken agt-en-twintig punte wat twee puik drieë insluit. Die mannetjie het 'n blink toekoms en is verseker die fonds van die seisoen.

Die rooikaart wat aan Eben Etzebeth in die 78ste minuut toegeken is was 'n demper op die dag se goeie spel deur die Bokke. Wallis sal beslis iets drasties moet doen, want dit was die swakste rugby wat in 2025 opgedis is. Die Walliesers is 'n trotse rugby nasie met ruggas as hulle nommer een sport. Selfs Rassie sal beslis twee keer dink as Wallis hom 'n pos aanbied ou grote!
