Lighthouse needs us

Platinum Weekly newspaper | Rustenburg's own Lighthouse Children's Home has received a much-needed boost after being featured on Jacaranda FM's Good Morning Angels on Monday 18 May 2026 — but the need for support is far from over.

Founded by Elsa Doubell in December 2019 as a safe haven for 11 children, Lighthouse Children's Home has grown into a place of safety, healing and hope for 76 children — including 12 babies — between the ages of three months and 18 years. All children at the home are placed there by Social Services or the police.

The home was recently featured on Jacaranda FM's Good Morning Angels programme, where listeners across the country heard about the growing challenges the organisation faces — especially the rising costs of electricity and diesel needed to keep the lights on during power outages.

Elsa explained that many of the children are frightened of the dark. "We don't use the generator during the day. Our greatest need is at night, when it is cold ... many of our children are afraid of the dark too because of what happened to them before they arrived here," she shared. Running the generator costs approximately R1,800 per night — an expense the home simply cannot sustain on its own. In response, Jacaranda FM's Good Morning Angels, together with generous listeners and sponsors, stepped in to help.

Waterfall Mall and tenant Cherry sponsored a R5,000 shopping voucher for the children, while the Good Morning Angels Fund added another R10,000 for shopping support. In addition, Lighthouse received R25,000 towards electricity and diesel costs. The total contribution amounted to R40,000 as part of Jacaranda FM's Feel Good 40th birthday celebration.

While the donation brought hope and relief, Lighthouse Children's Home still urgently needs community support — especially warm winter clothing, blankets, nappies, food supplies, prepaid electricity and diesel donations.

"The younger children can wear hand-me-downs that are still in good condition, but we do not have a Plan B for our older children," Elsa added.

Community members who would like to assist can contact Lighthouse Children's Home directly at:

In a world that can sometimes feel cold and uncertain, Lighthouse continues to live up to its name — offering warmth, safety and love to children who need it most.

Months on the run... FINALLY ARRESTED

Platinum Weekly newspaper | Rustenburg – Marikana detectives have arrested a 34-year-old man allegedly linked to a series of violent delivery truck robberies and a residential burglary after months of intensive investigations and tracing operations.

Phethe Hubela was wanted in connection with several delivery truck robberies committed between January and February 2026, as well as a residential burglary in Marikana West. Warrant officer Ofentse Mokgadi reported that detectives identified the suspect during investigations and repeatedly attempted to trace him at his residence in Marikana West. However, Hubela allegedly avoided arrest by hiding and staying away from home.

Police further recovered some of the property stolen during the residential burglary at the suspect's residence. Investigating officer, detective sergeant Cebo Mnyakama, continued pursuing the suspect until he was successfully arrested on Monday, 11 May 2026.

An identity parade was later conducted, positively linking Hubela to the robbery cases. He now faces multiple charges relating to armed robbery and residential burglary. Hubela appeared before the Rustenburg Magistrate's Court and was remanded in custody until 20 May 2026 for further investigation. Police also revealed that the suspect had previously appeared in court for several serious offences, including alleged business robberies committed while out on bail.

The Acting Bojanala Platinum Sub-District 2 commissioner, brigadier Mamotsamai Ntoagae, praised detective sergeant Mnyakama and the investigating team for their persistence and dedication in ensuring the suspect's arrest.

R240K TOWER BATTERIES RECOVERED

Platinum Weekly newspaper | Marikana – Two suspects have been arrested after police recovered suspected stolen tower batteries worth approximately R240 000 during an intelligence-driven operation in Marikana.

Members attached to Marikana Visible Policing, working together with Safeguard Intelligence, acted on information about suspects allegedly in possession of stolen property in the Maditlhokwa informal settlement on Wednesday, 6 May 2026. Police spokesperson, warrant officer Ofentse Mokgadi, confirmed that officers searched a house in the area where they recovered six tower batteries, including Vodacom, ZTE and Acetech batteries believed to be linked to essential infrastructure theft.

Two suspects, aged 59 and 20, were arrested. They now face charges relating to tampering with essential infrastructure and possession of suspected stolen property, while one of the suspects was also charged for contravention of immigration laws. Investigations continue.

Recovered tower batteries allegedly linked to essential infrastructure theft were seized by police during an intelligence-driven operation in Marikana.

Parties, alcohol and predators... WHAT REALLY HAPPENS

Mike Bolhuis
Specialist Investigators into Serious Violent, Serious Economic Crimes & Serious Cybercrimes [press release extracts]

In South Africa, social gatherings among teenagers and young adults – especially parties, matric farewell after-parties, club events, and informal house gatherings – have become environments where risk is frequently underestimated and behavioural boundaries are often blurred by alcohol consumption. While parties are commonly associated with celebration and freedom, they are also statistically and operationally recognised as high-risk environments for opportunistic crime, sexual exploitation, assault, and substance facilitated manipulation.

HOW PREDATORS IDENTIFY THE ENVIRONMENT

Predatory behaviour in social environments is rarely random. It is situationally opportunistic and behaviourally calculated. Predators actively identify:

- Individuals who are visibly intoxicated.
- Teenagers or young adults separated from friends.
- People leaving drinks unattended.
- Guests who appear emotionally vulnerable or socially isolated.
- Poorly supervised venues or private house parties without control measures.
- The key operational reality is this: Predators do not "hunt people" – they observe environments.
- Once an environment presents reduced resistance, it becomes a target-rich setting.
- Alcohol is the most consistent factor in incident escalation at social events. From a behavioural and forensic standpoint, alcohol reduces situational awareness, impairs decision-making and judgement, slows reaction time, increases susceptibility to persuasion or manipulation, causes memory gaps, and complicating later reporting or investigation.

ISOLATION TACTICS

Targets are deliberately separated from friends under pretences such as:

- "Come outside quickly".
- "Let's talk privately".
- "Your friend is looking for you".

FALSE TRUST BUILDING:

Predators often appear:

- Friendly.
- Well-dressed.
- Known within the group (or pretending to be).

OPPORTUNISTIC ASSAULT

Once impairment or isolation is achieved, escalation occurs rapidly.

WHY VICTIMS OFTEN DO NOT REACT IMMEDIATELY

A critical investigative reality is that many victims:

- Do not immediately realise what occurred, or experience fragmented memory due to intoxication.
- Feel confusion, embarrassment, or self-blame.
- Delay reporting due to uncertainty or fear.
- This delay is frequently exploited – intentionally or unintentionally – by offenders and can weaken evidential timelines.

ENVIRONMENTS DO NOT CREATE CRIME – OPPORTUNITY DOES

Parties, alcohol, and social freedom are not inherently dangerous. The risk emerges when behavioural awareness decreases and environmental control disappears. Predatory behaviour thrives in precisely these conditions... where attention is fragmented and judgement is impaired.

RAPIST SENTENCED TO 18 YEARS BEHIND BARS

Platinum Weekly newspaper | Rustenburg
– A 32-year-old man has been sentenced to 18 years direct imprisonment after being found guilty of raping a 15-year-old girl in Sunrise Park. Tumelo Godfrey Lesejane was sentenced by the Bafokeng Regional Court in Tlhabane on Monday, 11 May 2026. The court further declared him unfit to possess a firearm, while his details will also be added to both the National Register for Sex Offenders and the Child Protection Register. Warrant officer Ofentse Mokgadi reported that the incident took place after a social gathering attended by the victim, her sister and the accused. The victim was later taken to the suspect's residence, where the offence was committed. The matter was investigated by detective constable Dikeke Mokebe of the Rustenburg Family Violence, Child Protection and Sexual Offences Unit. The investigation led to the arrest of the suspect on 11 March 2024 and ultimately to his successful prosecution. Acting Bojanala Platinum Sub-District 2 commissioner, brigadier Mamotsamai Ntoagae, praised detective constable Mokebe and all role players involved for their dedication to ensuring justice for the 15-year-old girl.

Detective constable Dikeke Mokebe of the Rustenburg Family Violence, Child Protection and Sexual Offences Unit, played a key role in the investigation that led to the successful conviction and sentencing of a rape accused in the Bafokeng.

His Majesty Kgosi Leruo Molotlegi and Her Majesty Te Arikinui Ku'ini Nga wai hono i te po VIII shared a moment during the symbolic blanket presentation ceremony at the 9th First Nations Canada Major Projects Coalition Conference in Toronto, Canada.

Platinum Weekly newspaper | Rustenburg – The Royal Bafokeng Nation recently joined indigenous leaders from around the world at the prestigious 9th First Nations Canada Major Projects Coalition Conference in Toronto, Canada, where discussions focused on culture, sustainability and the future of indigenous communities worldwide. Among the distinguished leaders in attendance was His Majesty Kgosi Leruo Molotlegi of the Royal Bafokeng Nation, who delivered an address as part of the official programme. OWM KEEPS TRANSFORMING RUSTENBURG'S STREETS

Platinum Weekly newspaper | Rustenburg – From overgrown sidewalks and illegal dumping hotspots to hidden bus stops and dangerous hiding places, Our Ward Matters (OWM) continues making a visible impact across Wards 15, 16 and 17 through ongoing clean-up operations and community upliftment projects. Led by founder and director André van Dyk, together with Ward 17 councillor Tanya Rothman and supported by dedicated volunteers and residents, the initiative focuses on improving safety, cleanliness, visibility and pride within local neighbourhoods.

13 May | Opening hidden spaces and restoring visibility
 On Wednesday, 13 May 2026, OWM members focused on collecting rubbish and clearing overgrown areas in and around Laerskool Proteapark, Soetdoring Avenue, Mispel, Bergbos, Helen Joseph, the BP Garage area and several busy intersections. While working in Helen Joseph, the team discovered evidence of squatters living deep in the bushes behind homes, with personal belongings and hidden items stored in overgrown vegetation. The team responded by cutting back thick grass and bushes to improve visibility and safety in the area.

OWM also thanked the Rustenburg Local Municipality Waste Department truck team for assisting with the collection of refuse bags during the clean-up.

14 May | “You could hardly see it was a bus stop”
 On Thursday, 14 May, the team continued work along Helen Joseph and Arend Road towards Kiepersol Avenue. Areas that had become heavily overgrown with bushes, dumping and sand were completely cleared and restored.

One of the biggest transformations was an old bus stop and pedestrian drop-off area that had virtually disappeared beneath vegetation and neglect. OWM members used brushcutters, pangas and spades to clear the area, remove dumping and restore the sidewalk for safe pedestrian use again. The road island at the corner of Helen Joseph and Kiepersol Avenue was also fully cleaned and restored.

Giving back to the people who give back
 After completing the 14 May clean-up, OWM's charity division, Our Ward Cares, surprised team members with large bags of donated clothing for themselves and their families. The clothing donations were coordinated by OWM director Ilse du Preez, while councillor Tanya Rothman also donated jackets to help keep team members warm during winter. OWM appealed to the public for additional donations of warm clothing to assist families in need during the colder months ahead.

A heartfelt thank you to Marilyn Nel for spoiling the OWM team with food and cold drinks during their community clean-up efforts.

Boschdal Clivia Nursery and Guest House donated a brushcutter, trimmer line and petrol to support OWM's ongoing clean-up operations across Rustenburg's communities. Much appreciated!

OWM team members loaded collected refuse bags onto a Rustenburg Local Municipality truck during the 13 May clean-up operation.

18 May | Cleaner roads, safer communities
 On Monday, 18 May, the clean-up operations continued from Kiepersol Avenue up Helen Joseph Road, including areas near Bergbos Animal Clinic and the Proteapark sign. Team members cut grass, removed overgrown vegetation and collected rubbish throughout the area.

19 May | Tackling litter across Ward 17
 On Tuesday, 19 May, OWM expanded its litter collection campaign across several areas including Nylrivier, Helen Joseph, Nylapies, Krokodilrivier, Waterberg, Builders, Econo Foods, BP Waterfall Mall and Selly Park and Azalea Park. The initiative highlighted how littering contributes to pollution, blocked stormwater drains, illegal dumping and increased vandalism in communities.

TEACH A MAN TO FISH... then bill him for the water?

Platinum Publishers | SA – Social media has recently been flooded with alarming posts claiming that South Africans may soon have to pay government every time they want to fish, go boating or even enjoy a ferry cruise at local dams and rivers.

Some posts go as far as saying that public access to dams could be heavily restricted, with only certain government-approved entry points allowed in future. Unsurprisingly, the claims have sparked outrage, confusion and concern among community members across the country. So, we dug a little deeper. Here's what we found.

The concern stems from draft regulations published by South Africa's Department of Water and Sanitation (DWS) on 27 March 2026. The proposed regulations deal with the management and control of government waterworks, including certain state-owned dams and surrounding areas. Members of the public were invited to comment or object to the proposals before the public participation deadline of 13 April 2026.

Critics of the draft regulations argue that the proposed rules could lead to stricter controls over activities such as fishing, boating, jet skiing, ferry operations and recreational access to some dams. There are also concerns that permits, leases, fees or formal agreements could eventually be required for certain activities or businesses operating around these areas. The proposals have already received backlash from boating clubs, fishing communities, tourism operators, political parties and property owners, many of whom fear the regulations could negatively impact recreation, tourism and public freedom around South Africa's waterways.

However, it is important to note that the viral social media claims appear to exaggerate parts of the story. The draft regulations do not explicitly state that "all fishing and boating will be banned" or that ordinary South Africans will suddenly lose all access to dams and rivers. At this stage, the regulations are still proposals and not final law. Government has said the intention behind the draft regulations is linked to safety, environmental protection, biodiversity management and the formal regulation of activities taking place at state-owned water infrastructure. However, many members of the fishing and boating community believe the proposals are simply another way for government to generate more income, arguing that ordinary South Africans are constantly being faced with new fees, rules and regulations that ultimately place additional financial pressure on citizens.

Still, for many South Africans, the debate has struck a nerve. In a country already battling rising living costs, fuel price increases and growing frustration over public services, the idea of additional restrictions or payments tied to outdoor recreation has left many people deeply uneasy. Whether the final regulations will change significantly remains to be seen.

Improving livestock farming for the benefit of communities

In March 2026, 90 smallholder livestock farmers graduated after completing a Livestock Farmer Skills Livestock Development programme at the University of Pretoria's Faculty of Veterinary Science.

The initiative saw participants complete three modules covering early disease identification, treatment and prevention, production and seasonal planning, and livestock marketing and sales. The livestock farmers were selected from areas around Sibanye-Stillwater's operations, including 30 from the Lepelle-Nkumpi Local Municipality, 30 from the Rustenburg Local Municipality and 30 from the Madibeng Local Municipality.

By completing the programme, the farmers have gained high-level knowledge and skills to boost livestock productivity, improve animal health and increase the long-term profitability of their farms.

During the graduation ceremony, the Land Bank provided information on various finance options available to help farmers purchase land and improve production. Sibanye-Stillwater believes that the agricultural sector is important in empowering communities, providing long-term employment and promoting the growth of sustainable alternative economies.

Twenty traditional leaders from Limpopo and the North West province recently graduated after completing a Finance for Non-Financial Managers programme organised by Sibanye-Stillwater in partnership with the University of the Witwatersrand's Business School.

As part of the programme, these leaders received training in corporate governance, including aspects of financial management and financial statement interpretation. The ceremony also saw the participation of the Land Bank, which encouraged graduates to use available government services to fully use their land.

Speaking at the event, Thabisile Phumo, Executive Vice President: Stakeholder Relations at Sibanye-Stillwater, praised the commitment of the graduates, and encouraged the traditional leaders to use what they have learned to help their communities develop their economies and their entrepreneurial ventures.

Improving local livestock farmers

Go tokafatsa balemirui ba diruiwa ba selegae

Sibanye-Stillwater supports local livestock farming to promote local economic development and job creation. This has seen us partner with experts, businesses and government to construct and maintain smallholder farmers and improve the quality and quantity of produce. Foot and Mouth Disease (FMD) poses a threat to the sector, and Sibanye-Stillwater has actively been involved in efforts to promote animal vaccinations and ensure the adoption of best practices by local farmers.

As part of this, officials, led by Sibanye-Stillwater Executive Vice President, Stakeholder Relations, Thabisile Phumo, recently met with the North West Province's MEC for Agriculture and Rural Development, Madoda Sambatha to explore opportunities for collaboration. The meeting focused on helping communities vaccinate their livestock and keep animals healthy.

Matric learners receiving study guides donated by Sibanye-Stillwater together with Engen and Royal Bafokeng Institute

Sibanye-Stillwater, in collaboration with Engen and the Royal Bafokeng Institute (RBI), recently donated Mathematics, Physical Science, Accounting, Life Science and Maths Literacy guides to grade 12 learners at Tshukudu High School in Photsaneng, Rustenburg, to support learners with preparation for their final exams.

The donation forms part of our ongoing efforts to improve learner performance and build educational capacity at schools in host communities. Tshukudu High School previously received tablets and smartboards donated by Sibanye-Stillwater and is part of our ongoing maths and physical science support programme which is implemented at 34 schools around our operations.

Beyond these initiatives, Sibanye-Stillwater continues to invest in quality education within communities through the construction of classrooms, refurbishment of laboratories, learner support programmes, university bursaries and graduate internship opportunities amongst others.

As part of our effort to improve community access to quality education and opportunities, Sibanye-Stillwater has provided 1,669 bursaries across our South African operations since 2016. Our Top Achievers Programme, run between 2019 and 2025 formed part of this, providing bursaries to top performing matriculants. It supported 72 learners, 40 across our PGM operations of which 22 were female.

Currently 26 of these learners are in the fields of accounting and finance (eight), mechanical engineering (nine), actuarial science (two) and even psychology (two) and social work (one). Nine learners covered by the programme have since graduated, with seven of these being absorbed into our internship programme. These included two who are completing accounting degrees, two chemical engineering and one each in the fields of mining engineering, metallurgy and metals, and geology. The internship programme ensures that we empower the youth and also remain a modern mining company which is able to retain talent and incorporate new technologies and understandings to improve safety and efficiency.

Improving maths and science education

Go tokafatsa thuto ya dipalo le saense

Since 2021, Sibanye-Stillwater has implemented a maths and physical science programme at 34 secondary schools in host communities. The programme includes remedial afterschool classes for grades 10 to 12, Saturday revision classes for Grade 12s, quarterly training for educators and is aligned to the national curriculum. It supports the Department of Basic Education to achieve a higher pass rate in maths and physical science and encourages learners to choose maths and physical science to improve their future career opportunities.

In 2025, schools benefiting from this programme outperformed the North West province results by 3.6 percentage points in maths and 4.6 percentage points in physical science. The best performing schools were Machadam Combined School in Mooinooi, which received a 100% pass rate for maths and physical science in 2025, and Thaba Morula Secondary School in Segwaelane, which achieved an 85.7% pass rate in mathematics and 96.3% in physical science. Learners in these schools received 16 distinctions for mathematics and 8 for physical science in 2025.

Sibanye-Stillwater supported teaching and training programmes in combination with other complementary efforts to construct schools, renovate maths and science labs and build school playgrounds and sports facilities, to enhance access to quality education.

Improving community safety

Go tokafatsa pabalesego ya baagi

Since the start of the year, the Bojanala Wellness and Safety Centre (BWSC), which was established in partnership with local communities and supported by Sibanye-Stillwater, has run programmes to help keep communities safe. The centre conducted six fire safety awareness campaigns across schools and early learning centres, including at Rethusitswe Pre-School, Jehovah's Angels Pre-school, Nkukime Primary School, Bapo Primary School, Good Hope Early Learning Centre and Maruatona Primary School.

These campaigns reached 470 learners, educating them on the dangers of fires and involving them in efforts to improve fire detection and safety in the community. These engagements also identified critical safety gaps, including lack of fire safety equipment, unsafe infrastructure, limited emergency preparedness, and the need for further interventions such as fire drills and first aid training.

In addition, the Bojanala Wellness and Safety Centre has continued to strengthen relationships with community policing forums and the South African Police Service in local communities to improve community safety and coordination.

BWSC has, since its establishment in 2024, been supporting the communities in the 16 wards of the Bojanala District Municipality to reduce crime, combat gender-based violence (GBV), and access safety and emergency training. The initiative is community centred and seeks to also insure that interventions on community safety and wellbeing are integrated with tackling other critical community challenges.

Lonplats Marikana Community Development Trust uplifts communities

The Lonplats Marikana Community Development Trust was established in 2014 as part of a community ownership and empowerment structure to the deep socio-economic needs of the communities surrounding the Marikana operations. Funded by dividends received from its 0.9% shareholding in the Marikana operations, it supports projects tackling hunger, elevating education, unlocking youth potential, and strengthening social cohesion.

Since 2019 the trust has spent over R53 million in support of the community. It provided bursaries to 166 individuals, dignity packs to 4,500, food parcels benefiting over 22,490 and supported a driving school programme which trained 80 community members. It also funded the purchasing of six mobile clinics which operate across all eleven regional wards.

Transforming communities through development

Established in 2016 and officially launched in 2023, the Sibanye Rustenburg Mine Community Development Trust (SRMCDT) seeks to drive transformation in the Rustenburg and Madibeng local municipalities. The Trust ensures that mining brings real change to local communities and gives people the tools they need to build a better future.

Initiatives and impacts

Between 2024 and 2025, the Trust invested over R29.8 million for community projects alone.

Previous projects include:

- Investments of R712,208 to improve early detection and survival rates of childhood cancer and train over 1,100 in early detection of cancer in partnership with the Childhood Cancer Foundation
- Donated five response vehicles and ambulances to the North West Department of Health valued at R5 million
- R1.5 million invested to train and employ 25 youth in smart farming, food security projects, and business development skills in partnership with Youth Health Africa (YHA)
- Career development programme implemented reaching over 770 learners
- R9.97 million invested in youth work experience scheme and R2.5 million invested in agriculture living laboratory
- 8,490 people reached through an HIV prevention and skills development programme
- 27 GBVF container pods to be delivered in Rustenburg churches - 18 currently delivered valued at R2.1 million
- 43 farmers supported across emerging and commercial farms and 48 families provided with psychosocial support through the Building Disability

- Inclusion programme
- R5 million invested in the construction of multipurpose sports and ablution facilities
- Investments of over R3.5 million to upgrade school sanitation and water access in partnership with Gift of the Givers and a further R3.9 million for the eradication of pit toilets

By strategically investing in these critical areas, and integrating sustainability into all its initiatives, the Trust is building a foundation for self-sufficient communities that can thrive beyond mining.

Building a thriving Bapo community

The Bapo Ba Mogale Local Economic Development Trust was established to drive economic participation and community development of the Bapo Ba Mogale community, which resides in the North West province. The Trust was established in 1998 by Lonmin, which was acquired by Sibanye-Stillwater in 2019. It receives funding from a 0.9% stake in the Sibanye-Stillwater EPL and WPL operations. It focuses on education, enterprise development, infrastructure, and social welfare amongst others.

Initiatives and impacts:

The Trust has supported over R130 million in community investments, in partnership with businesses, especially Sibanye-Stillwater.

As part of this, the Trust:

- provides annual food vouchers for the elderly and disabled
- invested over R500,000 in funding to 30 small businesses to foster entrepreneurship and job creation - 15 are now Sibanye-Stillwater vendors as a result of the success of the initiative
- provided training to teachers and financial support to nine early childhood centres in the North West in partnership with Sibanye-Stillwater
- donated wheelchairs and assistive devices
- awarded bursaries to over 25 learners, including seven matric top achievers
- partnered with Sibanye-Stillwater to launch the Ditlou Bee Farming project in Bapong, North West, which has produced over 250kg of honey to date. Visit www.beeafrican.africa to view their products and make your purchase
- together with Sibanye-Stillwater, Agriculture Research Centre (ARC) and the Department of Agriculture and Rural Development, implemented a livestock programme, which assists participating local farmers

- with stock management and training. Cattle camps, crush pans, and scales for farmers were also constructed
- is currently involved in the construction of six grade R classes budgeted at R40 million

The work of the Trust ensures that the financial gains from mining activity translate into tangible socio-economic improvements for the community.

Netball team flies high

Two talented netball players from the Sibanye-Stillwater Marikana Netball Team, Miranda Busakwe and Angake Gcelu were recently selected to participate in the North West Province District trials. Both athletes showcased exceptional skill and determination during the selection process, earning them a place in the provincial trials held in Potchefstroom.

Angake was also selected to join the North West Flames, after progressing through several competitive rounds against the province's top athletes and showing impressive skill and teamwork. The team competes in the high-performance Telkom Netball League (TNL), which is recognised as one of South Africa's leading semi-professional netball competitions.

Supporting road safety efforts in Rustenburg

Representatives from the Department of Home Affairs, Rustenburg Local Municipality, emergency and transport services and other mining houses at the N4/R24 Waterval interchange road safety campaign

Sibanye-Stillwater recently participated in road and rail safety campaigns organised at the busy N4/R24 Waterval interchange and K6 Railway Level Crossing in Rustenburg. These campaigns brought together multiple stakeholders including Glencore, Transnet, the Rail Safety Regulator, the Department of Home Affairs, the Road Accident Fund, Impala Platinum, the South African Police Service and the Rustenburg Local Traffic Department. This collaborative initiative allowed stakeholders to directly engage with motorists and pedestrians to raise awareness around responsible driving and compliance with road and rail safety regulations. The N4/R24 Waterval interchange engagement was also attended by the Executive Mayor of Rustenburg, Councilor Shiela Mabale-Huma, who joined the partners in reinforcing critical road safety awareness messages.

The initiative forms part of the company's ongoing commitment to promoting road and rail safety and supports efforts to reduce accidents along South Africa's key national routes.

PROVERBS 4: 10-13

10 Hear, my son, and receive my sayings, And the years of your life will be many.
 11 I have taught you in the way of wisdom; I have led you in right paths.

12 When you walk, your steps will not be hindered, And when you run, you will not stumble.
 13 Take firm hold of instruction, do not let go; Keep her, for she is your life.

NEW KING JAMES VERSION (NKJV)

HAVE YOUR SAY

Do you believe in global warming?

Global warming refers to the gradual increase in Earth's average temperature, often linked to greenhouse gases and climate change. Some people believe the science is clear, while others feel the issue is exaggerated or politically influenced. What do you think?

"Absolutely. We are seeing hotter temperatures, stronger storms, droughts and floods more often. Nature itself is showing us that the climate is changing."
Chantel Roux Mulder, Rustenburg

"Yes. Every year feels hotter than the last. The weather has become more unpredictable, and it's difficult to ignore the changes happening around us."
Dineo Pearl Moatshe, Rustenburg

POLL

Should government rather use money earmarked for town and city name changes to help lower petrol and diesel prices for South Africans?

With fuel prices continuing to put extreme pressure on households, businesses and daily travel costs, many South Africans are questioning government spending priorities. Some believe the millions spent on changing town and city names could rather be used to help reduce petrol and diesel prices and ease the financial burden on citizens. What do YOU think?

Here's how you can participate. Email us at news@platinumweekly.co.za or WhatsApp your response to 081 579 7000.

Include the following:

- Your answer: Yes or No
- Why? We want to hear from you!
- A recent photo – We'd love to publish your pic alongside your answer!
- Your town/city
- Deadline – Be sure to send your response before 12:00 on Monday, 25 May 2026.

Vote results: The outcome of the poll will be featured in our next issue. Be a part of our community's story! P.S.: Don't forget, you can also voice your opinion on our Facebook post about this topic. Join the conversation!

Did you know?

On 28 January 2026, reports confirmed that East London could officially become "KuGompo City" after approval by minister of Sport, Arts and Culture Gayton McKenzie. The proposed changes were later officially published in the Government Gazette on 6 February 2026. Critics argue that place-name changes can cost taxpayers millions through new road signs, municipal branding, maps, and official documents. Previous renaming projects in South Africa have reportedly cost tens of millions of rand over time — while many South Africans continue battling soaring fuel and living costs.

Petrol has increased by roughly 33% since the start of 2026. Diesel has increased by roughly 60% to 70% in some categories since early 2026... and South Africans are only five months into 2026.
